K of C Presents Flag to School

Attorney John McManus, (right) advocate of Kingston Council, 275, makes presentation for Knights of Columbus of American Flag to Washington School. Principal Ambrose Boyd receives it.

Swinton Sentenced To Clinton Prison

Assaulted Proprietor of Mill Stream Motel at Woodstock

Norman Stacy Swinton, 27, New York, was sentenced to an indeterminate term of ffom 7½ to 15 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora on each of the two charges to which he entered a plea of guilty. The two sentences will run concurrently.

Swinton was charged with having assaulted John Thompson, 59, proprietor of the Mill Stream Motel at Woodstock on April 14, 1951, and then after leaving his victim in a serious condition, robbed him of some $200 and skipped out. Swinton was picked up in Brooklyn last August and returned to Ulster county to face charges of burglary, second degree; grand larceny, first degree; robbery, first degree; and assault, second degree, for the hatchet attack on Thompson.

He entered a plea of guilty to burglary, second degree, and robbery, second degree, in County court on Monday and sentence was pronounced this morning by County Judge John M. Cashin.

Two Prior Convictions

Swinton has two prior misdemeanor convictions but the present charge was the first felony, Charles Saccoman, his counsel, pointed out to the court. Saccoman also told the court Swinton had served in the armed forces during the war and at the time he committed the crime in Wood-

No Progress

Five Meetings Produce No Solution on Ending War in Korea

Munsan, Korea, April 10 (AP)—For the fifth straight day truce negotiators made no move toward ending the fighting in Korea.

They met and adjourned. That was all. Today's session lasted six minutes. That brought the grand total for five meetings this week to 30 minutes and 30 seconds.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang said Thursday the Communists had no objection to moving truce supervision negotiations back from the sub-delegation level to the staff officer level if the allies want to do it. Wednesday Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison said the allies have no objection to such a move if the Reds want to do it.

But neither side said it wanted to do that—or anything else. Each side appeared to be waiting for the other to take the initiative.

Presents American Flag on Behalf of Knights of Columbus Council

Pupils of the George Washington school were admonished Wednesday by the advocate of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, to seek knowledge of American government, history and ideals as the surest way to combat cynicism. The occasion was the presentation of an American flag to the new school on behalf of the council.

Describing cynicism as a "sickness which patriotism suffers today," John H. McManus told the youngsters that the disease had reached "epidemic proportions" and could kill patriotism unless it is overcome.

"Cynicism," he said, "consists of a disrespect for public officials and the offices they fill. It is a negative attitude toward Congressmen, legislators and officials of all ranks, an attitude that tolerates corruption."

Cynic Not Shocked

He said that the cynic was not shocked by "disclosures of bribery of policemen or tax collectors" but that the patriot, the "boy, girl, man or woman who loves his country, his state and his city, will not be content to see them fall into the hands of thieves. He will expect and demand high standards of conduct in public office, and he will respect the persons who hold office and assume that they are worthy of respect unless and until he has good reason to believe otherwise. Once corruption is discovered," he stated, "the guilty party should be deposed, prosecuted and replaced by a person worthy of trust."

He told the pupils of the new school, opened only last September, that he was convinced "the great majority" of public officials were "hones men and women" and urged the young people to seek knowledge of their country and its institutions and a growing interest in civic affairs—"for our government is what the citizens make it."

K of C Appropriate Donor

McManus said that it was fitting the K of C should present the flag because the Knights of Columbus, "named after the discoverer of our fair land, have made patriotism one of the objectives of the Order. And this flag's very purpose is to awaken in all who see it and realize its significance—who realize the noble ideals and achievements which it represents—the purpose of this flag is to arouse in you a sense of patriotism."

Patriotism is here to stay, he stated, pointing out that he included in the concept a "love of our nation, state, city, community, school and family..."

McManus said that the 300th anniversary afforded an excellent opportunity for the pupils to learn

Clouds Are Blamed For Air Collision That Killed Dozen

Stewart Field Personnel, Other Area Residents Die in Crash at Cape Cod

Camp Edwards, Mass., April 10 (AP)—An unexpected cloud formation was blamed today for the collision of two air force planes travelling at better than 500 miles an hour over Cape Cod. Twelve air force men were killed.

The last of the bodies weren't recovered until several hours after the planes crashed in flaming explosion yesterday.

AC-47 out of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N. Y., carried 10 men. An F-94 Fighter carried two men. Both planes were on training flights.

Capt. Robert J. Stephenson, public relations officer at this camp's Otis Air Force Base, said one of the two pilots apparently was blinded by billowly clouds which floated over the camp.

Capt. Stephenson said the planes were at between 5,000 and 7,000 feet altitude when they collided.

Airmen Identified

The twelve air force men killed in the crash were identified by Otis Air Base officials as:

Capt. Charles J. Smoke, pilot, 35, Gwendolyn E. wife, Shenandoah, Iowa.

Radar Observer, 1st Lt. Thadeus C. Kulpinski, 32, wife, Lois E., Philadelphia, Pa.

C-47 dead:

Lt. Col. William C. Bryson, 34, Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N. Y., wife, Jeanne, son William, Jr.

Major Benjamin Beckman, 34, 282 Hudson avenue, Cornwall-on-Hudson, N. Y., wife, Clive M.

Major L. A. Berg, 36, 14 Wickham, avenue, Goshen, N. Y., wife, Janet M., 3 children.

Capt. William H. Erwin, 31, 357 Liberty street, Newburgh, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Erwin, 508 East Hill street, Herrin, Ill., son, William H., Jr.

Capt. Lane S. Hendricks, 31, Stewart AF Base, Newburgh, N. Y., wife, Elizabeth A., 3 children—Charles W., James K., Earl L.—Rt. 2, McHenry, Ill.

Capt. Richard E. Heder, 31 Rock Tavern, N. Y., wife, Patricia J., 1 daughter, Danielle M.

Capt. Clifton C. Foster, 33, 72 Circle Lane, Gardiner, N. Y., wife, Mildred O., 1 daughter, Carroll.

Tech. Sgt. Dan B. Cooper, 41, Stewart AF Base, Newburgh, N. Y.; 1 daughter, Rita G., Bowersville, Ohio.

'Close to Killer'

New York, April 10 (AP)—Investigators today were reported to be "very close to the killer" of Arnold Schuster, Brooklyn salesman whose tip led to the arrest of bank robber Willie (The Actor) Sutton. "We haven't got the killer yet, but we are very close to him," a source in the Brooklyn district attorney's office said.

Fahey Residence Is Saved by Firemen In Port Ewen Blaze

Summer Home Catches Fire From Burning Barn as Strong Wind Fans Flames Yesterday

Wind-fanned flames from a burning barn ignited the siding of a nearby home in Port Ewen Wednesday afternoon but village volunteer firemen extinguished the blaze before the interior of the house was damaged.

A shift of the gusty wind for a time threatened two or three other buildings, but the Port Ewen firemen assisted by Cornell station firemen from Kingston succeeded in extinguishing the fire before it spread further.

The barn, used only for storage, was almost a total loss, fire department officials said. It was on the property owned by James Fahey of Staten Island, located on Sackett street, parallel to and just east of Route 9W. No animals were quartered in the structure.

The fire was discovered about 2:15 p. m., and Port Ewen firemen under Assistant Chief Cleon Jump responded to find the barn already entirely involved and the flames licking the siding of the home, which is used by Fahey as a summer residence.

Kingston Called

Concentrating their attention on the house, Jump reported, firemen were able to extinguish the flames there without any damage to its interior.

With the wind endangering other buildings, a mutual aid call was made at 2:47 p. m. through Central Fire Station in Kingston, and the Cornell pumper was dispatched. Chief Edward Mains of the Port Ewen department, who is employed at the Kingston Trust Company central branch, and Chief Joseph L. Murphy of Kingston also responded.

As soon as the fire in the siding of the home was extinguished, firemen turned to the barn and the fire was declared out by 4 p. m. Port Ewen firemen were called again shortly after their return to quarters when it was feared the fire would rekindle, but it was found only a few timbers were smouldering, the assistant chief said.

100,800 People In Ulster County By 1960 Forecast

New York, April 10 (Special)—A look into the future of Ulster county, on the basis of state population forecasts made by the United States Census Bureau, indicates that there will be 97,500 people living in the county in 1955 and 100,800 in 1960.

The subject of future population comes to the fore at this time "because the demand for figures of this kind has been considerable."

While admittedly subject to considerable error, they are realistic enough, it is deemed, to serve as a guide to the business man, manufacturer and government of-

N. Jersey Primary Outlook Pleases Taft Lieutenants

Declare He Has Very Little to Lose There in His Role as Underdog

Trenton, N. J., April 10 (AP)—Some of Sen. Robert A. Taft's campaign lieutenants are well pleased, privately, with the outlook for him in next week's New Jersey primary—an election they say has been rigged against him.

The underdog's role, which they claim for the senator, is by no means an uncomfortable one.

Their reasoning is that Taft has very little to lose in this situation and—should the unexpected happen—everything to gain. Even a sizable total of popular votes in New Jersey for Taft would permit his backers to claim a "moral victory."

Taft goes to the post next Tuesday against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen in the GOP primary. The election has a preferential ballot, a "popularity contest," and it will name 38 delegates to the Republican convention.

The state organization slate, headed by Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, is listed on the ballot as unpledged.

The governor, however, announced March 17 that he favors Eisenhower.

When the news reached Taft, he called Driscoll's statement a piece of "political trickery," tried unsuccessfully to have his name taken off the ballot, and closed his headquarters in New Jersey. Officially, there has been no campaigning for him in the state. Actually, however, a good deal of work has been done.

Two supporters of Senator Taft charged in prepared radio texts yesterday that Driscoll had made a promise to Taft to remain neutral in the presidential primary poll.

Driscoll Denies Charges

The charge was made by industrialist Charles Edison, former Democratic governor, and Albert W. Hawkes, former Republican U. S. senator. Driscoll denied the charge later in a broadcast.

The Edison and Hawkes radio texts said Taft was given the promise of neutrality at a meeting with Driscoll and New Jersey GOP leaders, and that Taft therefore did not enter a slate of delegates in New Jersey.

Hawkes followed the text in his radio address in Philadelphia. But in New York last night, Edison deleted the reference to the meeting in his (WOR) address.

On the air, Edison said only this on the issue: "Given to understand that the Republican state organization would remain neutral, Senator Taft's supporters agreed not to enter a slate," in the primary.

Edison explained later:

"I deleted the paragraph from my broadcast remarks at the last moment because information reaching me late today had created certain doubts as to the paragraph's accuracy.

"Its deletion, however, in no way alters the fact that the spirit of the primary laws has been

Boss of the Steel Industry

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer looks grim as he holds the government seizure order and listens to the President's speech which named him as czar of the steel industry. At the conclusion of the speech, Sawyer signed the seizure order and told steel company heads to "fly the flag of United States" over the mills.

1,600 Homeless in Floods As Missouri River Overflows

Decomposed Body Of Man Found in River at Highland

Enough Evidence Lacking for Identification; Is Seen Floating by Railroaders

The badly decomposed body of a man was found floating in the Hudson river near the Columbia boathouse north of Highland about 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Investigation by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly and state police of the Highland station continued today, but there appeared little evidence which could lead to positive identification of the man.

The decomposed nature of the body made finger printing impossible, Coroner Kelly revealed.

Troopers said the large-built man had gray hair, bald on top, indicating he was middle aged or older.

He was wearing a brown dress shirt with white stripes, trousers that had been blue or gray, black ankle-length shoes and two piece woolen underwear troopers said.

Workman's Dress

All that was found in his pockets were a penknife and $3.20 in cash and currency.

The clothing indicated that the dead man had been a "workingman or migrant," troopers said.

Streets of Pierre Are Muddy Canals; 200 Homes Ordered Evacuated

Pierre, S. D., April 10 (AP)—Streets of this capital city of 5,700 inhabitants resembled dirty canals today as flood waters of the Missouri river surged slowly but steadily upward.

The Big Muddy spilled onto about 100 blocks of Pierre and all of Fort Pierre, a town of about 700 persons across the river. Red Cross officials estimated about 1,600 persons already were homeless.

It was Pierre's worst flood in 71 years.

A crest of 25 feet was expected some time today. The Missouri stood at 23.6 feet at 9 o'clock last night and the swirling water was climbing at a rate of .5 feet an hour. Food stage here is 15 feet.

Army engineers issued flood warnings for downstream cities along the rampaging stream. The crest was expected to hit Sioux City, Ia., Monday or Tuesday, and swirl into Omaha, Neb., April 17-18.

Orders Evacuation

Mayor Ralph Henderson of Sioux City proclaimed an emergency calling for evacuation of 200 homes, the stockyards and a packing plant on Friday. National guardsmen were mobilized for the emergency.

The weather bureau at Omaha forecast a crest two feet above the 26.6-foot levees erected to protect that city and neighboring Council Bluffs, Ia.

Water was up to three feet deep in the Pierre business section. Basement walls and foundations of two business places caved in.

Army "ducks" and coast guard boats hauled stocks from flooded stores and evacuated residents of flood swept homes. A coast guard helicopter freed isolated ranchers. Mail delivery to Fort Pierre, three miles west of here across

Rate Chances Slim to Get Funds for Tax Force

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Two key senators said today chances are slim for providing funds the Internal Revenue Bureau says it must have to enforce the new gambling tax law.

Sen. Kilgore (D.-W.Va.), chairman of the appropriations subcommittee which handles funds for the bureau, told a reporter he personally was sympathetic to the agency's request for more personnel.

But he said he doubted the $35 million cut out of the Internal Revenue Bureau's budget by the House would be restored in the Senate.

Truman Is Silent on CIO Deal

Won't Interfere

Negotiations Will Be Successful Is View of Administration

Washington, April 10 (AP)—The steel industry met with a new setback today in its court fight against government seizure of its mills.

Lawyers for four major companies — Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Jones & Laughlin—pleaded in vain in U. S. District Court for immediate hearings of their suits for an injunction.

Judge David A. Pine ruled that he could not advance the suits under court rules.

The rules allow 20 days for the defendant, in this case the government, to reply to a suit.

In other developments:

1. President Truman declined comment at a news conference on a steel executive's charge that he seized the mills in "a corrupt political deal" with the CIO.

2. However, Philip Murray, CIO president, called the statement by Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Co., "a malicious and deliberate lie * * * an insult to President Truman and me."

Truman said he wouldn't interfere with negotiations for a settlement and that he wants an agreement that will return the mills to private hands through the process of collective bargaining.

Calls Randall Prevaricator

Murray issued his statement shortly before entering today's renewed contract negotiations. He said of the steel executive's nationwide radio and TV broadcast last night:

"The complete answer to Mr. Randall's entire statement is that he is a prevaricator of the lowest type."

The industry is vigorously protesting its seizure by the government. Even while heating up its cooled furnaces for full-scale production, it prepared for a bitter court battle to overthrow, if possible, the seizure action Truman took.

The industry's first legal challenge, to get a temporary injunction against seizure, was dismissed here yesterday by Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

Holtzoff said he wasn't ruling on the legality of Truman's seizure order, but found the companies had not proved the seizure caused them "irreparable damage"

To Arraign Three

April 25th Set as Court Date in Hudson for Gambling Case

Hudson, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—The three men named in the first indictment returned by the special grand jury probing Columbia county crime will be arraigned on gambling charges April 25.

The three, seized on bench warrants after the indictment was handed up yesterday to Justice Henry L. Ughetta of State Supreme Court, are:

Nicholas Lippera, 36, of Hudson; James C. Pasinella, alias Joe Pizzi, 49, and Joseph Deeb, 49, both of Watervliet.

Pasinella and Deeb were held in jail in lieu of $2,000 bail each.

Lippera was released on $1,000 property bond.

The indictment listed five counts against each defendant. The first accused them of conspiring to gamble and to keep gaming establishments. The next three charged them with being common gamblers. The fifth alleged they kept gambling establishments.

The handle in a big-money crap game at one of the establishments averaged approximately $100,000 a night, Special Prosecutor Paul Williams said.

After handing up the indictment, the jury adjourned until Tuesday.

Phone 'Installers' Picket Office Here But Operators Take Care of All Calls

Pickets became active at 6 a. m. today before the main telephone company building here following headquarters orders yesterday by the Communication Workers of America (CIO) to start picketing in 1,500 communities in the nation.

A local spokesman for the union said that only about 10 Western Electric employes here are directly involved in the strike, but another 10 or 15 employed in the plant department of the New York Telephone Co., and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., refuse to cross the picket line.

Telephone operators and others, who belong to different unions, are not affected here, but the Associated Press said that long distance telephone operators in New York refused to cross picket lines set up by Western Electric workers, on strike since Monday.

Major points of the dispute, the local spokesman said, are a wage increase and better transfer allowances for the workers who travel.

Four pickets started walking near the local telephone building at Broadway and West O'Reilly street this morning, and it was announced that the union plans to keep a line active on a 24-hour schedule.

A spokesman for the New York Telephone Co. said today that out of about 18,000 employes in the upstate area all but 366 reported for work this morning. Small groups were out in Albany, Buffalo, Troy and Kingston.

State Service Normal

Local service is normal throughout the state, he said, but there are delays on some long distance calls. Only urgent calls are being accepted for points in Ohio and Michigan.

Dial equipment is not affected and "sufficient personnel is available to carry on the minimum maintenance necessary to continue satisfactory operations." All New York Telephone Company unions are covered by contracts, he said, "and the company expects they will be honored."

The New York report said strike leaders claimed they were 100 per cent effective in stopping the operators from working at the 27-story building of the A.T. & T. Co., the big communications company's Manhattan nerve center.

The communications workers install telephone and telegraph equipment.

New York spokesmen for the union said supervisory employes of the A. A. & T. were filling in for the idle operators, trying to maintain service.

Some Wouldn't Cross

John H. Lotz, president of the Long Lines Operators local union, said 1,500 of the operators already had registered at strike headquarters after refusing to cross picket lines.

The all-out picketing began late yesterday and threatened to keep nearly 40,000 New York city telephone workers off their jobs.

The Western Electric strikers are employed in the 'phone system's installation branch.

Orders to begin picketing in 1,500 communities across the nation went out yesterday, creating the likelihood of stoppages by 300,000 telephone workers.

Long distance services and communities with dial-less 'phones would be the first to feel the effects of such a tie-up.

With the threat of a national telephone stoppage in the making, federal mediators called another meeting here today to attempt a settlement of the Western Electric walkout.

Lotz addressed some 300 strikers and idle operators at strike headquarters.

"We're more or less settled now," he said. "Cooperation is 100 per cent effective by members of Local 1150.

"You can go home now, if you want, but keep in touch with union headquarters and watch developements in the newspapers and on the radio. Report back again Monday."

The Associated Press reported from Washington that the telephone workers over most of the nation stayed away from work today, refusing to pass picket lines thrown up by striking Western Electric Company equipment workers.

Actually only 16,000 Western Electric men, plus 61,000 phone

Port Ewen firemen were called again shortly after their return to quarters when it was feared the fire would rekindle, but it was found only a few timbers were smouldering, the assistant chief said.

100,800 People In Ulster County By 1960 Forecast

New York, April 10 (Special)—A look into the future of Ulster county, on the basis of state population forecasts made by the United States Census Bureau, indicates that there will be 97,500 people living in the county in 1955 and 100,800 in 1960.

The subject of future population comes to the fore at this time "because the demand for figures of this kind has been considerable."

While admittedly subject to considerable error, they are realistic enough, it is deemed, to serve as a guide to the business man, manufacturer and government of-

N. Jersey Primary Outlook Pleases Taft Lieutenants

Declare He Has Very Little to Lose There in His Role as Underdog

Trenton, N. J., April 10 (AP)—Some of Sen. Robert A. Taft's campaign lieutenants are well pleased, privately, with the outlook for him in next week's New Jersey primary—an election they say has been rigged against him.

The underdog's role, which they claim for the senator, is by no means an uncomfortable one.

Their reasoning is that Taft has very little to lose in this situation and—should the unexpected happen—everything to gain. Even a sizable total of popular votes in New Jersey for Taft would permit his backers to claim a "moral victory."

Taft goes to the post next Tuesday against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen in the GOP primary. The election has a preferential ballot, a "popularity contest," and it will name 38 delegates to the Republican convention.

The state organization slate, headed by Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, is listed on the ballot as unpledged.

The governor, however, announced March 17 that he favors Eisenhower.

When the news reached Taft, he called Driscoll's statement a piece of "political trickery," tried unsuccessfully to have his name taken off the ballot, and closed his headquarters in New Jersey. Officially, there has been no campaigning for him in the state. Actually, however, a good deal of work has been done.

Two supporters of Senator Taft charged in prepared radio texts yesterday that Driscoll had made a promise to Taft to remain neutral in the presidential primary poll.

Driscoll Denies Charges

The charge was made by industrialist Charles Edison, former Democratic governor, and Albert W. Hawkes, former Republican U. S. senator. Driscoll denied the charge later in a broadcast.

The Edison and Hawkes radio texts said Taft was given the promise of neutrality at a meeting with Driscoll and New Jersey GOP leaders, and that Taft therefore did not enter a slate of delegates in New Jersey.

Hawkes followed the text in his radio address in Philadelphia. But in New York last night, Edison deleted the reference to the meeting in his (WOR) address.

On the air, Edison said only this on the issue: "Given to understand that the Republican state organization would remain neutral, Senator Taft's supporters agreed not to enter a slate," in the primary.

Edison explained later:

"I deleted the paragraph from my broadcast remarks at the last moment because information reaching me late today had created certain doubts as to the paragraph's accuracy.

"Its deletion, however, in no way alters the fact that the spirit of the primary laws has been

Boss of the Steel Industry

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer looks grim as he holds the government seizure order and listens to the President's speech which named him as czar of the steel industry. At the conclusion of the speech, Sawyer signed the seizure order and told steel company heads to "fly the flag of United States" over the mills.

1,600 Homeless in Floods As Missouri River Overflows

Decomposed Body Of Man Found in River at Highland

Enough Evidence Lacking for Identification; Is Seen Floating by Railroaders

The badly decomposed body of a man was found floating in the Hudson river near the Columbia boathouse north of Highland about 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Investigation by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly and state police of the Highland station continued today, but there appeared little evidence which could lead to positive identification of the man.

The decomposed nature of the body made finger printing impossible, Coroner Kelly revealed.

Troopers said the large-built man had gray hair, bald on top, indicating he was middle aged or older.

He was wearing a brown dress shirt with white stripes, trousers that had been blue or gray, black ankle-length shoes and two piece woolen underwear troopers said.

Workman's Dress

All that was found in his pockets were a penknife and $3.20 in cash and currency.

The clothing indicated that the dead man had been a "workingman or migrant," troopers said.

Streets of Pierre Are Muddy Canals; 200 Homes Ordered Evacuated

Pierre, S. D., April 10 (AP)—Streets of this capital city of 5,700 inhabitants resembled dirty canals today as flood waters of the Missouri river surged slowly but steadily upward.

The Big Muddy spilled onto about 100 blocks of Pierre and all of Fort Pierre, a town of about 700 persons across the river. Red Cross officials estimated about 1,600 persons already were homeless.

It was Pierre's worst flood in 71 years.

A crest of 25 feet was expected some time today. The Missouri stood at 23.6 feet at 9 o'clock last night and the swirling water was climbing at a rate of .5 feet an hour. Food stage here is 15 feet.

Army engineers issued flood warnings for downstream cities along the rampaging stream. The crest was expected to hit Sioux City, Ia., Monday or Tuesday, and swirl into Omaha, Neb., April 17-18.

Orders Evacuation

Mayor Ralph Henderson of Sioux City proclaimed an emergency calling for evacuation of 200 homes, the stockyards and a packing plant on Friday. National guardsmen were mobilized for the emergency.

The weather bureau at Omaha forecast a crest two feet above the 26.6-foot levees erected to protect that city and neighboring Council Bluffs, Ia.

Water was up to three feet deep in the Pierre business section. Basement walls and foundations of two business places caved in.

Army "ducks" and coast guard boats hauled stocks from flooded stores and evacuated residents of flood swept homes. A coast guard helicopter freed isolated ranchers. Mail delivery to Fort Pierre, three miles west of here across

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Two key senators said today chances are slim for providing funds the Internal Revenue Bureau says it must have to enforce the new gambling tax law.

Sen. Kilgore (D.-W.Va.), chairman of the appropriations subcommittee which handles funds for the bureau, told a reporter he personally was sympathetic to the agency's request for more personnel.

But he said he doubted the $35 million cut out of the Internal Revenue Bureau's budget by the House would be restored in the Senate.

Truman Is Silent on CIO Deal

Won't Interfere

Negotiations Will Be Successful Is View of Administration

Washington, April 10 (AP)—The steel industry met with a new setback today in its court fight against government seizure of its mills.

Lawyers for four major companies — Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Jones & Laughlin—pleaded in vain in U. S. District Court for immediate hearings of their suits for an injunction.

Judge David A. Pine ruled that he could not advance the suits under court rules.

The rules allow 20 days for the defendant, in this case the government, to reply to a suit.

In other developments:

1. President Truman declined comment at a news conference on a steel executive's charge that he seized the mills in "a corrupt political deal" with the CIO.

2. However, Philip Murray, CIO president, called the statement by Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Co., "a malicious and deliberate lie * * * an insult to President Truman and me."

Truman said he wouldn't interfere with negotiations for a settlement and that he wants an agreement that will return the mills to private hands through the process of collective bargaining.

Calls Randall Prevaricator

Murray issued his statement shortly before entering today's renewed contract negotiations. He said of the steel executive's nationwide radio and TV broadcast last night:

"The complete answer to Mr. Randall's entire statement is that he is a prevaricator of the lowest type."

The industry is vigorously protesting its seizure by the government. Even while heating up its cooled furnaces for full-scale production, it prepared for a bitter court battle to overthrow, if possible, the seizure action Truman took.

The industry's first legal challenge, to get a temporary injunction against seizure, was dismissed here yesterday by Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

Holtzoff said he wasn't ruling on the legality of Truman's seizure order, but found the companies had not proved the seizure caused them "irreparable damage"

To Arraign Three

April 25th Set as Court Date in Hudson for Gambling Case

Hudson, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—The three men named in the first indictment returned by the special grand jury probing Columbia county crime will be arraigned on gambling charges April 25.

The three, seized on bench warrants after the indictment was handed up yesterday to Justice Henry L. Ughetta of State Supreme Court, are:

Nicholas Lippera, 36, of Hudson; James C. Pasinella, alias Joe Pizzi, 49, and Joseph Deeb, 49, both of Watervliet.

Pasinella and Deeb were held in jail in lieu of $2,000 bail each.

Lippera was released on $1,000 property bond.

The indictment listed five counts against each defendant. The first accused them of conspiring to gamble and to keep gaming establishments. The next three charged them with being common gamblers. The fifth alleged they kept gambling establishments.

The handle in a big-money crap game at one of the establishments averaged approximately $100,000 a night, Special Prosecutor Paul Williams said.

After handing up the indictment, the jury adjourned until Tuesday.

Phone 'Installers' Picket Office Here But Operators Take Care of All Calls

Pickets became active at 6 a. m. today before the main telephone company building here following headquarters orders yesterday by the Communication Workers of America (CIO) to start picketing in 1,500 communities in the nation.

A local spokesman for the union said that only about 10 Western Electric employes here are directly involved in the strike, but another 10 or 15 employed in the plant department of the New York Telephone Co., and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., refuse to cross the picket line.

Telephone operators and others, who belong to different unions, are not affected here, but the Associated Press said that long distance telephone operators in New York refused to cross picket lines set up by Western Electric workers, on strike since Monday.

Major points of the dispute, the local spokesman said, are a wage increase and better transfer allowances for the workers who travel.

Four pickets started walking near the local telephone building at Broadway and West O'Reilly street this morning, and it was announced that the union plans to keep a line active on a 24-hour schedule.

A spokesman for the New York Telephone Co. said today that out of about 18,000 employes in the upstate area all but 366 reported for work this morning. Small groups were out in Albany, Buffalo, Troy and Kingston.

State Service Normal

Local service is normal throughout the state, he said, but there are delays on some long distance calls. Only urgent calls are being accepted for points in Ohio and Michigan.

Dial equipment is not affected and "sufficient personnel is available to carry on the minimum maintenance necessary to continue satisfactory operations." All New York Telephone Company unions are covered by contracts, he said, "and the company expects they will be honored."

The New York report said strike leaders claimed they were 100 per cent effective in stopping the operators from working at the 27-story building of the A.T. & T. Co., the big communications company's Manhattan nerve center.

The communications workers install telephone and telegraph equipment.

Some Wouldn't Cross

John H. Lotz, president of the Long Lines Operators local union, said 1,500 of the operators already had registered at strike headquarters after refusing to cross picket lines.

The all-out picketing began late yesterday and threatened to keep nearly 40,000 New York city telephone workers off their jobs.

The Western Electric strikers are employed in the 'phone system's installation branch.

Orders to begin picketing in 1,500 communities across the nation went out yesterday, creating the likelihood of stoppages by 300,000 telephone workers.

Long distance services and communities with dial-less 'phones would be the first to feel the effects of such a tie-up.

With the threat of a national telephone stoppage in the making, federal mediators called another meeting here today to attempt a settlement of the Western Electric walkout.

Lotz addressed some 300 strikers and idle operators at strike headquarters.

"We're more or less settled now," he said. "Cooperation is 100 per cent effective by members of Local 1150.

"You can go home now, if you want, but keep in touch with union headquarters and watch developements in the newspapers and on the radio. Report back again Monday."

The Associated Press reported from Washington that the telephone workers over most of the nation stayed away from work today, refusing to pass picket lines thrown up by striking Western Electric Company equipment workers.

Actually only 16,000 Western Electric men, plus 61,000 phone

K. of C. Convention At Saratoga Springs

Saratoga Springs, April 10—For the third time in history, this resort city is preparing to play host to the State Convention of the Knights of Columbus. Plans already are well advanced and Denis A. Mansfield, convention chairman, expects upwards of 2,000 Knights and guests for the three-day session, May 22, 23 and 24.

The Saratoga Council, which entertained previous state conventions in 1934 and 1941, has sent invitations to the remaining 257 councils in the state, in addition to state officers, state chairmen, district deputies and supreme officers. Although reservation forms are just being sent out, the early demand for hotel rooms is unusually heavy, according to the chairman.

Among supreme officers expected are the secretary, Joseph F. Lamb, Knight Commander of St. Gregory, of New York, and a director, William E. Burke of Utica, both former state deputies.

The local Council has placed all 378 of its Knights on Convention committees. A Ladies Auxiliary of 75 also is assisting with preparations.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

It is always hazardous to attempt predictions—but some of us are foolish enough to persist in the practice.

The Ruminator does not think, however, that there is much risk in predicting that this will be a year of "entangling complexities," to adopt an expression noted in a book recently.

Certainly, President Truman's ill-advised and ill-timed announcement of his retirement is unlikely to accomplish anything but strife, confusion and business bewilderment in the months ahead.

It was a very foxy move politically, as it upsets all calculations and makes it far more difficult for the Republicans to pin down their campaigns to a concrete basis; they're thrown back on abstract New Dealism, or Trumanism, for their attacks. Abstractions never appeal as do concrete facts.

There is another side to the political situation, with Mr. Truman out of the running, which hasn't been emphasized much yet. It will be shortly, no doubt. That is the fact that the Republicans will be split more definitely between "internationalists" and "home-bodies" than before. Mr. Truman is an avowed internationalist, of course. He therefore will use his indirect influence to favor even a Republican international viewpoint. That is to say, Mr. Truman would undoubtedly prefer General Eisenhower to any other candidate—if a Republican is to win. However, it is not all certain that any Republican will win now that Harry S. Truman is out of the running.

About the surest prediction one might make is that the Republicans are not a sure thing this year anymore than they have been in the last few elections. It was thought to be a sure thing in 1948 but nobody has forgotten what happened then. (By the way, if I may insert a thought about "contrary opinions" here I should like to remark that the theory of going contrary has to be handled with care when considering election prospects. True, to be "contrary" in 1948 was to be correct, but suppose one had been "contrary" to Hoover's election in 1928? That was a foregone conclusion, too, but the general opinion was overwhelmingly right, not wrong. So we need to weigh our analyses carefully when using the theory.)

The only safe outlook to have at present, it seems to me, is to divorce yourself from day-to-day political happenings and wait until sentiment crystalizes. Moreover, it is my guess that sentiment will veer about as wildly as a weathervane in a windstorm during the next few months.

People are greatly affected in their "feelings" by the state of business and of what might be called "social conditions." For example, what occurs in labor controversies, in inflation, in civilian business, in our dealings with Russia, in the "cold war," in prices and markets—all these things influence sentiment. In turn, they will influence peoples' voting tendencies.

Inasmuch as Mr. Truman's withdrawal is sure to cause confusion and dismay—because there will be no firm grip on the reins of government—we are bound to see effects in all branches of our socio-economic activities.

Economic trends are powerful, once they become well established.

We are so insulated, here in America, that we seldom give heed to what is occurring in other parts of the world.

But right now there are a number of influences at work which may be felt here before long.

Russia's renewed "peace offensive"—or whatever you wish to call it—is having its effect on world prices. Throughout the world numerous community and raw-material prices have been, and are, falling. Gold prices, too, have been dropping. (Commodities are likely to follow gold prices.) Trade slumps are a worry abroad (which makes Russia's offer "to do business with the West" inviting. Economic survival makes strange bedfellows).

Local elections in Great Britain that went strongly against the Conservatives is another straw in the wind.

In all this world turmoil the Ruminator comes back to the same problem; namely, that the powerful United States will be without a HEAD for ten long months. Mr. Truman simply will not have the same authority, the same "control," which he would have had if he had postponed his announcement until the last moment.

Some of the earlier pictures of fairly large ships in Egypt date back to 3,000 B. C.

X-ray Specialist Describes Its Use In Modern World

So you swallowed a tack!

If you did—or if baby has just guzzled a saftey pin—you can thank your stars for the X-ray machine.

"We often find foreign bodies, pins, thumbtacks, needles, and the like, either in the tracts of the body or the soft tissues," says Dr. T. R. Smalldon, soft-spoken youngish head of the Kingston Hospital X-ray department.

Sometimes an X-ray film will locate a needle or metal sliver of one kind or another in the thigh or buttocks, or some other part of the body, Smalldon explains, pointing out that such objects may move for considerable distances through the body tissues before they are detected and removed.

As for saftey-pin cases, "I usually fluorscope them." "You can watch the movement of the organs." He explains that the progress and position of a foreign object in a tract of the body can be checked again—say in 24 hours.

"If an object is in the lung we have to go after it. In esophagus (throat) cases, for the most part, the object goes on through."

Seven Ski Fractures

Of course, the detection of a thumbtack in the alimentary canal is only a minor detail of the services rendered by this miracle of the modern world.

One Sunday afternoon during the winter "we had seven cases of ankle fracture sustained by skiers in this area. The back of the hospital was full of skis."

Smalldon points out that the hospital's emergency 24-hour X-ray service played an important role in these accidents and that the fracture victims were properly cared for and that most of them were able to return to their homes for further treatment.

"Come in," Smalldon called in reply to a knock on the door. One of the technicians entered carrying three "wet" X-ray films which he scanned and approved. In emergencies, he explains, the films are read as soon as they are taken from the pans, still dripping with the developing solution.

"X-ray has become a specialty in itself," the brown-eyed departmental head explains. "This is due to the greatly increased number of fields in which it can now be used, whereas, in the early days, X-rays could only be taken of thin parts such as hands and feet—and with very long exposures. Now, any area of the body can be studied with a widely varying set of techniques. For this reason the department serves as a diagnostic aid in almost any type of disease or injury. With the growth of X-ray as a specialty it has become necessary to employ a specialist to take charge of the department."

Uses Are Various

He points out that the diagnostic value of the department is such that the examination is deemed necessary in order to make the diagnosis or to differentiate two or more diagnoses. It is also of value in checking the position of a fracture before and after setting and applying the paster cast.

Between 50 and 90 kilovolts of current are used for most diagnostic work, Smalldon explains, whereas, for therapy, handled in the Tumor Clinic, between 100 and 260 kilovolts are required.

Prior to the development of the Coolidge tube (hot cathode) in 1913 the X-ray had insufficient power to penetrate to the bone of a large person—say a 300-pounder. Today, however, the X-ray can effectively penetrate plaster cast and heavy layers of tissue.

Another use of X-ray, Smalldon points out, is to take preoperative films of the chest to "rule out any possible lung infection which might delay the operation, or to rule out the spread of cancer to the lungs." There are some cases of cancer detection by X-ray when no other symptoms indicated its presence in the body.

In Orthopedic Work

"The X-ray is used prominently in orthopedic work for the detection and treatment of bone diseases and fractures. The medical and surgical departments use the X-ray department in multitudes of situations, such as the study of the gastro-intestinal tract, a field which is greatly enlarged by the use of fluoroscopic examinations during which time not only the outlines of the entire gastro-intestinal tract can be studied but the movements and the mucosal pattern. By this means ulcers can be proved and cancer and many other conditions of the gastro-intestinal tract detected.

"Another field in which the use of X-ray is important is in gall bladder disease in which, by use of an opaque dye, the functioning gall bladder can be outlined and stones discovered. The X-ray is also valuable to the urologist, making it possible to outline the functioning structures of the kidney by opaque dye instilled from below or injected into the veins.

"We can also take general films of the abdomen, chest or skull where abnormal shadows or calcifications often reveal disease."

Tuberculosis Being Checked

The case-finding value of the X-ray in the diagnosis of tuberculosis is well known, Smalldon states, "and it is a fact that the spread of tuberculosis is being checked by community case-finding studies." He points out that X-ray plays a large part in several ways, in sending mobile units into smaller communities, the routine X-raying of all hospital admissions and of hospital employes at regular intervals — primarily for the detection of tuberculosis.

"Fifty per cent of all our work," he says, "is out-patient" (people not in beds in the hospital) "and of this number, about half are accident victims."

Smalldon, who hails from Omaha, Nebraska, attended the University of Nebraska where he received his undergraduate and medical degrees. He was in New York for seven years, interning at Brooklyn Methodist Hospital, did X-ray work in the army and, upon discharge, served three years at New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center and one year at Memorial Hospital, and for the past year and three months has been at Kingston Hospital. He is a Diplomate of the American College of Radiology.

The department has three technicians and a secretary in addition to Smalldon. They are Miss Olive Boice, a member of the Society for X-ray Technicians, who has been with the hospital for the past 25 years, Mrs. Elizabeth Barlow and Miss Mildred Hoppe, technicians, and Mrs. Jewel Cioni, secretary.

(This is one in a series of articles commemorating National Hospital Day, May 12).

COLLEGES NEED BUSINESS HELP

The crisis on American college campuses is deepening. The schools are caught between mounting costs and dwindling revenues. The big G. I. Bill of Rights attendance boom is over, and the draft is cutting heavily into what enrollment is left.

The small schools naturally are worst hit, since their resources are thinner. Probably half the country's colleges are operating at or near a deficit. Few if any are in robust financial condition.

Up to now the colleges, for the most part, have been able to muddle along with a variety of devices to fill the breach. They have upped tuitions. They have beat the bushes hard for new scholarship money. They have tailored special research projects to government demands so they could get defense funds.

But all these have their limits. It is a serious question whether tuitions can be boosted much higher without pricing many students right out of the education market. All too many students cannot make the financial grade today without some kind of assistance.

Some of the scholarship drives have been rewarding, but some have not. With so many other chunks already being taken out of the earner's dollar, he is not enthusiastic about alloting a large piece of it to an educational institution. And the really big grants are rare nowadays.

Many of the smaller schools simply are not equipped to take on Naval or Army scientific research. The big universities that do advance this type of work wish they had the funds and could devote their staffs' time to more basic research, unrelated to specific objectives.

Where do they go from here?

With a lot of schools it now is or soon will be a matter of finding new revenue sources or shutting down. There are only two large reservoirs to which they may turn, government or business.

Business already finances much college research through grants for specific projects, scholarships, and the like. But it has barely scratched the surface. It could well become a principal support of the nation's college system. Some of this aid would be immediately productive of returns to industry through development of new scientific solutions to problems, through large additions to the force of highly trained personnel, and so on.

A good deal of the assistance, however, would be directed toward broadening the base of pure research—the great quest for scientific fundamentals from which all specific solutions flow. Expenditures toward this goal would accord with the highest notions of business statesmanship.

The alternative, plainly, is government help. Many educators believe that even if other segments of society can carry the biggest part of the load there is still some place for government. For instance, a carefully applied system of federal scholarships to assist needy students would give the schools a boost without menacing their independence.

Yet more thoughtful school administrators fear too much government in education. They see school independence, and perhaps free scholarship, ultimately disappearing under such conditions. No one can say there is no point to their fears.

It is time for all forward-looking business leaders to attend to this great necessity—and opportunity. If they do not move into the crisis with firm purpose, the government most certainly will.

The latest men's neckties offer many a tingling thrill. Where else can you find mountains, boats, fish, rainbows, trees and perhaps even egg and gravy spread across a few inches of space?

UNCLE JO-KER

Joseph Stalin offered the American people his bland assurances that all is well. If everybody will just cooperate and observe treaties and other obligations, why, there needn't be a war at all.

This makes lovely reading if you can't remember anything the Russians have said or done before, or if you can somehow overlook the fact that Uncle Joe made his solemn little gesture on April Fool's Day.

KOREAN PRISONERS OF WAR

It is impossible to make head or tail out of the negotiations at Panmunjom concerning prisoners of war. The rumors lead to the unbelievable conclusion that the American authorities would be willing to sacrifice the anti-Communist Korean prisoners of war to end the nine-month deadlock.

Such an inhumane appeasement of Stalin should shock the moral sensibilities of the world because all these sacrifices to freedom, and probably their families, will be killed in revenge for their patriotism.

I have been permitted to see a letter addressed to Cardinal Spellman by a Korean prisoner-of-war now in one of our camps, who wrote:

". . . We escaped from the tiger's jaws and surrendered to the UN forces. We now cast ourselves upon Your Eminence's Christian charity and entreat your powerful help. We fear that the UN authorities do not fully understand our dreadful plight—that they will deliver us back into the grip of our soul's enemies. We beg them rather to put us in the front line of the UN forces in desperate attacks. Put us where we can front the worst shocks of our detested enemy. We will prove our worth.

"May we suggest that the world unite to grapple with these foes of the supernatural, to struggle until, with victory, comes a chance to live in peace. Eminence, how can it be done? You can sympathize with our bewilderment. We hope that, if we are unacceptable to UN forces, you can persuade them to send us to Free China in Formosa. Or is there no corner of the free world for us?"

No matter how skilfully and successfully the truth is hidden from us, the facts pass along the Asiatic underground grapevine and have reached these desperate human beings to whom death is no greater danger than surrender to the mad Chinese-Russian masters who would torture them to lie and to denounce the United States. The torture would be of the soul even more than of the body.

Now that the truth of the Katyn massacre is accepted by most decent persons—and the truth is that Katyn was a mass murder of Poles by Russians—it is believable that these enemies of civilization can kill off their prisoners-of-war and throw them into a common grave. Any appeasement of the Russians coud produce the most brutal massacre and for it the United States would have to accept responsibility. We handed over those Germans who ideologically stood by us: if we are about to do that to the Koreans, it wil be an outrage not only against the victims, but against all morality.

Our position in Asia has already been so weakened that it is difficult to discover means for strengthening it. The betrayal of China, arranged by General George Marshall and fully documented in the testimony before the Russell Committee about the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur, had an impact on Asia so powerful that it is today our most serious international problem.

How could India or Pakistan or Iran trust the United States, once we had betrayed China? The so-called internationalists in the United States who place Europe above America and whose main concern is the preservation of Great Britain and France rather than to protect the future of the United States, sincerely believed between 1945 and 1950 that they could ignore Asia. However, Stalin, who had captured the initiative at Yalta, decided that Asia would be his battlefield.

Even while he arranged for what has come to be known as the episode of the Berlin airlift, it was only by a distraction for the consolidation of his position in China, and when that was completed, he arranged for the war in Korea, which cost him nothing, but has given the United States nearly 107,000 casualties and restored a war economy for the American people.

In every diplomatic move, thus far, Stalin has been successful and the United States has either arranged a palliative like NATO or has retreated from its position. The reason is that American diplomacy, which should have been focussed on Asia, was focussed on Great Britain and France. This fundamental error is the mother of all our errors.

And now the prisoner-of-war negotiations at Panmunjom may ead us into another error, that of an inhuman betrayal of our own allies, of men who strengthened our cause by surrender. The immorality of such an act will have everlasting repercussions.

That Body of Yours

PATIENTS WITH HEART STROKE

"Thirty years have elapsed since coronary occlusion or thrombosis became widely recognized as a clinical entity or group of symptoms. It is now possible, therefore, to have a comprehensive view of an acute attack and to study the heart stroke, as it is called, among the many patients still alive."

I am quoting Drs. Arthur M. Master and Harry F. Jaffe, New York, in The Journal of the American Medical Association.

At first, only the severe attacks were recognized as occlusions and their death rate was high. The prognosis, or likely outcome, was considered to be poor. A coronary occlusion or thrombosis was considered fatal; the individual might live for a while but the death mark was on him. Then came the complete bed rest, a diet low in food values, and the discreet use of drugs which saved many lives. "It is now relatively simple to recognize mild coronary attacks from which the patient usually recovers. The death rate in first attacks of heart stroke is at present only 10 per cent or less," state Drs. Master and Jaffee. For this reason the early feeling that death would soon occur has been changed to one of hope and not despair.

The progress of patients who have lived through a heart stroke have been carefully followed and shows that one-third of these patients had no symptoms afterward and did not have to lessen or decrease their usual activities. One-half of them resumed gainful employment. "In a recent series of 84 patients, 43 per cent were working one year after the attack. Occasionally patients have lived for 20 and even 40 years after an attack."

Despite the above excellent findings, many physicians and laymen believe that a coronary occlusion causes a marked reduction in the patient's activities and a marked decrease in his life expectancy.

Drs. Master and Jaffe state that their follow-up studies have impressed them more and more by the large number of patients who have made a complete recovery as far as the use and strength of the heart is concerned. After reviewing the progress made of 42 patients with coronary thrombosis, they found that most patients survive the first acute attack and that many make a full, useful recovery and are able to resume gainful employment and live almost the entire life span of others who have had no attack. "They should be encouraged to lead as normal lives as possible, avoiding excessive mental and physical strain. In this way we shall send many more patients back to a happy life rather than into the exile of invalidism and despondency."

The Only Real Germ in the 'Germ War'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Queen Juliana of Holland made a hit everywhere she went, but with no one more than Harry Truman himself. She flabbergasted, but pleased HST by telling him at a farewell dinner party that historians would record him and Dean Acheson as doing more than any two men in this era to stop communism in western Europe. . . . "I wish," mused the man who has taken more of a beating than any other recent president, "that I could be around to read the history books."

Big Army Shake-Up — General Eisenhower and Gen. Omar Bradley, though greatly respecting each other, nonetheless are a wee bit miffed at each other. One irritant was Omar's penetrating book, probably the frankest book of the war, which Ike didn't especially care for. More recently Ike has been irked over Bradley's thumbsdown on Gen. Al Gruenther to step into Ike's shoes. . . . Bradley says Gruenther hasn't had field duty and no man should take over the vital west European command without it. Instead he wants to put Gruenther in command of army ground forces replacing Gen. Mark Clark, send Clark to replace Ridgway in Korea, send Ridgway to replace Ike in Paris. Later, Bradley thinks, Gruenther would make a good chief of staff. . . . Meanwhile Secretary Lovett was greatly impressed with Gruenther's testimony before the Senate, while Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk Stikker has put in a strong plug for Gruenther, called him a brilliant diplomat and soldier. Stikker even told Lovett that he had the word of temperamental Field Marshal Montgomery that Monty would serve under Gruenther in Europe without griping.

The Veep's Women—Vice President Barkley's womenfolks don't agree about his running for President. Mrs. Barkley is for it. So is Mrs. Max Truitt, the daughter who formerly served as his official hostess, and whose husband made a small fortune handling legal business for three of the world's top dictators. However, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, another daughter, is opposed, feels the strain would wear out her 74-year-old father....Mrs. McArthur is married to a State Department official, the nephew and namesake of the general.

..Ed Sullivan Comes First—Marian Anderson, famed Negro soprano, got her biggest tribute when the late Harold Ickes invited her to sing on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial on Easter Sunday, 1939. She had been barred from Constitution Hall by the DAR, so Ickes gave her the sacred platform in front of the statue of the man who freed her race. This Easter Sunday Miss Anderson was asked to sing before the Lincoln Memorial again—at a memorial service for the man who championed her right to sing .She declined. A previous commitment to appear on Ed Sullivan's TV show was the excuse....Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman begged, cajoled, offered to fly her in a special plane from Washington at 3 p. m. to New York in time for the TV show at 8 p. m. She declined. Rehearsals were the excuse....Ed Sullivan, it was explained, wouldn't release her....A possible factor could have been a $2,000 fee. Finally Secretary Chapman switched the date to the Sunday after Easter, and Marian Anderson has now consented to sing in memory of Harold Ickes—one week late.

Kefauver's Gallop — Truman's strategy for stopping Kefauver is breaking down. The strategy was to put favorite sons in each state primary, then throw their votes to a candidate chosen by the President and the party bosses at the convention. However, they underestimated Kefauver's vigor, sex appeal and general popularity. He has now bagged so many delegates that he will be hard to stop ....Biggest point about Kefauver which Democratic chieftains seem to miss is that the people want a genuine cleanup of corruption, and they know Kefauver started pitching two years before anyone else .... The Merry-Go-Round post-card poll now shows him running over 60 per cent among Democratic hopefuls. Eisenhower ran 49 per cent....You can vote in the Merry-Go-Round poll by sending a post card to Box 1952, Washington. Write the name of your Democratic candidate on the back.

Morris's Father-in-Law — Two men who didn't get to be Supreme Court justices were directly and indirectly involved in the McGrath-Newbold Morris controversy. One was Howard McGrath himself, who, when made attorney general two years ago, confidently expected to get the next Supreme Court vacancy. . . . The other was Judge Learned Hand, recently retired from the U. S. Court of Appeals and one of the great judges of recent decades. Not involved in the dispute, Hand is Morris's father-in-law, gave advice and moral backing. . . . Hand is a Republican, so couldn't make the court under Democratic presidents. McGrath didn't make the court either, first because Justice Stanley Reed, expected to retire for health, recovered; second, because McGrath did so much marking time waiting for the court job that his Justice Department fell to pieces. . . . On the credit side of McGrath's career is a fine record in antitrust suits and civil liberties. He never flinched at big business cases, nor hesitated to throw Justice Department weight behind religious and racial minorities.

Stay for Gibbons

White Plains, N. Y., April 10 (AP) —Mayor Milton A. Gibbons of Tuckahoe, N. Y., got a stay of sentencing yesterday pending outcome of his appeal on a gambling conviction. Gibbons, 52, and Mrs. Mary M. Hayes, 41, owner of a Yonkers, N. Y., stationery store, were convicted March 5 of conspiracy to set up a dice table in a Tuckahoe warehouse. Each received a three-month sentence on April 2. At that time, Gibbons said he would run his office from jail if necessary. Gibbons, a retired Tuckahoe police sergeant, in 1930 organized the forerunner of the nationwide Police Athletic League (PAL) movement to combat juvenile delinquency.

Today in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — America today has a puppet President—a man who is pulled and hauled in every direction by radical advisers and who does not himself have the capacity to understand the fundamentals of the American industrial system.

Several of the important statements made to a nation-wide audience by the President over the radio were misleading. His mistakes are errors of judgment, inexperience, and gullibility.

Yet some of the key statements he did make are nevertheless untrue. They are easily proved to be untrue. What's more, Mr. Truman did not tell all of the truth. He omitted some of the most essential points that have brought on the steel dispute—points which, for political reasons, may have been wise to omit but which certainly, on the basis of candor, the American people have the right to expect from their President. Not a word was said by him about the government's official pressure on the steel companies to force workers to join unions or lose their jobs or what this has to do with the war emergency. Yet this is one of the main factors in the whole dispute.

Here are Mr. Truman's key statements and the facts about them:

Untruth Number One: The President said the steel industry was making a profit of $19.50 a ton and that "on top of that, they can get a price increase of close to $3 a ton under the Capehart amendment." He thus adds up to a possible $22 a ton profit.

Truth Number One: The steel companies are not making a profit of $19.50 per ton because the government takes away in taxes an average of somewhere between 60 and 70 cents out of every dollar. "Profits" are what companies have left after, and not before, taxes are paid.

Untruth Number Two: The President said that "if all the recommendations of the wage board were put into effect, they would cost the industry about $4 or $5 a ton," and "if the steel companies absorbed every penny of the wage increase, they would still be making profits of $17 or $18 a ton." This figure is obtained evidently by subtracting $4 to $5 of cost from $22 of alleged profit.

Truth Number Two: If the companies absorbed the increased costs, it would extend not only to their own wage increases but to the costs of the materials they buy —a figure far in excess of $5 a ton and close to $12 a ton—and if they absorbed all costs and these were only, as the President says, from $4 to $5 a ton, the steel companies would not be making a profit of $17 or $18 a ton because that's before taxes. Using the 70 per cent yardstick for tax rates —normal and excess profits—the profit would actually be about $5.20 per ton.

Untruth Number Three: The President said that a profit of $17 to $18 a ton is high and that in the three years before Korea—1947, 1948 and 1949—steel profits averaged a little better than $11 a ton, so he declares that "the companies could absorb this wage increase entirely out of profits, and still be making much higher profits than they make in the three prosperous years before Korea."

Truth Number Three: The $11 a ton profit was before taxes and in the three years before Korea the federal corporation taxes were only about 38 per cent on every profit dollar, so that 62 per cent of the $11, or $6.82 a ton, in those years was retained as a profit. Just how $5.20 profit per ton after Korea is better than $6.82 a ton before Korea is hard to understand. Nor were there such inflationary prices in the items bought by the steel companies in the pre-Korean period as there are today. The purchasing power of the company's dollar has gone down. The cost of living for the investor's dollar has risen, too.

The President paid no attention whatsoever to the need for replacement money for expansion and for the need of the steel companies to complete the biggest building program of steel plants ever carried on in the history of the world. Not a word was spoken by the President about this essential requirement for profits. Nor did the President tell the American people what he was advocating was that virtually $1,000,000,000 of extra wage increases should be paid out to one group of citizens and that the Federal revenues of 70 per cent of that sum—namely $700,000,000—should be sacrificed by using tax money to pay those wage increases. This can only mean that Mr. Truman is willing to transfer the burden of raising $700,000,000 to all taxpayers, including workers in other industries.

The President told the American people that the Taft-Hartley act's machinery would be of no help because the country would have to sit around "a week or two" while the necessary injunctions were being obtained. The act provides a waiting period of eighty days, whereas, Mr. Truman argued, the union had already waited ninety-nine days. This is a 100 per cent acceptance of the union's view, but it isn't all of the truth. Nor is it a statement of the obligation to use specific law instead of "inherent powers." The fact is that, any time during these ninety-nine days, the President could have set up a board of inquiry to get the facts. He did not have to wait till the last minute. He could have explored the question of price. He could have had an impartial board make a study of the facts about steel costs.

Then American public opinion could have settled the strike, as it can settle all strikes, by siding with the union or the companies depending on what the real facts show. As it is Mr. Truman has succeeded in disseminating many false statements. He has destroyed confidence in the fairness of his administration. He has delivered a body blow to the cause of individual enterprise and to the financial stability of privately owned companies in America. He has demonstrated what a dictatorship can do in free America when a Chief Executive blunders recklessly and then goes from the frying pan into the fire.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

You find some strange bits of information in history books of nearby cities. The Historical Sketches of Hudson printed in 1862 has the following: "In the year 1800, the city of Hudson numbered 4,048, including 88 slaves, making third in the state in commerce, and fourth in manufactures." (But I thought Kingston held that honor around that time.) Now local historians read this: "When the question of a removal of the seat of legislation from New York came up in General Assembly, Hudson needed but one more vote to have been designated as the location for the new capital. Albany secured that "one vote" and became thenceforth the "capital city." (And to think Kingston was the first capital).

Local boat builders may be interested in the following. "Shipbuilding commenced in the first year of Hudson's settlement. Many of the "proprietors" brought vessels with them, and in 1786 some 25 vessels, carrying 2,500, were owned by the citizens of Hudson. That was more than were at that time owned in the city of New York. These vessels were for the most part engaged in the West India trade, and a small number being employed in the whale and seal fishery." Those are interesting facts about one's sister city along the Hudson."

They went in for boat-building as early as 1827 when two large barges were under construction. "As many as five large ships have been known to be upon the stocks in these various yards at one time. Launching days were frequent and were always kept as a holiday. Booths were erected outside of the yard for the sale of refreshments. This consisted principally of Mrs. Newberry's famous gingerbread. Even schools were dismissed, the people from the country came in, and with the greater part of the population of the city, would gather at the yard and often wait patiently for hours for the moving of the vessel, which was the signal for the firing of guns and the cheers of the crowd. In addition to the Hudson shipyards, there were yards at Athens, at which several of the largest vessels owned by Thomas and Marshal Jenkins were built."

Stephen B. Miller who wrote this book tried to collect interesting and other unknown facts about Hudson. It is an entertaining book because of it. For instance in the introduction he writes: "The collection of facts embodied in the following sketches was undertaken as a matter of amusement. The task has been a pleasant one, yet attended with difficulties. Besides the recollections of the few old citizens living, few sources of information were available. (And that was back in 1862). Nothing has been attempted, beyond a plain and connected statement of facts relative to the settlement of Hudson, to some extent connecting them with the present, undertaken in a desire to preserve much which a few years hence could not be collected." I agree so with him, for as years roll on, more and more of these precious bits of information are lost forever.

After Attorney

New York, April 10 (AP)—Attorney Fred D. Kaplan, who defended two of 18 policemen in the Harry Gross bookie case, has been charged with evading payment of $273,480 in federal income taxes. U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane disclosed yesterday that a sealed indictment was returned March 14 against Kaplan. He has been accused of failing either to file a return or pay taxes for the years 1945 through 1948.

COLLEGES NEED BUSINESS HELP

The crisis on American college campuses is deepening. The schools are caught between mounting costs and dwindling revenues. The big G. I. Bill of Rights attendance boom is over, and the draft is cutting heavily into what enrollment is left.

The small schools naturally are worst hit, since their resources are thinner. Probably half the country's colleges are operating at or near a deficit. Few if any are in robust financial condition.

Up to now the colleges, for the most part, have been able to muddle along with a variety of devices to fill the breach. They have upped tuitions. They have beat the bushes hard for new scholarship money. They have tailored special research projects to government demands so they could get defense funds.

But all these have their limits. It is a serious question whether tuitions can be boosted much higher without pricing many students right out of the education market. All too many students cannot make the financial grade today without some kind of assistance.

Some of the scholarship drives have been rewarding, but some have not. With so many other chunks already being taken out of the earner's dollar, he is not enthusiastic about alloting a large piece of it to an educational institution. And the really big grants are rare nowadays.

Many of the smaller schools simply are not equipped to take on Naval or Army scientific research. The big universities that do advance this type of work wish they had the funds and could devote their staffs' time to more basic research, unrelated to specific objectives.

Where do they go from here?

With a lot of schools it now is or soon will be a matter of finding new revenue sources or shutting down. There are only two large reservoirs to which they may turn, government or business.

Business already finances much college research through grants for specific projects, scholarships, and the like. But it has barely scratched the surface. It could well become a principal support of the nation's college system. Some of this aid would be immediately productive of returns to industry through development of new scientific solutions to problems, through large additions to the force of highly trained personnel, and so on.

A good deal of the assistance, however, would be directed toward broadening the base of pure research—the great quest for scientific fundamentals from which all specific solutions flow. Expenditures toward this goal would accord with the highest notions of business statesmanship.

The alternative, plainly, is government help. Many educators believe that even if other segments of society can carry the biggest part of the load there is still some place for government. For instance, a carefully applied system of federal scholarships to assist needy students would give the schools a boost without menacing their independence.

Yet more thoughtful school administrators fear too much government in education. They see school independence, and perhaps free scholarship, ultimately disappearing under such conditions. No one can say there is no point to their fears.

It is time for all forward-looking business leaders to attend to this great necessity—and opportunity. If they do not move into the crisis with firm purpose, the government most certainly will.

The latest men's neckties offer many a tingling thrill. Where else can you find mountains, boats, fish, rainbows, trees and perhaps even egg and gravy spread across a few inches of space?

UNCLE JO-KER

Joseph Stalin offered the American people his bland assurances that all is well. If everybody will just cooperate and observe treaties and other obligations, why, there needn't be a war at all.

This makes lovely reading if you can't remember anything the Russians have said or done before, or if you can somehow overlook the fact that Uncle Joe made his solemn little gesture on April Fool's Day.

KOREAN PRISONERS OF WAR

It is impossible to make head or tail out of the negotiations at Panmunjom concerning prisoners of war. The rumors lead to the unbelievable conclusion that the American authorities would be willing to sacrifice the anti-Communist Korean prisoners of war to end the nine-month deadlock.

Such an inhumane appeasement of Stalin should shock the moral sensibilities of the world because all these sacrifices to freedom, and probably their families, will be killed in revenge for their patriotism.

I have been permitted to see a letter addressed to Cardinal Spellman by a Korean prisoner-of-war now in one of our camps, who wrote:

". . . We escaped from the tiger's jaws and surrendered to the UN forces. We now cast ourselves upon Your Eminence's Christian charity and entreat your powerful help. We fear that the UN authorities do not fully understand our dreadful plight—that they will deliver us back into the grip of our soul's enemies. We beg them rather to put us in the front line of the UN forces in desperate attacks. Put us where we can front the worst shocks of our detested enemy. We will prove our worth.

"May we suggest that the world unite to grapple with these foes of the supernatural, to struggle until, with victory, comes a chance to live in peace. Eminence, how can it be done? You can sympathize with our bewilderment. We hope that, if we are unacceptable to UN forces, you can persuade them to send us to Free China in Formosa. Or is there no corner of the free world for us?"

No matter how skilfully and successfully the truth is hidden from us, the facts pass along the Asiatic underground grapevine and have reached these desperate human beings to whom death is no greater danger than surrender to the mad Chinese-Russian masters who would torture them to lie and to denounce the United States. The torture would be of the soul even more than of the body.

Now that the truth of the Katyn massacre is accepted by most decent persons—and the truth is that Katyn was a mass murder of Poles by Russians—it is believable that these enemies of civilization can kill off their prisoners-of-war and throw them into a common grave. Any appeasement of the Russians coud produce the most brutal massacre and for it the United States would have to accept responsibility. We handed over those Germans who ideologically stood by us; if we are about to do that to the Koreans, it wil be an outrage not only against the victims, but against all morality.

Our position in Asia has already been so weakened that it is difficult to discover means for strengthening it. The betrayal of China, arranged by General George Marshall and fully documented in the testimony before the Russell Committee about the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur, had an impact on Asia so powerful that it is today our most serious international problem.

How could India or Pakistan or Iran trust the United States, once we had betrayed China? The so-called internationalists in the United States who place Europe above America and whose main concern is the preservation of Great Britain and France rather than to protect the future of the United States, sincerely believed between 1945 and 1950 that they could ignore Asia. However, Stalin, who had captured the initiative at Yalta, decided that Asia would be his battlefield.

Even while he arranged for what has come to be known as the episode of the Berlin airlift, it was only by a distraction for the consolidation of his position in China, and when that was completed, he arranged for the war in Korea, which cost him nothing, but has given the United States nearly 107,000 casualties and restored a war economy for the American people.

In every diplomatic move, thus far, Stalin has been successful and the United States has either arranged a palliative like NATO or has retreated from its position. The reason is that American diplomacy, which should have been focussed on Asia, was focussed on Great Britain and France. This fundamental error is the mother of all our errors.

And now the prisoner-of-war negotiations at Panmunjom may ead us into another error, that of an inhuman betrayal of our own allies, of men who strengthened our cause by surrender. The immorality of such an act will have everlasting repercussions.

That Body of Yours

PATIENTS WITH HEART STROKE

"Thirty years have elapsed since coronary occlusion or thrombosis became widely recognized as a clinical entity or group of symptoms. It is now possible, therefore, to have a comprehensive view of an acute attack and to study the heart stroke, as it is called, among the many patients still alive."

I am quoting Drs. Arthur M. Master and Harry F. Jaffe, New York, in The Journal of the American Medical Association.

At first, only the severe attacks were recognized as occlusions and their death rate was high. The prognosis, or likely outcome, was considered to be poor. A coronary occlusion or thrombosis was considered fatal; the individual might live for a while but the death mark was on him. Then came the complete bed rest, a diet low in food values, and the discreet use of drugs which saved many lives. "It is now relatively simple to recognize mild coronary attacks from which the patient usually recovers. The death rate in first attacks of heart stroke is at present only 10 per cent or less," state Drs. Master and Jaffee. For this reason the early feeling that death would soon occur has been changed to one of hope and not despair.

The progress of patients who have lived through a heart stroke have been carefully followed and shows that one-third of these patients had no symptoms afterward and did not have to lessen or decrease their usual activities. One-half of them resumed gainful employment. "In a recent series of 84 patients, 43 per cent were working one year after the attack. Occasionally patients have lived for 20 and even 40 years after an attack."

Despite the above excellent findings, many physicians and laymen believe that a coronary occlusion causes a marked reduction in the patient's activities and a marked decrease in his life expectancy.

Drs. Master and Jaffe state that their follow-up studies have impressed them more and more by the large number of patients who have made a complete recovery as far as the use and strength of the heart is concerned. After reviewing the progress made of 42 patients with coronary thrombosis, they found that most patients survive the first acute attack and that many make a full, useful recovery and are able to resume gainful employment and live almost the entire life span of others who have had no attack. "They should be encouraged to lead as normal lives as possible, avoiding excessive mental and physical strain. In this way we shall send many more patients back to a happy life rather than into the exile of invalidism and despondency."

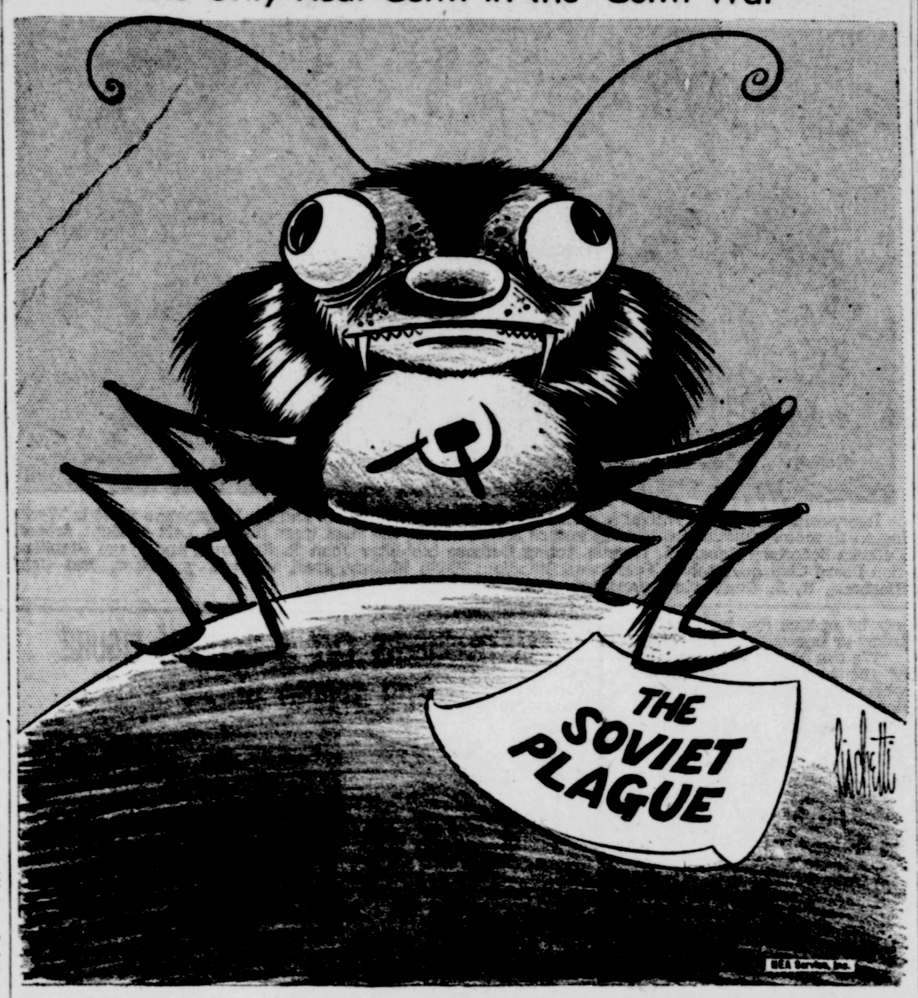
The Only Real Germ in the 'Germ War'



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Queen Juliana of Holland made a hit everywhere she went, but with no one more than Harry Truman himself. She flabbergasted, but pleased HST by telling him at a farewell dinner party that historians would record him and Dean Acheson as doing more than any two men in this era to stop communism in western Europe. . . . "I wish," mused the man who has taken more of a beating than any other recent president, "that I could be around to read the history books."

Big Army Shake-Up — General Eisenhower and Gen. Omar Bradley, though greatly respecting each other, nonetheless are a wee bit miffed at each other. One irritant was Omar's penetrating book, probably the frankest book of the war, which Ike didn't especially care for. More recently Ike has been irked over Bradley's thumbsdown on Gen. Al Gruenther to step into Ike's shoes. . . . Bradley says Gruenther hasn't had field duty and no man should take over the vital west European command without it. Instead he wants to put Gruenther in command of army ground forces replacing Gen. Mark Clark, send Clark to replace Ridgway in Korea, send Ridgway to replace Ike in Paris. Later, Bradley thinks, Gruenther would make a good chief of staff. . . . Meanwhile Secretary Lovett was greatly impressed with Gruenther's testimony before the Senate, while Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk Stikker has put in a strong plug for Gruenther, called him a brilliant diplomat and soldier. Stikker even told Lovett that he had the word of temperamental Field Marshal Montgomery that Monty would serve under Gruenther in Europe without griping.

The Veep's Women—Vice President Barkley's womenfolks don't agree about his running for President. Mrs. Barkley is for it. So is Mrs. Max Truitt, the daughter who formerly served as his official hostess, and whose husband made a small fortune handling legal business for three of the world's top dictators. However, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, another daughter, is opposed, feels the strain would wear out her 74-year-old father....Mrs. McArthur is married to a State Department official, the nephew and namesake of the general.

..Ed Sullivan Comes First—Marian Anderson, famed Negro soprano, got her biggest tribute when the late Harold Ickes invited her to sing on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial on Easter Sunday, 1939. She had been barred from Constitution Hall by the DAR, so Ickes gave her the sacred platform in front of the statue of the man who freed her race. This Easter Sunday Miss Anderson was asked to sing before the Lincoln Memorial again—at a memorial service for the man who championed her right to sing. She declined. A previous commitment to appear on Ed Sullivan's TV show was the excuse....Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman begged, cajoled, offered to fly her in a special plane from Washington at 3 p. m. to New York in time for the TV show at 8 p. m. She declined. Rehearsals were the excuse....Ed Sullivan, it was explained, wouldn't release her....A possible factor could have been a $2,000 fee. Finally Secretary Chapman switched the date to the Sunday after Easter, and Marian Anderson has now consented to sing in memory of Harold Ickes—one week late.

Kefauver's Gallop — Truman's strategy for stopping Kefauver is breaking down. The strategy was to put favorite sons in each state primary, then throw their votes to a candidate chosen by the President and the party bosses at the convention. However, they underestimated Kefauver's vigor, sex appeal and general popularity. He has now bagged so many delegates that he will be hard to stop ....Biggest point about Kefauver which Democratic chieftains seem to miss is that the people want a genuine cleanup of corruption, and they know Kefauver started pitching two years before anyone else .... The Merry-Go-Round post-card poll now shows him running over 60 per cent among Democratic hopefuls. Eisenhower ran 49 per cent....You can vote in the Merry-Go-Round poll by sending a post card to Box 1952, Washington. Write the name of your Democratic candidate on the back.

Morris's Father-in-Law — Two men who didn't get to be Supreme Court justices were directly and indirectly involved in the McGrath-Newbold Morris controversy. One was Howard McGrath himself, who, when made attorney general two years ago, confidently expected to get the next Supreme Court vacancy. . . . The other was Judge Learned Hand, recently retired from the U. S. Court of Appeals and one of the great judges of recent decades. Not involved in the dispute, Hand is Morris's father-in-law, gave advice and moral backing. . . . Hand is a Republican, so couldn't make the court under Democratic presidents. McGrath didn't make the court either, first because Justice Stanley Reed, expected to retire for health, recovered; second, because McGrath did so much marking time waiting for the court job that his Justice Department fell to pieces. . . . On the credit side of McGrath's career is a fine record in antitrust suits and civil liberties. He never flinched at big business cases, nor hesitated to throw Justice Department weight behind religious and racial minorities.

Stay for Gibbons

White Plains, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—Mayor Milton A. Gibbons of Tuckahoe, N. Y., got a stay of sentencing yesterday pending outcome of his appeal on a gambling conviction. Gibbons, 52, and Mrs. Mary M. Hayes, 41, owner of a Yonkers, N. Y., stationery store, were convicted March 5 of conspiracy to set up a dice table in a Tuckahoe warehouse. Each received a three-month sentence on April 2. At that time, Gibbons said he would run his office from jail if necessary. Gibbons, a retired Tuckahoe police sergeant, in 1930 organized the forerunner of the nationwide Police Athletic League (PAL) movement to combat juvenile delinquency.

Today in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — America today has a puppet President—a man who is pulled and hauled in every direction by radical advisers and who does not himself have the capacity to understand the fundamentals of the American industrial system.

Several of the important statements made to a nation-wide audience by the President over the radio were misleading. His mistakes are errors of judgment, inexperience, and gullibility.

Yet some of the key statements he did make are nevertheless untrue. They are easily proved to be untrue. What's more, Mr. Truman did not tell all of the truth. He omitted some of the most essential points that have brought on the steel dispute—points which, for political reasons, may have been wise to omit but which certainly, on the basis of candor, the American people have the right to expect from their President. Not a word was said by him about the government's official pressure on the steel companies to force workers to join unions or lose their jobs or what this has to do with the war emergency. Yet this is one of the main factors in the whole dispute.

Here are Mr. Truman's key statements and the facts about them:

Untruth Number One: The President said the steel industry was making a profit of $19.50 a ton and that "on top of that, they can get a price increase of close to $3 a ton under the Capehart amendment." He thus adds up to a possible $22 a ton profit.

Truth Number One: The steel companies are not making a profit of $19.50 per ton because the government takes away in taxes an average of somewhere between 60 and 70 cents out of every dollar. "Profits" are what companies have left after, and not before, taxes are paid.

Untruth Number Two: The President said that "if all the recommendations of the wage board were put into effect, they would cost the industry about $4 or $5 a ton," and "if the steel companies absorbed every penny of the wage increase, they would still be making profits of $17 or $18 a ton." This figure is obtained evidently by subtracting $4 to $5 of cost from $22 of alleged profit.

Truth Number Two: If the companies absorbed the increased costs, it would extend not only to their own wage increases but to the costs of the materials they buy—a figure far in excess of $5 a ton and close to $12 a ton—and if they absorbed all costs and these were only, as the President says, from $4 to $5 a ton, the steel companies would not be making a profit of $17 or $18 a ton because that's before taxes. Using the 70 per cent yardstick for tax rates—normal and excess profits—the profit would actually be about $5.20 per ton.

Untruth Number Three: The President said that a profit of $17 to $18 a ton is high and that in the three years before Korea—1947, 1948 and 1949—steel profits averaged a little better than $11 a ton, so he declares that "the companies could absorb this wage increase entirely out of profits, and still be making much higher profits than they make in the three prosperous years before Korea."

Truth Number Three: The $11 a ton profit was before taxes and in the three years before Korea the federal corporation taxes were only about 38 per cent on every profit dollar, so that 62 per cent of the $11, or $6.82 a ton, in those years was retained as a profit. Just how $5.20 profit per ton after Korea is better than $6.82 a ton before Korea is hard to understand. Nor were there such inflationary prices in the items bought by the steel companies in the pre-Korean period as there are today. The purchasing power of the company's dollar has gone down. The cost of living for the investor's dollar has risen, too.

The President paid no attention whatsoever to the need for replacement money for expansion and for the need of the steel companies to complete the biggest building program of steel plants ever carried on in the history of the world. Not a word was spoken by the President about this essential requirement for profits. Nor did the President tell the American people what he was advocating was that virtually $1,000,000,000 of extra wage increases should be paid out to one group of citizens and that the Federal revenues of 70 per cent of that sum—namely $700,000,000—should be sacrificed by using tax money to pay those wage increases. This can only mean that Mr. Truman is willing to transfer the burden of raising $700,000,000 to all taxpayers, including workers in other industries.

The President told the American people that the Taft-Hartley act's machinery would be of no help because the country would have to sit around "a week or two" while the necessary injunctions were being obtained. The act provides a waiting period of eighty days, whereas, Mr. Truman argued, the union had already waited ninety-nine days. This is a 100 per cent acceptance of the union's view, but it isn't all of the truth. Nor is it a statement of the obligation to use specific law instead of "inherent powers." The fact is that, any time during these ninety-nine days, the President could have set up a board of inquiry to get the facts. He did not have to wait till the last minute. He could have explored the question of price. He could have had an impartial board make a study of the facts about steel costs.

Then American public opinion could have settled the strike, as it can settle all strikes, by siding with the union or the companies depending on what the real facts show. As it is Mr. Truman has succeeded in disseminating many false statements. He has destroyed confidence in the fairness of his administration. He has delivered a body blow to the cause of individual enterprise and to the financial stability of privately owned companies in America. He has demonstrated what a dictatorship can do in free America when a Chief Executive blunders recklessly and then goes from the frying pan into the fire.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

You find some strange bits of information in history books of nearby cities. The Historical Sketches of Hudson printed in 1862 has the following: "In the year 1800, the city of Hudson numbered 4,048, including 88 slaves, making third in the state in commerce, and fourth in manufactures." (But I thought Kingston held that honor around that time.) Now local historians read this: "When the question of a removal of the seat of legislation from New York came up in General Assembly, Hudson needed but one more vote to have been designated as the location for the new capital. Albany secured that "one vote" and became thenceforth the "capital city." (And to think Kingston was the first capital).

Local boat builders may be interested in the following. "Shipbuilding commenced in the first year of Hudson's settlement. Many of the "proprietors" brought vessels with them, and in 1786 some 25 vessels, carrying 2,500, were owned by the citizens of Hudson. That was more than were at that time owned in the city of New York. These vessels were for the most part engaged in the West India trade, and a small number being employed in the whale and seal fishery." Those are interesting facts about one's sister city along the Hudson."

They went in for boat-building as early as 1827 when two large barges were under construction. "As many as five large ships have been known to be upon the stocks in these various yards at one time. Launching days were frequent and were always kept as a holiday. Booths were erected outside of the yard for the sale of refreshments. This consisted principally of Mrs. Newberry's famous gingerbread. Even schools were dismissed, the people from the country came in, and with the greater part of the population of the city, would gather at the yard and often wait patiently for hours for the moving of the vessel, which was the signal for the firing of guns and the cheers of the crowd. In addition to the Hudson shipyards, there were yards at Athens, at which several of the largest vessels owned by Thomas and Marshal Jenkins were built."

Stephen B. Miller who wrote this book tried to collect interesting and other unknown facts about Hudson. It is an entertaining book because of it. For instance in the introduction he writes: "The collection of facts embodied in the following sketches was undertaken as a matter of amusement. The task has been a pleasant one, yet attended with difficulties. Besides the recollections of the few old citizens living, few sources of information were available. (And that was back in 1862). Nothing has been attempted, beyond a plain and connected statement of facts relative to the settlement of Hudson, to some extent connecting them with the present, undertaken in a desire to preserve much which a few years hence could not be collected." I agree so with him, for as years roll on, more and more of these precious bits of information are lost forever.

After Attorney

New York, April 10 (AP)—Attorney Fred D. Kaplan, who defended two of 18 policemen in the Harry Gross bookie case, has been charged with evading payment of $273,480 in federal income taxes. U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane disclosed yesterday that a sealed indictment was returned March 14 against Kaplan. He has been accused of failing either to file a return or pay taxes for the years 1945 through 1948.

Russians Say Ike Makes College Military

London, April 10 (AP)—The Russians came up today with the charge that Columbia University in New York city has been turned into a military training center during the tenure of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as president.

"Unlike other American universities, Columbia University is training cadres for the United States armed forces," a Moscow radio broadcast said.

"Suffice it to say that government allocations for military research at Columbia exceed four million dollars."

The broadcast said Columbia's trustees chose Gen. Eisenhower to head the University in 1948 because he was "an obedient executor of Wall Street's will."

"The relations between Eisenhower and the students were immediately placed on a purely military footing," it added.

FARAWAY BRIDE WRITES THANKS

The mother of a bride writes: "The day after my daughter was married she had to leave for California. It was a quiet wedding with only the families present and announcements were sent out after to all others. Wedding presents are arriving every day from her many friends throughout the country. Since my daughter will be gone for at least six months, would it be proper for me to open the presents and thank the givers for her, or just how should this be handled?"

In order to avoid writing two letters, you should open the presents and send a description of each to your daughter who could then write brief but appreciative thanks from where she is, saying: "Mother has described the lovely (whatever it is) you sent me. I do thank you for it, and am eagerly looking forward to seeing it when I get home."

Husband Must Be Included

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been asked to be a bridesmaid at a friend's wedding. So far nothing has been said to me about my husband coming to the wedding breakfast following the ceremony. Is there anything I can say to the bride about this?

Answer: It is entirely proper to say to the bride, "I am taking it for granted that John is invited to the breakfast." It is almost certain that her answer will be "of course!" In fact, it would be unimaginable to leave him out.

Second Page for Typewriting

Dear Mrs. Post: When a single fold of letter paper is used, may it be written on both sides, or is only one side supposed to be used?

Answer: Use of both sides is not impossible for a handwritten letter; typewritten ones, on the other hand, should never cover both sides.

Legally Correct

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible to give an adopted son the husband's full name, using Junior?

Answer: Since he is his legal son, this will be entirely proper.

Trooper Examination At Albany May 20

Open competitive examinations for Trooper candidates in the State Police Executive Department will be conducted in the Albany Washington avenue armory on May 20 at 10 a. m., John A. Gaffney, state police superintendent, has announced. The examination will be given in Binghamton, Buffalo, Malone, Syracuse and White Plains at the same time.

To qualify, a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, between 21 and 40 years old, at least five feet nine inches tall and physically perfect.

More Red Advice

Moscow, April 10 (AP)—Russia gave the western Big Three details last night on what the Soviets say should be done about uniting Germany and writing a peace treaty with her. Details of notes handed by Soviet Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to the U. S., British and French envoys were not immediately revealed. The notes replied, however, to western demands for clarification of Russia's March 10 proposal for a peace treaty with a unified Germany.

Kentucky Elects

Louisville, Ky., April 10 (AP)—Republicans from four of Kentucky's eight congressional districts assembled today to select delegates to the National GOP Convention in Chicago next July.

The issue to be settled was the amount of delegate strength backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower could develop over Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

One for Taft

Topeka, Kas., April 10 (AP)—Kansas Republicans today elect ten delegates-at-large to the National GOP Convention with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower virtually assured the backing of all but one, who supports Sen. Robert A. Taft. District conventions already have elected 12 delegates—ten for Eisenhower and two for Taft.

Russians Say Ike Makes College Military

London, April 10 (AP)—The Russians came up today with the charge that Columbia University in New York city has been turned into a military training center during the tenure of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as president.

"Unlike other American universities, Columbia University is training cadres for the United States armed forces," a Moscow radio broadcast said.

"Suffice it to say that government allocations for military research at Columbia exceed four million dollars."

The broadcast said Columbia's trustees chose Gen. Eisenhower to head the University in 1948 because he was "an obedient executor of Wall Street's will."

"The relations between Eisenhower and the students were immediately placed on a purely military footing," it added.

If there are four to six people in your family you'll find that a two-quart casserole is a convenient size.

FARAWAY BRIDE WRITES THANKS

The mother of a bride writes: "The day after my daughter was married she had to leave for California. It was a quiet wedding with only the families present and announcements were sent out after to all others. Wedding presents are arriving every day from her many friends throughout the country. Since my daughter will be gone for at least six months, would it be proper for me to open the presents and thank the givers for her, or just how should this be handled?"

In order to avoid writing two letters, you should open the presents and send a description of each to your daughter who could then write brief but appreciative thanks from where she is, saying: "Mother has described the lovely (whatever it is) you sent me. I do thank you for it, and am eagerly looking forward to seeing it when I get home."

Husband Must Be Included

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been asked to be a bridesmaid at a friend's wedding. So far nothing has been said to me about my husband coming to the wedding breakfast following the ceremony. Is there anything I can say to the bride about this?

Answer: It is entirely proper to say to the bride, "I am taking it for granted that John is invited to the breakfast." It is almost certain that her answer will be "of course!" In fact, it would be unimaginable to leave him out.

Second Page for Typewriting

Dear Mrs. Post: When a single fold of letter paper is used, may it be written on both sides, or is only one side supposed to be used?

Answer: Use of both sides is not impossible for a handwritten letter; typewritten ones, on the other hand, should never cover both sides.

Legally Correct

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible to give an adopted son the husband's full name, using Junior?

Answer: Since he is his legal son, this will be entirely proper.

Where should the reception for friends be held after the christening? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-36 includes details on the ceremony, the reception and choosing godparents. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Marlborough Plans Defense Meeting

The Town of Marlborough will hold a civil defense meeting at 8 p. m. Monday, April 21 at the Marlborough Central school auditorium, it was announced today by Mrs. Fred C. Woolsey, president of the Marlborough public health nursing committee, which is sponsoring the event.

Mrs. Woolsey announced that Stanley Sutton, director of civilian defense in the township of Marlborough, Dr. Robert H. Broad, commissioner of health, Ulster county health department, and Allan L. Hanstein, director of the Ulster county civil defense program, would participate in the program.

The film, Survival Under Atomic Attack, will be shown and refreshments will be served following the meeting.

There will be an opportunity at the meeting to sign up for the Self-Help Neighbor Help course in civil defense. Ulster county is prepared through this course to train its citizens to help save their own lives, their families' and their neighbors' in the event of atomic disaster. In the event of an atomic attack or even of a household emergency, many lives will be saved and much suffering prevented if each adult knows what to do and what not to do during the first critical minutes after disaster strikes.

In discussing the course, Mrs. Woolsey said, "It is the objective of the course to provide every person in Ulster county of high school age and upwards, with an opportunity to acquire the knowledge and skills that will enable him to care for himself, his family and his neighbors, during the period before medical help arrives."

Marines Meet Tonight

A regular meeting of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, is to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Delaware avenue. All members are urged to attend.

Newburgh Man Injured as Auto Crashes Into Tree

Roy Henry Weygant, 26, of Newburgh was injured at 5:25 p. m. Wednesday when the automobile he was driving crashed into an apple tree along Route 9W two miles south of the Highland traffic circle, state police reported.

Weygant was taken by ambulance to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie, where his condition today was reported as "fair." Troopers listed his injuries as a possible skull fracture, possible fracture of the left leg, lacerations and contusions to the face, head and ears.

Troopers, unable to question Weygant because of his injuries, were unable to determine from which direction he had been traveling when the accident occurred. Weygant apparently was alone in the automobile, an old model, which was considerably damaged. Weygant's street address was also unknown to troopers, although they learned he at one time had resided at 309 Water street, Newburgh.

An acre of ground contains 43,560 square feet.

By SHIRLEY SWAIN

Appointments Are Made by Board

New Paltz, April 9—Members of the village board, at the annual board meeting Monday night, slated the public budget hearing for April 29, at 7 p. m., in the municipal building, New Paltz. A final budget for the village for the coming year will be passed on at that time.

Village officers and board committee members were appointed at the meeting. Appointments include Frank Slack, village treasurer; Wilbur Fredenburgh, clerk; David Corwin, attorney; Marion Sheeley, police officer; Irving Milham, superintendent of public works; Albert Sutherland, assistant superintendent of public works; Isaac Pole, fire chief; Ernest Ahlberg and David Jewett, first and second assistants and Kenneth Hasbrouck, village historian.

Committees Named

The following committees were set up by Mayor Robert Reid with membership comprised of board members: Roland Will, chairman; Gregory Rheude, water and building code; George Ackert, chairman; Henry DuBois, sewer and storm sewer and the charge of the municipal building and grounds; Gregory Rheude, chairman; George Ackert, light and police; Henry DuBois, chairman; Roland Will, street and dump; Henry DuBois, chairman and Gregory Rheude, finance.

The Huguenot National Bank was designated as the official bank and the New Paltz Independent as the official newspaper.

The board also passed on the adoption of daylight saving time for 1952. It will go into effect at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 27, and will be continued until 2 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 28.

George Ackert reported a total of 10 fires in the village and 10 fires in the township for the past year, up to March 27.

Sewing Planned

New Paltz, April 9—Members of the Dutch Guild of the Reformed Church will sew for the Church World Services committee at their meeting Thursday at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Roland Will. Mrs. Harold Lent will lead the devotions. All members are urged to bring thimbles, scissors and white thread. The Dutch Guild will dispense with its regular evening meeting this month. Members will serve the Easter Sunday breakfast in the church for children at 8:30 a. m., April 13. Mrs. John Jacobson is in charge of the breakfast.

Books Available

New Paltz, April 9—Books of special interest and help to parents have been placed in the Parent's Corner in the social room of the campus school. Parents are invited to look over the books and sign for any they may wish to borrow.

Some of the books displayed include: Your Best Friends Are Your Children, Training for Parenthood, The Psychology of the Exceptional Child, The Child from Five to Ten, New Ways in Discipline, Your Child and Other Children, Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence and The Adolescent.

Schools to Close

New Paltz, April 9—New Paltz schools have announced details of the Easter vacation period which will begin this week.

The New Paltz Central High School and the Campus school closed and will reopen Monday, April 21.

St. Joseph's Parochial School will close Thursday, April 11, and will reopen Monday, April 21.

S. Marines, Hart; Booker T. Washington, Dolly Madison, Amelia Earhart, and Kit Carson of the Childhood of America Series by Stevenson.

Members Worship In Refurbished Reformed Church

New Paltz, April 9—After three months of attending services in the social rooms under increasingly crowded conditions, the congregation of the New Paltz Reformed Church worshipped in the beautifully renovated church proper Palm Sunday.

Formal rededication will take place at the regular Sunday service, April 27, according to the Rev. Gerret J. Wullschleger.

An open chancel has been installed and a new colonial style pulpit and lectern have been added. Elder's seats have been placed behind a new communion table, while choir and clergy seats face each other across the sanctuary.

Four massive doric columns on the west wall carry out the neoclassical motif of the outside porch to the interior, the identifying feature in Georgian colonial architecture when the Reformed Church was built in 1839. Between center columns is a velvet dossal decorated with fleur-de-lis, symbols of France. On the frieze, above these columns, are two shields: the coat of arms of William of Orange, symbol of the Reformed Church, and the Huguenot Cross, symbol of the Huguenots.

The entire background of columns and entablature is the creation and design of the architect, Bernard Guenther, of Brown and Guenther of New York, who has personally supervised the entire renovation.

The nave, bacony and upper and lower narthex have been redecorated in colonial colors of the period. Carpet has been laid over the entire nave. In certain areas, new lighting with a dimmer has been installed.

New hymnals, Christian Worship, were used at the Palm Sunday service for the first time.

Equipment Auction Slated at Ruzzo's

An auction of equipment owned by the Brunswick Balke Collender Co. Inc., at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium will precede that of the bowling alley property, it was learned today.

The auction of various bowling equipment is scheduled to be held at the bowlatorium April 18 at 9 a. m., and the company claims the amount due is $58,498.17.

The auction sale of the property is scheduled to be held at the court house April 21 at noon. The property has been in receivership for some time.

Paul Herring Remains In Critical Condition

The condition of Paul Herring, 35, of Highland, was reported as "critical" at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie this morning.

Herring was admitted to the hospital on March 28 when he was severely burned when a gasoline tank exploded as he was cutting up old automobiles with an acetylene torch at Gersh's Auto Parts in Highland, according to a state police report of that date. He had shown some improvement since his admission, and for several days his condition was reported as "fair."

Corinne would make a good wife and mother—come to think of it she'd make a good husband too.

An old woman looked out of a train window and hailed a small boy.

Small Boy—Yes, Ma'am.

Old Woman—Go to Sunday school?

Small Boy—Yes Ma'am.

Old Woman—Then I think I can trust you. Run with this nickel and get me a cinnamon bun, and, remember the angel see you.

There are two reasons why some people don't mind their own business. One is that they haven't any mind, the other that they haven't any business.

Sandy McCuen—Do you know what happens to boys who tell lies?

Junior—Yes, they travel for half fare.

City Chap (to farmer as they crossed a pasture)—Say, there, is this bull safe?

Farmer—Well, I reckn he's a lot safer than you are just now.

He—We go away for our holidays every third year.

Friend—What do you do the other years?

He—The first one we talk of last year's holiday, and the next year we discuss plans for the following year.

Americans must make the choice between tightening their belts or running the risk of losing their pants.

Doctor—And what was the least you ever weighed?

Patient—Eight and one fourth pounds.

The best way to get behind the eight ball is to pick up the wrong cue.

Schoolmaster—Did any of you ever see an elephant's skin?

Six-Year-Old—I have!

Schoolmaster—Where?

Six-Year-Old—On the elephant!

Modern girls would rather be well-formed than well-informed.

Until the 19th Century most people believed that migrating birds hibernated during winter months.

Jack—Are you stupid or am I crazy?

Mack—Right the second time.

At one time, hunting down and killing gypsies was a "legal sport" on the European continent.

Gives SPCA Talk At High School

Woodstock, April 10 — Mrs. George Berk, of this village, spoke at Kingston High School Monday morning on the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals drive for memberships, as well as the society's efforts to sell cement building blocks for the construction of the SPCA animal shelter on the property recently acquired by the association. Mrs. Berk talked to members of the Dog Lovers' Club of the high school whose members are dedicated to the promotion of better understanding of the care of dogs particularly, and pets in general. The members also seek to aid others in the care and handling of dogs, and are endeavoring to increase community interest in dogs and their welfare.

Mrs. Berk announced that there will be a second annual dog show, Saturday, May 3, on the grounds of Dr. Gilbert F. Hoppenstedt's property, on Route 32, Rosendale road, at 2 p. m. Admission will be free and refreshments will be available. The dog show will be held in cooperation with the SPCA.

The Kingston High School Dog Lover's Club was originated by Leo J. Doheny, who is an instructor in general education and social studies. Officers of the club are Patricia Zimmerman, president; Nadya Spassnko, vice-president; Rollin Spinner, secretary, and Shirley Albright, treasurer. Miss Joanne Lee, of Woodstock, has accepted the post of captain of the Kingston High School drive for the SPCA, and Miss Patricia Zimmerman is co-captain. Students at the high school from the surrounding towns have been authorized to solicit memberships and to sell the building blocks for the SPCA shelter.

Members of the Dog Lover's Club expressed enthusiasm for the projects proposed by Mrs. Berk who was invited to return and speak again for the group on May 5.

Resolution Is Passed To Pay Repair Bills

Woodstock, April 10— At the Town Board meeting Monday night a resolution was passed to raise $12,000 for the Woodstock highway fund to pay bills left by the outgoing superintendent of highways, and to repair damages done by last year's floods, and to reconstruct docking and work along the township streams.

It was announced that David Myer has been certified as a water purification plant operator. His qualifications meet those prescribed for grade 3, under regulation 41-A, Chapter 11, of the State Sanitary Code.

A letter will be sent to residents of the water district who are not consumers, but have deposited $4 on a meter. They will be obliged to hook up with the water system within 30 days after the receipt of the letter from the water district, or their deposit will be refunded. Should they elect to become consumers at a later date, the meter charge will be $25.

Reservations Open For New York Trip

Woodstock, April 10—Now is the time, according to Mrs. Albert Montgomery, to make reservations for the bus trip which is being planned to go to New York, Tuesday, April 29. The trip is being arranged in order that Woodstockers may attend the circus, Radio City Music Hall or any other event.

The profits from the bus trip will be donated to the Lydian Society of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Since the bus trip to New York in March, arranged by the Home Bureau, was so successful and another was requested by many residents, Mrs. Montgomery said this trip had been planned to accommodate villagers. Further details may be obtained by calling Mrs. Montgomery at Woodstock 2020.

Comment Given On Trip Abroad

Woodstock, April 10—Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch returned to their home here Friday from Clearwater, Fla., where they spent the latter part of the winter. Before going to Clearwater in December, where Blanch is associated with the Art Center there, they had returned from a several months' trip to North Africa, where Doris Lee made sketches for a series of paintings from Tunis to Tangiers, which she is now in the process of completing for fall publication in Life magazine.

"We only touched on the fringes of the trouble in North Africa while we were there," Blanch reported. Representatives of the French government met them upon their arrival in North Africa and gave them a car and chauffeur. Each Arabic town has a French and Arabic control and, in the course of their journey, the French sent them to the pasha, or mayor of each village they visited. They journeyed through deserts, oases and towns in search of material for Doris Lee's paintings.

While in Paris and Italy, Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch saw many Woodstockers including Howard Mandel and a number of former students of the Art Students League. In Perugia, Italy, they visited with Jenne Magafan and Edward Chavez, and on the return trip aboard the S.S. Constitution they met George and Christine Martin, former Woodstockers.

On Thursday Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch will go to Mt. Holyoke College to attend a reception in honor of the opening of an exhibition of Miss Lee's paintings there.

Feinberg Twins Are Scheduled in Show

Woodstock, April 10 — Sam Schwartz, of the Town House, has announced that one of the highlights of the summer series of exhibitions of paintings there, will be a show by the Feinberg twins, who are the advertising artists for Best and Company's Lilliputian Bazaar, and also consultants for Buttrick Patterns to be on view from July 11 to July 25.

Identical twins, the two young artists frequently paint on the same canvas, or they may each work individually. The paintings to be shown, painted both singly and in collaboration promise a unique experience for visitors to the Town House gallery.

Other Woodstock artists scheduled for exhibitions are Harry Froot and Grace Greenwood. This year will mark the seventh season of art exhibitions at the Town House, arranged by Sam Schwartz.

Speaks of Reaction

Woodstock, April 10—Mrs. William Shirey, wife of Capt. Shirey who has been a prisoner of war in North Korea since a year ago last February, has received a letter from her husband in which he spoke of receiving the clipping from The Freeman concerning the reaction of his family last December when he was reported as one of the prisoners on the exchange list. In The Freeman story, December 20, there was included a joyous picture of Mrs. Shirey and her two daughters, Elizabeth, aged three, and Katherine, one, registering spontaneous happiness over the news of Capt. Shirey's well-being.

Folklore Meeting Planned May 5

Woodstock, April 10 — During the regular business meeting of the Woodstock Unit of the Home Bureau Tuesday afternoon at the American Legion Hall, it was announced that the annual folklore meeting, with Miss Neva Shultis as chairman, will be held Monday, May 5, at the Woodstock Library at 8 p. m. Harry Rigby, of Kingston, will speak on the history of folklore in the Hudson valley.

Miss Maude Shelton and Mrs. Emily Harrington were selected as leaders for future lessons in smocking. The next lesson in sewing screens will be held April 15, at 10 a. m. at the Legion Hall. The first lesson in decorative stitching will be on April 25, at 10 a. m. at the Legion Hall. Miss Therese Kessel and Mrs. Blanch Hecht are leaders for this group.

Exhibits of work completed during all the various project sessions by members of the Woodstock Unit, will be on display in the windows of the Woodstock Dairies from April 30 to May 5.

The meeting was largely attended and refreshments were served by Mrs. Isabel Lowden and Miss Anna Carolan.

Village Notes

Woodstock, April 10 — Billy Waterous celebrated his 11th birthday Saturday night by taking a group of friends to New York to see a basketball game at Madison Square Garden.

Allen Waterous and his three sons, Bill, Herbie and Allen left for Florida Tuesday with Mary Tripicco and Jack Gosman. The group plans to stay with Mrs. Allen Waterous at their home in St. Petersburg, for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant B. Elwyn spent last weekend in Oneida with Mrs. Elwyn's sister, Mrs. W. W. Ingalsbe.

Frank Meyer has returned to his home on Ohayo Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zaidenberg arrived at their home here Monday after a trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tregnier went to New York today to meet her husband who is returning from Africa where he has been for six months.

Mrs. Robert Phelps left today for New York for a short visit.

Mrs. Adam Moncure has returned after spending the weekend in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kroll spent the weekend at their Byrdcliffe home.

Cleaning Porcelain

To polish porcelain and to clean enameled iron sinks and lavatories, a whiting soap paste made by mixing four parts of whiting with one part of soap jelly is satisfactory. To make soap jelly, dissolve 1 part of mild soap flakes in 5 parts of hot water.

Board Comes in Colors

Insulating board in sheets, planks and tileboards is available with one side pre-decorated for interior finishing of walls and ceilings. A choice of attractive colors is offered. If a change in color is desired later, the surface can be painted.

Remove the Remover

When paint-and-varnish remover has been used on a surface to remove the old coating entirely, the surface must then be cleaned thoroughly with turpentine, mineral spirits or wax-remover and subsequently treated as a previously uncoated surface.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

A regular meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, JOUAM, will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. A social hour with refreshments will follow. All members are requested to attend.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 10 (AP)—Railroad stocks and oil issues gained round on the stock market today but otherwise the list was a fairly even mixture of advances and declines.

Steel showed small gains midway through the session after spending most of the morning on the losing side.

Activity was slow and traders were cautious in the face of the steel industry's sharply-worded battle against government seizure of its mills.

In addition the market had the traditional pre-Easter religious holiday quiet to contend with.

Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown were ahead small fraction as most of the big steel producers prepared to resume production.

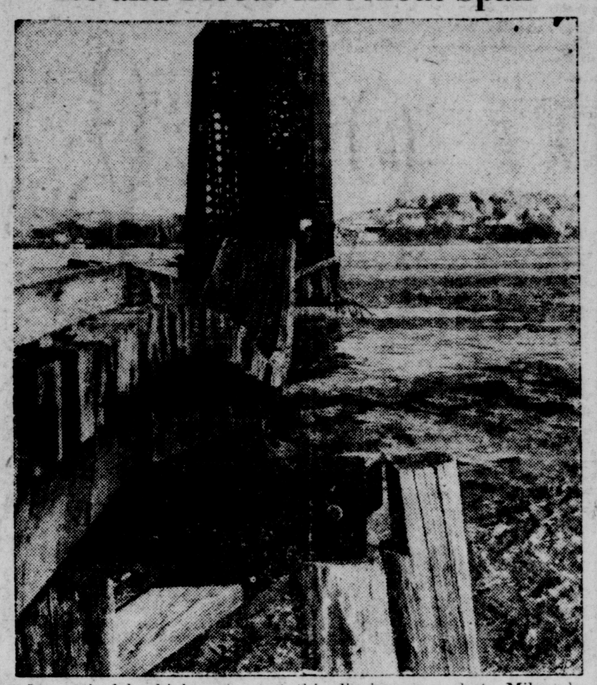
Car Showered

The automobile of Fire Commissioner Charles Derrenbacher was splattered with an unusual April shower today. This one came from the spray and splash of cases of Coca Cola when they fell from a truck on the left front fender of the car as it was parked on Broadway near the Freeman building. The spill caused a dented fender and many bottles were broken.

Ice and Floods Knockout Span



Ice pushed by high water put this dip in approach to Milwaukee Road's rail bridge at Chamberlain, S. D., giving span a roller coaster appearance. Bridge spans the rampaging Missouri river. Floating ice ripped out piling that supported approach. Break halted rail traffic between Mitchell and Rapid City, S. D. (AP Wirephoto).

LAST YEAR'S HAT, MY DEAR?—Katy and Betty Weaver, twins, are only 11-months-old, but the young Miami girls display all the hauteur of two Park Avenue debutantes as they eye each other's Easter bonnets. Give them a couple of bouncing baby boys from down the street, and a four-passenger baby carriage, and they'll be all ready for the Easter parade.

Spiritual Security for Today's Families is the theme for this year's May Fellowship day observance of the Highland Council of Church Women. This is one of the special days of the general department of United Church Women which is a part of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA. The local May Fellowship day service will be held May 1 in the Presbyterian church hall. The topic for the meeting will be of great interest to all women in the community, and the meeting will be open to everyone.

Josiah W. Schoonmaker and his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Holland, and son, returned Saturday from California. Mrs. Holland has joined her husband in White Plains where he is in business.

Phone 'Installers'

operators and other employes in Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey and northern California, were out on strike. Their walkout began four days ago.

But other Bell Telephone System employes became idle after the Western Electric strikers, with members in 43 states, began picketing on orders of Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA).

It was reported that the union planned to strike at three North Carolina Western Electric plants engaged in producing U. S. Air Force equipment. These plants are at Winston-Salem, Burlington and Greensboro.

Strike Orderly

On the whole the strike was orderly. Only two flareups were reported, and one of these was not directly related to the nationwide walkout.

In a disturbance in Fairmont, W. Va., last night, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. reported that "riotous mob, completely out of control," peppered the telephone building with rocks, stones and eggs.

The government pinned its main hopes for a settlement on negotiations in Detroit between the union and Michigan Bell. After meeting for a straight 22 hours, the session adjourned with both sides indicating progress in the talks.

The CWA is demanding pay boosts ranging from 19 to 23 cents an hour, along with changes in the pay rate structure and improved pensions. They now average about $1.53 an hour. The companies so far have offered a $4 to $7 weekly raise, or about 12½ cents an hour.

It was the first time in the nation's history there have been simultaneous telephone and telegraph strikes.

Shun Cynicism

something of American history and ideals, pointing out that historical pamphlets have been published and that a dramatic pageant is planned. He also advised the children to pay a visit to the Senate House and Museum, a trip which "will make you proud you live in the City of Kingston and in the State of New York."

In conclusion, he stated, "And so let this flag inspire you to study, knowledge and love of your governments—and may you all be patriots." The flag was accepted with appreciation by Principal Ambrose Boyd.

Gives SPCA Talk At High School

Woodstock, April 10 — Mrs. George Berk, of this village, spoke at Kingston High School Monday morning on the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals drive for memberships, as well as the society's efforts to sell cement building blocks for the construction of the SPCA animal shelter on the property recently acquired by the association. Mrs. Berk talked to members of the Dog Lovers' Club of the high school whose members are dedicated to the promotion of better understanding of the care of dogs particularly, and pets in general. The members also seek to aid others in the care and handling of dogs, and are endeavoring to increase community interest in dogs and their welfare.

Mrs. Berk announced that there will be a second annual dog show, Saturday, May 3, on the grounds of Dr. Gilbert F. Hoppenstedt's property, on Route 32, Rosendale road, at 2 p. m. Admission will be free and refreshments will be available. The dog show will be held in cooperation with the SPCA.

The Kingston High School Dog Lover's Club was originated by Leo J. Doheny, who is an instructor in general education and social studies. Officers of the club are Patricia Zimmerman, president; Nadya Spassnko, vice-president; Rollin Spinner, secretary, and Shirley Albright, treasurer. Miss Joanne Lee, of Woodstock, has accepted the post of captain of the Kingston High School drive for the SPCA, and Miss Patricia Zimmerman is co-captain. Students at the high school from the surrounding towns have been authorized to solicit memberships and to sell the building blocks for the SPCA shelter.

Members of the Dog Lover's Club expressed enthusiasm for the projects proposed by Mrs. Berk who was invited to return and speak again for the group on May 5.

Resolution Is Passed To Pay Repair Bills

Woodstock, April 10— At the Town Board meeting Monday night a resolution was passed to raise $12,000 for the Woodstock highway fund to pay bills left by the outgoing superintendent of highways, and to repair damages done by last year's floods, and to reconstruct docking and work along the township streams.

It was announced that David Myer has been certified as a water purification plant operator. His qualifications meet those prescribed for grade 3, under regulation 41-A, Chapter 11, of the State Sanitary Code.

A letter will be sent to residents of the water district who are not consumers, but have deposited $4 on a meter. They will be obliged to hook up with the water system within 30 days after the receipt of the letter from the water district, or their deposit will be refunded. Should they elect to become consumers at a later date, the meter charge will be $25.

Reservations Open For New York Trip

Woodstock, April 10—Now is the time, according to Mrs. Albert Montgomery, to make reservations for the bus trip which is being planned to go to New York, Tuesday, April 29. The trip is being arranged in order that Woodstockers may attend the circus, Radio City Music Hall or any other event.

The profits from the bus trip will be donated to the Lydian Society of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Since the bus trip to New York in March, arranged by the Home Bureau, was so successful and another was requested by many residents, Mrs. Montgomery said this trip had been planned to accommodate villagers. Further details may be obtained by calling Mrs. Montgomery at Woodstock 2020.

Comment Given On Trip Abroad

Woodstock, April 10—Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch returned to their home here Friday from Clearwater, Fla., where they spent the latter part of the winter. Before going to Clearwater in December, where Blanch is associated with the Art Center there, they had returned from a several months' trip to North Africa, where Doris Lee made sketches for a series of paintings from Tunis to Tangiers, which she is now in the process of completing for fall publication in Life magazine.

"We only touched on the fringes of the trouble in North Africa while we were there," Blanch reported. Representatives of the French government met them upon their arrival in North Africa and gave them a car and chauffeur. Each Arabic town has a French and Arabic control and, in the course of their journey, the French sent them to the pasha, or mayor of each village they visited. They journeyed through deserts, oases and towns in search of material for Doris Lee's paintings.

While in Paris and Italy, Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch saw many Woodstockers including Howard Mandel and a number of former students of the Art Students League. In Perugia, Italy, they visited with Jenne Magafan and Edward Chavez, and on the return trip aboard the S.S. Constitution they met George and Christine Martin, former Woodstockers.

On Thursday Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch will go to Mt. Holyoke College to attend a reception in honor of the opening of an exhibition of Miss Lee's paintings there.

Feinberg Twins Are Scheduled in Show

Woodstock, April 10 — Sam Schwartz, of the Town House, has announced that one of the highlights of the summer series of exhibitions of paintings there, will be a show by the Feinberg twins, who are the advertising artists for Best and Company's Liliputian Bazaar, and also consultants for Buttrick Patterns to be on view from July 11 to July 25.

Identical twins, the two young artists frequently paint on the same canvas, or they may each work individually. The paintings to be shown, painted both singly and in collaboration promise a unique experience for visitors to the Town House gallery.

Other Woodstock artists scheduled for exhibitions are Harry Froot and Grace Greenwood. This year will mark the seventh season of art exhibitions at the Town House, arranged by Sam Schwartz.

Speaks of Reaction

Woodstock, April 10—Mrs. William Shirey, wife of Capt. Shirey who has been a prisoner of war in North Korea since a year ago last February, has received a letter from her husband in which he spoke of receiving the clipping from The Freeman concerning the reaction of his family last December when he was reported as one of the prisoners on the exchange list. In The Freeman story, December 20, there was included a joyous picture of Mrs. Shirey and her two daughters, Elizabeth, aged three, and Katherine, one, registering spontaneous happiness over the news of Capt. Shirey's well-being.

Folklore Meeting Planned May 5

Woodstock, April 10 — During the regular business meeting of the Woodstock Unit of the Home Bureau Tuesday afternoon at the American Legion Hall, it was announced that the annual folklore meeting, with Miss Neva Shultis as chairman, will be held Monday, May 5, at the Woodstock Library at 8 p. m. Harry Rigby, of Kingston, will speak on the history of folklore in the Hudson valley.

Miss Maude Shelton and Mrs. Emily Harrington were selected as leaders for future lessons in smocking. The next lesson in sewing screens will be held April 15, at 10 a. m. at the Legion Hall. The first lesson in decorative stitching will be on April 25, at 10 a. m. at the Legion Hall. Miss Therese Kessel and Mrs. Blanch Hecht are leaders for this group.

Exhibits of work completed during all the various project sessions by members of the Woodstock Unit, will be on display in the windows of the Woodstock Dairies from April 30 to May 5.

The meeting was largely attended and refreshments were served by Mrs. Isabel Lowden and Miss Anna Carolan.

Village Notes

Woodstock, April 10 — Billy Waterous celebrated his 11th birthday Saturday night by taking a group of friends to New York to see a basketball game at Madison Square Garden.

Allen Waterous and his three sons, Bill, Herbie and Allen left for Florida Tuesday with Mary Tripicco and Jack Gosman. The group plans to stay with Mrs. Allen Waterous at their home in St. Petersburg, for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant B. Elwyn spent last weekend in Oneida with Mrs. Elwyn's sister, Mrs. W. W. Ingalsbe.

Frank Meyer has returned to his home on Ohayo Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zaidenberg arrived at their home here Monday after a trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tregnier went to New York today to meet her husband who is returning from Africa where he has been for six months.

Mrs. Robert Phelps left today for New York for a short visit.

Mrs. Adam Moncure has returned after spending the weekend in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kroll spent the weekend at their Byrdcliffe home.

Cleaning Porcelain

To polish porcelain and to clean enameled iron sinks and lavatories, a whiting soap paste made by mixing four parts of whiting with one part of soap jelly is satisfactory. To make soap jelly, dissolve 1 part of mild soap flakes in 5 parts of hot water.

Board Comes in Colors

Insulating board in sheets, planks and tileboards is available with one side pre-decorated for interior finishing of walls and ceilings. A choice of attractive colors is offered. If a change in color is desired later, the surface can be painted.

Remove the Remover

When paint-and-varnish remover has been used on a surface to remove the old coating entirely, the surface must then be cleaned thoroughly with turpentine, mineral spirits or wax-remover and subsequently treated as a previously uncoated surface.

The Joiners

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

A regular meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, JOUAM, will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. A social hour with refreshments will follow. All members are requested to attend.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 10 (AP)—Railroad stocks and oil issues gained round on the stock market today but otherwise the list was a fairly even mixture of advances and declines.

Steel showed small gains midway through the session after spending most of the morning on the losing side.

Activity was slow and traders were cautious in the face of the steel industry's sharply-worded battle against government seizure of its mills.

In addition the market had the traditional pre-Easter religious holiday quiet to contend with.

Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown were ahead small fraction as most of the big steel producers prepared to resume production.

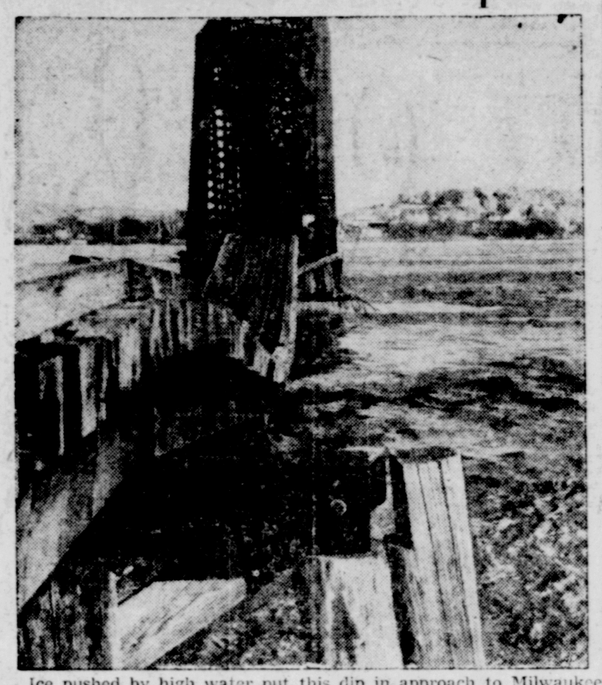
Car Showered

The automobile of Fire Commissioner Charles Derrenbacher was splattered with an unusual April shower today. This one came from the spray and splash of cases of Coca Cola when they fell from a truck on the left front fender of the car as it was parked on Broadway near the Freeman building. The spill caused a dented fender and many bottles were broken.

Ice and Floods Knockout Span



Ice pushed by high water put this dip in approach to Milwaukee Road's rail bridge at Chamberlain, S. D., giving span a roller coaster appearance. Bridge spans the rampaging Missouri river. Floating ice ripped out piling that supported approach. Break halted rail traffic between Mitchell and Rapid City, S. D. (AP Wirephoto).

This is one of the special days of the general department of United Church Women which is a part of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA. The local May Fellowship day service will be held May 1 in the Presbyterian church hall. The topic for the meeting will be of great interest to all women in the community, and the meeting will be open to everyone.

Phone 'Installers'

operators and other employes in Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey and northern California, were out on strike. Their walkout began four days ago.

But other Bell Telephone System employes became idle after the Western Electric strikers, with members in 43 states, began picketing on orders of Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA).

It was reported that the union planned to strike at three North Carolina Western Electric plants engaged in producing U. S. Air Force equipment. These plants are at Winston-Salem, Burlington and Greensboro.

Strike Orderly

On the whole the strike was orderly. Only two flareups were reported, and one of these was not directly related to the nationwide walkout.

In a disturbance in Fairmont, W. Va., last night, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. reported that "riotous mob, completely out of control," peppered the telephone building with rocks, stones and eggs.

The government pinned its main hopes for a settlement on negotiations in Detroit between the union and Michigan Bell. After meeting for a straight 22 hours, the session adjourned with both sides indicating progress in the talks.

The CWA is demanding pay boosts ranging from 19 to 23 cents an hour, along with changes in the pay rate structure and improved pensions. They now average about $1.53 an hour. The companies so far have offered a $4 to $7 weekly raise, or about 12½ cents an hour.

It was the first time in the nation's history there have been simultaneous telephone and telegraph strikes.

something of American history and ideals, pointing out that historical pamphlets have been published and that a dramatic pageant is planned. He also advised the children to pay a visit to the Senate House and Museum, a trip which "will make you proud you live in the City of Kingston and in the State of New York."

In conclusion, he stated, "And so let this flag inspire you to study, knowledge and love of your governments—and may you all be patriots." The flag was accepted with appreciation by Principal Ambrose Boyd.

Bixby Talks on Expressways at Rotary Luncheon

James S. Bixby, division engineer of the State Department of Public Works, speaking on the subject of Expressways at the Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday declared that almost every state in the union now is contemplating the construction of Thruways or Expressways and that the network of these through roads will eventually mean that motorists will be able to travel great distances in record time.

The popularity of these toll express highways is increasing as they are being demanded by the people who no longer want to travel eight to 10 hours through cities on a journey of less than 400 miles, the speaker stated. It was his opinion that as the bonds are paid off the tolls would be reduced in a manner similar to the experiences of the bridge authorities.

Completion of the entire route of the New York State Thruway from New York city to Buffalo would be completed in 1954, he said.

In the immediate vicinity of Kingston, he asserted that there will be exit-entrances to the Thruway at the north end of Kingston and at the intersection of Onteora Trail, Route 28. On the stretch from Kingston to Newburgh, there will be an exit-entrance at New Paltz. The number of toll entrances are limited, he said, because of the cost of operation and maintenance.

The flood conditions at the point of interchange of Route 28 and the Thruway are being taken into consideration by the engineers, who have made plans tentatively for the relocation of the Esopus Creek.

On the question of accidents and speed on the superhighways, the district engineer cited a number of instances to show that parked or slowly moving trucks on the highways figured in most of the crashes.

Although the designers of the Expressways are cognizant of the fact that highway safety ultimately is in the hands of the man behind the wheel, they have incorporated every known engineering principle of safety together with safety devices. And with these precautions, he told how a safety rail figured in an accident.

In answer to questions, he said that the Broadway crossing underpass should be ready for use on Memorial Day. The entire completion with landscaping was expected in August.

There was an unusually large attendance of members and guests present at the luncheon.

Fish on Toast

Cook fish fillets in a little butter or margarine, then serve on toast with a rich mushroom cream sauce. Garnish with minced parsley and strips of canned pimiento.

EVEN THE CRUST IS HEAVY—Take 4,960 egg yolks, add 330 cups of flour and 660 cup of lemon juice. Mix thoroughly, bake in king-size oven and you have the world's largest lemon pie, weighing a mere 1816 pounds. A fork lift truck was used to lift each piece from the pie pan at the recent Orange Show at San Bernardino, Cal., where the delicacy was baked.

House Takes Recess

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Many House members headed home today for a 12-day Easter recess, eager to tell constituents how they cut more than six billion dollars from President Truman's appropriation requests. Immediately after slashing $4,713,845,218 from the $50,900,000,000 military bill and cutting defense spending next year by a total of 6½ billion, the House late yesterday voted to take an Easter holiday. After today's no-business session, the House will have no more business meetings until April 22. The Senate has no definite holiday plans, but there's an understanding that no business will be transacted until next Wednesday.

King Is Cleared

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Congressional colleagues have formally cleared Rep. King (D-Calif.) of improperly intervening in tax cases. Rumors had circulated that King, chairman of a subcommittee investigating tax scandals, had taken an improper interest in cases involving taxpayers at Long Beach, Calif. King himself ordered an investigation into the reports.

About 16 to 20 per cent of U. S. production goes into capital goods.

Saved by Police

New York, April 10 (AP)—Mario Perri, 24, of 57 Highland avenue, New Rochelle, was seriously injured early today when his car overturned on the Hutchinson River Parkway near the New York city line and burst into flames. Policemen in a cruising radio car saw Perri's car overturn, roll down an embankment and catch fire. Their quick action probably saved his life.

There was an unusually large attendance of members and guests present at the luncheon.

Fish on Toast

Cook fish fillets in a little butter or margarine, then serve on toast with a rich mushroom cream sauce. Garnish with minced parsley and strips of canned pimento.

EVEN THE CRUST IS HEAVY—Take 4,960 egg yolks, add 330 cups of flour and 660 cup of lemon juice. Mix thoroughly, bake in king-size oven and you have the world's largest lemon pie, weighing a mere 1816 pounds. A fork lift truck was used to lift each piece from the pie pan at the recent Orange Show at San Bernardino, Cal., where the delicacy was baked.

House Takes Recess

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Many House members headed home today for a 12-day Easter recess, eager to tell constituents how they cut more than six billion dollars from President Truman's appropriation requests. Immediately after slashing $4,713,845,218 from the $50,900,000,000 military bill and cutting defense spending next year by a total of 6½ billion, the House late yesterday voted to take an Easter holiday. After today's no-business session, the House will have no more business meetings until April 22. The Senate has no definite holiday plans, but there's an understanding that no business will be transacted until next Wednesday.

King Is Cleared

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Congressional colleagues have formally cleared Rep. King (D-Calif.) of improperly intervening in tax cases. Rumors had circulated that King, chairman of a subcommittee investigating tax scandals, had taken an improper interest in cases involving taxpayers at Long Beach, Calif. King himself ordered an investigation into the reports.

About 16 to 20 per cent of U. S. production goes into capital goods.

Saved by Police

New York, April 10 (AP)—Mario Perri, 24, of 57 Highland avenue, New Rochelle, was seriously injured early today when his car overturned on the Hutchinson River Parkway near the New York city line and burst into flames. Policemen in a cruising radio car saw Perri's car overturn, roll down an embankment and catch fire. Their quick action probably saved his life.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Only A&P Offers "Super-Right" Fully-Cooked Hams, Cut to Give You

6 Wonderful Ways to Buy Your Easter Ham!

Weather you want a whole ham for a banquet, a half or portion for a family feast or some choice center slices for breakfast on Easter — you can buy A&P's "Super-Right" ham the way you want it. You can save time and work, too, because these famous hams are fully cooked—ready to eat.

What's more, each "Super-Right" half-ham includes your full share of the choice center slices. A&P suggests that you buy a half-ham and have this choice center meat sliced or cut into ham steaks for use at another meal. Instead of costing you $1.05 a pound, the center portion will cost you only 65c a pound with a butt half and 55c a pound with a shank half. Or buy a whole ham at 59c a pound and save 46c a pound on the center slices.

Here's a New Idea For Your Easter Ham . . .

Crush two cans of Ocean Spray Jellied Cranberry Sauce with fork . . . then mix with one cup of brown sugar. Spread over ham during last hour of baking. Baste occasionally.

Highland, April 9—Mrs. Edgar Boyce was installed as corresponding secretary of North River Presbyterial at the meeting Wednesday in Marlborough. The local church is represented by Mrs. Rathgeb, who holds the office of president and Mrs. Boyce. Mrs. Andrew W. Lent was chairman of the nominating committee. The installation service was conducted by Mrs. H. Howard Black, Wappingers Falls. The fall meeting of Presbyterial will be held in Amenia.

The Clintondale 4H Club is preparing to present a minstrel show in the Grange Hall April 23 at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barrett, Milford, Conn., spent the weekend with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett were Friday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Cornell, Mrs. Bennett is the former Mrs. Herbert Scholefield and they were enroute to their home in Indian Lake after spending the winter in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Champlin returned Saturday after two months in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Terpening left Friday for their new home near Schroon Lake.

Mrs. Harry Thorne and Miss Martha Benesh were in New York Friday called by the illness of Philip, the son of Mrs. Thorne. He was attending school in the city when taken sick and is a patient in St. Luke's Hospital.

New members received Sunday in the Methodist Church by letter were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, Mrs. Emily Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. William Batchelor, Mrs. LeGrand Haviland, Jr., and by confession of faith Mrs. Howard Perkins, Mrs. Lucy Galach, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dunham.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard, Glens Falls spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Lent.

Dr. and Mrs. Victor Salvatore are home after vacationing in Bradenton, Fla.

Mrs. William A. Coy spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Root in Middletown. Mr. and Mrs. Foster A. Root and daughter have recently moved there from Binghamton.

Observing the 56th birthday of the UD Society 20 members accepted the invitation of the president, Mrs. Elsie Randall and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Breed, to their home in Poughkeepsie, for Friday afternoon. Presiding at the tea table was Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail, and for coffee Mrs. G. Hallock Mackey. The table was decorated with spring flowers and a birthday cake with candles. Attending were Mrs. Mackey, Mrs. Vail, Mrs. Franklin Welker, Mrs. Fred Wilklow, Mrs. Philip Wilklow, Mrs. S. D. Farnham, Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mrs. Nathan Williams, Mrs. Joseph Mellor, Mrs. Rose Seaman, Mrs. George F. DuBois, Mrs. W. B. Taber, Mrs. Howard E. Wilcox, the Misses Rowena Harcourt, Laura Harcourt, Belle Brinckerhoff, Mrs. Alfred Lane, Mrs. A. Jerome Pratt, Mrs. A. H. Starr and the hostess. The society organized April 4, 1896 at the home of Mrs. John Coe, Grand street, still has living of the charter members, Mrs. Mackey, Mrs. Vail, Miss Eliza Raymond and Mrs. Starr as active members, also Mrs. Dora R. Haight, Round Lake and Mrs. Maggie Hasbrouck Hayden, who was the one to suggest the society patterned after one in New Paltz of which she had been a member. The society continues to have a membership of 25 and for the past few years have had as a project the knitting of afghans, the majority of them going to veterans at Castle Point. Organized with no special aim they soon found they could contribute to some civic needs and started by raising money for suits for the firemen, then started the laying of sidewalks with proceeds from minstrel shows. Soon voluntary contributions were received so that the walks have added materially to the appearance of the village.

Pamela Dykstra, 7, Thought Juliana Was 'Very Pretty'

What was Pamela Dale Dykstra thinking when she presented Queen Juliana with a bouquet of roses?

"I was thinking she was very pretty," the blue-eyed seven-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Dean Dykstra, confided today as she ate her lunch and prepared to hurry back to the George Washington School.

What did she say when she presented Her Majesty with the flowers?

"Your Majesty, we are very glad to have you in Kingston with us today," the brown-haired grandniece of the Baroness Von Dadem Kleijin of Zwolle, The Netherlands, replied, measuring her words carefully.

Shook Hands With Her

And what did the Queen say to her? Pam smiled deliciously. "She said, 'Thank you very much'."

Asked if the Queen had shaken hands with her Pam, a pupil in the third grade, said that she couldn't remember — and why should she?

Mrs. Dykstra said that she believed the Queen had shaken hands with Pam—and this reporter can state definitely that she did. As Pam, wearing a charming little yellow pique dress with a big organdy collar, presented the roses, Juliana reached for her hand, which Pam had at her side. She reached several times before she was able to take Pamela's hand in her own.

Asked if she recognized Mrs. Roosevelt before she was introduced to her, Pam said, Yes, and went dashing into the next room to fetch a recent copy of Time magazine with a picture of Mrs. Roosevelt on the cover.

She had also met Mrs. Roosevelt's son, John, and her grandchildren—she wasn't sure of their names, but thought that the girl's name was Nina. Yes, she thought the boy looked like his father—and was very nice.

No, she wasn't very excited as she sat on the stage waiting for the queen to appear—well,, not terribly so.

Playing with a yo-yo in her hand, Pam asked if the reporter would like to see her charm bracelet, holding out her wrist. The bracelet a gift from Mrs. Stanley Matthews, inscribed Queen Juliana 1-5-52, with Pam's initials on the other side, was evidently a source of great pride to the young miss—and to her mother.

"I love it," Mrs. Dykstra said. "I hope she can keep it and someday Pam can give it to her little girl. It was a very thoughtful gift."

The front door bell rang. "Here comes Patsy," Pam exclaimed, and in came her young sister from nursery school, while John D., two years old, proceeded to push a chair across the kitchen floor.

I see you have blue eyes, the reporter remarked to Pamela.

"Yes," was the prompt reply, and then, confidentially, "You know, we all have blue eyes."

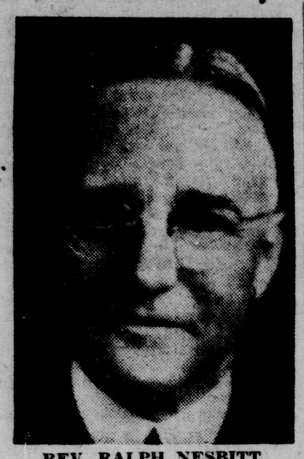
Preaches Friday



REV. RALPH NESBITT

The Rev. Ralph Beryl Nesbitt, one of the ministers of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York, will deliver the meditations during the annual three-hour Good Friday service from 12 o'clock until 3 p. m. at the Rondout Presbyterian and Wurts Street Baptist Church.

He recently concluded a series of Lenten sermons on the Christian Creed which were preached at the famous "Vespers at Fifth Avenue."

All members of the congregation and their friends are cordially invited to participate in this sacred memorial service, the Rev. Dr. William Carner Cain, pastor of the local church, announced today.

Proclamation

Good Friday

Whereas, Friday, April 11, 1952, is Good Friday, and

Whereas, people throughout the Christian nations of the world will gather in their houses of worship on this day to commemorate the death of Christ, and

Whereas, Christ's supreme sacrifice is ever present in our hearts and is a constant reminder to us that no greater love hath any man than this, that He laid down His life for us, and

Whereas, we must gird ourselves constantly with this truth in order to stand fast against the forces of paganism and godlessness which are so rampant throughout the world today,

Now, therefore, I, Oscar V. Newkirk, Mayor of the City of Kingston, would ask that the citizens of Kingston give emphasis to the great spiritual truth of this day, and would also ask that each and every one attend his House of God and pray that the message of Christ might become the cornerstone of our faith and living.

OSCAR V. NEWKIRK,
Mayor.

YMCA to Observe Quiet Period on Good Friday

There will be no activities at the YMCA from noon until 3 p. m. Good Friday. A quiet period, as in the past, will be observed at that time and all members are requested to attend their church services. There is no bowling league games during Easter Week but the schedule will be resumed Monday April 14 at 7 p. m.

Ninety different persons have volunteered their services as solicitors on the YMCA financial campaign opening April 24. General Chairman James Tobin is greatly encouraged by this response up to date as reported at the meeting urged to volunteer to swell the group on the general committee well over the hundred mark. The card system will be used by all workers. They will be ready for selection by April 18.

Rosendale Directory Will Cover Globe

The Town of Rosendale's annual folder will be a virtual township directory not only of resort houses but of all business establishments, it was announced at a recent meeting of the Rosendale Publicity Association.

It was agreed to print and distribute 17,000 of the folders which will go to all parts of the nation, to Canada, Mexico and other foreign nations.

The association also arranged to advertise the resort area in leading metropolitan newspapers, and it was announced that the recent amateur competition show for the Ted Mack radio and television programs was so successful that it will be repeated next year.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, April 10—The Port Ewen Library will be closed all day Friday in observance of Good Friday.

Largest bird known to man was the giant roc, or elephant bird, of Madagascar.

There are approximtely two birds to the acre in the United States.

Preaches Friday

REV. RALPH NESBITT

The Rev. Ralph Beryl Nesbitt, one of the ministers of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York, will deliver the meditations during the annual three-hour Good Friday service from 12 o'clock until 3 p. m. at the Rondout Presbyterian and Wurts Street Baptist Church.

He recently concluded a series of Lenten sermons on the Christian Creed which were preached at the famous "Vespers at Fifth Avenue."

All members of the congregation and their friends are cordially invited to participate in this sacred memorial service, the Rev. Dr. William Carner Cain, pastor of the local church, announced today.

Proclamation

Good Friday

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today issued the following proclamation asking spiritual observance of Good Friday:

Whereas, Friday, April 11, 1952, is Good Friday, and

Whereas, people throughout the Christian nations of the world will gather in their houses of worship on this day to commemorate the death of Christ, and

Whereas, Christ's supreme sacrifice is ever present in our hearts and is a constant reminder to us that no greater love hath any man than this, that He laid down His life for us, and

Whereas, we must gird ourselves constantly with this truth in order to stand fast against the forces of paganism and godlessness which are so rampant throughout the world today,

Now, therefore, I, Oscar V. Newkirk, Mayor of the City of Kingston, would ask that the citizens of Kingston give emphasis to the great spiritual truth of this day, and would also ask that each and every one attend his House of God and pray that the message of Christ might become the cornerstone of our faith and living.

OSCAR V. NEWKIRK,
Mayor.

YMCA to Observe Quiet Period on Good Friday

There will be no activities at the YMCA from noon until 3 p. m. Good Friday. A quiet period, as in the past, will be observed at that time and all members are requested to attend their church services. There is no bowling league games during Easter Week but the schedule will be resumed Monday April 14 at 7 p. m.

Ninety different persons have volunteered their services as solicitors on the YMCA financial campaign opening April 24. General Chairman James Tobin is greatly encouraged by this response up to date as reported at the meeting urged to volunteer to swell the group on the general committee well over the hundred mark. The card system will be used by all workers. They will be ready for selection by April 18.

Annual Kingston District Scout Rally April 15

Two hundred Cub Scouts, 250 Boy Scouts and 125 Explorers will assemble at the municipal auditorium Tuesday, April 15, for the annual Kingston district rally. For the first time, Cub Packs have been invited to participate. The floor events by the Cub Scouts will be of a demonstration nature rather than based on competition as the Scout events will be.

The rally will start with a parade at 7 p. m. from the Empire parking lot down Broadway to the auditorium. The drum and bugle corps of Troop 12 of the First Dutch Church will provide the marching tempo.

Promptly at 7:30 p. m., the opening ceremony will be conducted at the auditorium by a Cub Pack from Pack 26, Port Ewen, a Boy Scout from Troop 11, St. James Methodist Church, and an Explorer from Troop 3, St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. After the participants are seated the events will start and will include Save My Child Rescue (knot tying competition) to be run by Ralph Shapiro, Scoutmaster of Troop 12; a candle relay race, to be conducted by Jonathan Clark, Scoutmaster of Troop 8; Cub Scout demonstrations by Pack 3 of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Pack 7 of St. John's Episcopal Church and Pack 12 of First Dutch Reformed Church.

A first aid problem competition will be conducted by Richard Waltman, Scoutmaster of Troop 11; a Shoe Pile fun event will be run by Frank Mehm, Scoutmaster of Troop 14; another Cub Scout demonstration by Pack 13, P.T.A. No. 7 School, Pack 15, Church of the Comforter and Pack 26, P.T.A., Port Ewen. Morse signaling event will be conducted by David Badian, Scoutmaster of Troop 5; a fun Paul Revere relay will be handled by William Daum, Scoutmaster of Troop 9. The final event will be a fireman's carry rescue race, in charge of Sherwood Lasher, Scoutmaster of Troop 6.

First, second and third places in the rally will be acknowledged with appropriate ribbons to the troops earning them and all packs and troops will receive participation ribbons in the closing ceremony to be conducted by the Half Moon Lodge, Order of the Arrow, under the supervision of Robert C. Tremper, lodge advisor.

All parents and friends of Scouting are cordially invited and urged to attend to see this thrilling Scouting in Action show.

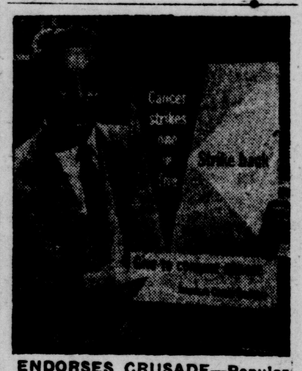
Public Welfare... Questions, Answers

In view of increasing public interest in public welfare matters, the Ulster County Children's Committee of the State Charities Aid Association, an independent citizens group, presents the following question and answer as part of its program of providing information on tax-supported welfare activities.

Why do some people who are able to support themselves get free medical care?

Many people can meet all their own essential needs until illness strikes. Then, if they cannot pay medical expenses and still pay for the necessities of living in accordance with welfare department standards, they may receive assistance for part or all of the medical costs.

(Additional questions about public welfare activities may be sent to the committee through Mrs. Albert E. Milliken, R.R. 3, Kingston. Mrs. Virgi DeWitt of New Paltz is chairman of the committee.)



ENDORSES CRUSADE—Popular Ezio Pinza, opera, stage and TV star, will be heard in radio appeals during the 1952 Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society. Here he displays the Crusade poster.

A BOY AT CALVARY — By Jay Heavilin and Walt Scott

Hammers rang out as Sakron reached the summit of Golgotha. Jesus and two thieves, Dismas and Gestas, condemned to die with Him, were being nailed to their crosses.

Dark was the sky and bright the blood that trickled from the pierced palms and feet of the three men as the crosses were pushed upright into gaping holes.

A sign above Jesus' head cast a shadow on three soldiers rattling dice for the garments of the "Messiah." Sakron made out the words: "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews."

Negress Gets Verdict

New York, April 10 (AP)—A Negro woman yesterday won $600 in judgments against the fashionable Hotel Pierre and other defendants for violation of the New York State Civil Rights Law. Mrs. Henry Moon, of (21-36 33rd Road) Long Island City, Queens, won a $200 judgment against each of three defendants: The Getty Realty Corp., owner of the hotel; William W. Willy, banquet manager, and Ferra Rama, assistant to Willy. Mrs. Moon, an official of the National Urban League Guild, said in her complaint that she reserved the Fifth avenue hotel's roof garden last May for a guild social affair July 20. When she appeared at the hotel personally to confirm the reservation, she said, she was told the roof garden was not available. Mrs. Moon testified that a white person then called at the hotel and obtained the roof garden for the July date.

It is said that the North Pole is moving southward at a rate of approximately six inches a year.

Thompson Honored

Washington, April 10 (AP)—The navy presented its Distinguished Civilian Service Award yesterday to Dr. Louis Ten Eyck Thompson, consultant to the Norden Laboratories, White Plains, N. Y. Navy Secretary Kimball made the presentation citing Dr. Thompson's work as technical director of the Naval Ordnance Test Center at Inyokern, Calif., from 1945 through last October.

Dies on Train

New York, April 10 (AP)—A man tentatively identified as Benjamin Kaufman, 53, of 3 Dogwood Lane, Great Neck, N. Y., collapsed and died last night on an IRT west side northbound express train. The man was pronounced dead at the 14th street station by an ambulance surgeon.

"Senate" originally meant an assembly of old men and the word derives from the same root as "senile."

Negress Gets Verdict

New York, April 10 (AP)—A Negro woman yesterday won $600 in judgments against the fashionable Hotel Pierre and other defendants for violation of the New York State Civil Rights Law. Mrs. Henry Moon, of (21-36 33rd Road) Long Island City, Queens, won a $200 judgment against each of three defendants: The Getty Realty Corp., owner of the hotel; William W. Willy, banquet manager, and Ferra Rama, assistant to Willy. Mrs. Moon, an official of the National Urban League Guild, said in her complaint that she reserved the Fifth avenue hotel's roof garden last May for a guild social affair July 20. When she appeared at the hotel personally to confirm the reservation, she said, she was told the roof garden was not available. Mrs. Moon testified that a white person then called at the hotel and obtained the roof garden for the July date.

Thompson Honored

Washington, April 10 (AP)—The navy presented its Distinguished Civilian Service Award yesterday to Dr. Louis Ten Eyck Thompson, consultant to the Norden Laboratories, White Plains, N. Y. Navy Secretary Kimball made the presentation citing Dr. Thompson's work as technical director of the Naval Ordnance Test Center at Inyokern, Calif., from 1945 through last October.

Dies on Train

New York, April 10 (AP)—A man tentatively identified as Benjamin Kaufman, 53, of 3 Dogwood Lane, Great Neck, N. Y., collapsed and died last night on an IRT west side northbound express train. The man was pronounced dead at the 14th street station by an ambulance surgeon.

Honored at Troop 12 Anniversary

Mrs. Dingee Picks Up Rose That Fell From Juliana's Car

Mrs. George F. Dingee of 108 Wilson avenue picked up a red rose Saturday dropped at Academy Green by Queen Juliana.

The rose was from the bouquet presented to the Queen a few minutes earlier at the municipal auditorium by seven-year-old Pamela Dale Dykstra, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Dean Dykstra.

Mrs. Dingee said that she had been parked with her family a short distance from the Green awaiting the Queen's arrival at that point. They saw the procession approaching and walked over to watch the ceremonies, happening to stand near the black limousine in which Juliana was a passenger.

"We were so close to the Queen's car we could have touched the bumper," Mrs. Dingee said.

Rose Falls From Car

Juliana left her car and placed a wreath at the statue of Peter Stuyvesant, last Dutch governor of New Netherland. When the Queen re-entered her car, Mrs. Dingee said, the rose fell out on the ground, probably dislodged from the bouquet as Her Majesty picked it up to resume her seat. The stem of the rose was about six inches long.

Mrs. Dingee said that she told Pam Dykstra she was going to press it and give it to her. "I don't know when it is best to give it to her—now or when she is a young lady." Perhaps it might be better to save it and present it to her some day on a special occasion of some kind, perhaps a party, Mrs. Dingee mused.

Today the rose lay pressed between the covers of a book. "It dries slowly," Mrs. Dingee remarked.

Queen Appeared Young

As to the Queen, "She appeared younger than I had thought," Mrs. Dingee said. Also, "At Academy Green she appeared to be very sober-faced — not too much expression . . . Although I understand she was more vivacious at the auditorium. And, of course, the laying of the wreath was a more solemn kind of ceremony."

After the Queen left, Mrs. Dingee said, she and her group of family and friends had gone over to the Stuyvesant monument to look at the wreath. They overheard a couple, perhaps of Dutch extraction, discussing the ceremonies in broken English and wondering who the statue was. Mrs. Dingee volunteered the information that it was Governor Stuyvesant.

"Oh, we should have known that," the woman remarked. "He has a wooden leg!"

Troop 12 Holds Anniversary Party

Troop 12's 22nd anniversary was recently celebrated with a party at Bethany Hall in the Old First Dutch Church.

During the festivities, Floyd L. Spencer was presented with a 20-year veteran's award from George V. Dennis, scout executive of Rip Van Winkle Council. The award was for Spencer's outstanding service to the troop.

Fred Burnett, also of Troop 12, received the honor award from Scoutmaster Ralph Shapiro, the first such presentation since 1947.

Four "Forward on Liberties team" awards also were presented to the troop, a ribbon for re-registering the troop on time and three liberty bells, one for quality programs, functioning manpower and for increased membership.

At the court of honor, Peter Kelderhouse and Harry Jansen received the rank of second class scouts; Fred Burnett received first class and I. Zwilling, Scott Comstock and Jack Douglas received star awards. In addition, 55 merit badges were awarded, the majority going to Jack Douglas, Scott Comstock and Irve Zwilling, two awarded to Henry Cherrick and one to Les Comstock.

An investiture service also was held for five new boys as tenderfoot scouts included James Cawston, Lauren Carpenelli, Robert Dingman, James Douglas and Teddy Peck.

The troop received its 22nd charter and the scouts, explorers and scouters received their registration cards.

Presbyterians Set Special Service For Good Friday

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated Good Friday at 8 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street and Tremper avenue, with the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor, officiating. The subject of the communion message will be Human and Divine Reasons for the Crucifixion of Christ.

The session will meet prior to the service, at 7:30 p. m., in the ladies' parlor of Ramsey hall to receive new members who will be publicly welcomed during the service of Holy Communion.

For the musical program, Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director, has arranged the following numbers: Organ prelude, Prelude by Bach; anthem by the senior choir, Could Ye Not Watch With Me by Stainer; organ postlude, O Sacred Head Now Wounded by Bach.

All members of the church and any others who wish to participate in the sacred feast will be welcome.

Births

Births here last month totalled 98, the city registrar reported today.

This was 24 less than in March, 1951 and one more than in February this year.

March 30—James William to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Preslar, Stone Ridge, and Donna Marie to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murray, 296 Third avenue.

March 31—Anna Marie to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duffy, Jr., Rosendale, and Eric to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Assion, Whiteport.

Ridgways Move

Tokyo, April 10 (AP)—General Matthew B. Ridgway and his family moved today from the American embassy in Tokyo to make room for the new U. S. ambassador, who is expected to be appointed soon. It was the latest in a growing list of signs that the occupation of Japan is nearly over.

Schedule of County Clinics Is Announced

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the clinic rooms, 25 E. O'Reilly street, April 15, and at the health center in Stone Ridge April 16.

The local clinic will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. and that in Stone Ridge from 9 to 11 a. m. These clinics, limited to infant and preschool children, are for the purpose of administering immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Action Is Light

Seoul, Korea, April 10 (AP)—Allied infantrymen basked in warm spring sunshine today as UN aircraft hammered Red supply lines and installations in North Korea. Action along the battle front continued light. A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said Wednesday was one of the most inactive days since mid-February. The temperature went above 80 for Wednesday and continued warm Thursday.

Porch Damaged as Tire Rolls Off Milk Truck

A porch on the house of Mrs. Ubena C. Ritch, 2 Elizabeth street, was damaged yesterday when it was struck by a spare tire and rim which rolled from a milk truck driven by Joseph Elliot, R.D., Newburgh, police said.

Elliot was in Saugerties before he learned he had lost a tire. He was notified by the Saugerties police after a message had been relayed from the local police department.

William E. Ballard, local parking meter maintenance man, notified local police at 5:53 p. m., that the spare tire had rolled off the truck. The message asking that the driver be stopped and notified of his loss was also forwarded to state police.

Police said the floor of Mrs. Ritch's porch was damaged where it was struck by the heavy tire and rim which was taken to the Boulevard Gulf gas station pending arrival of the driver to claim it.

stock he had been drinking heavily. He told the court Swinton, who worked for Thompson, had visited several bar rooms in Kingston and Woodstock before the act was committed.

After sentence had been pronounced under each of the two charges and Judge Cashin had directed that the two sentences run concurrently, Saccoman moved for dismissal of the other counts of the indictment. The motion was granted.

At a prior session of court Swinton had asked for assignment of another counsel, stating that he did not believe he could be properly defended by his present counsel. He had previously made the same statement about another attorney who had been assigned and the court had relieved the other attorney and assigned Saccoman. Judge Cashin declined to grant Swinton's request for another attorney.

Well Represented

Today in court after sentence had been pronounced, Swinton told Judge Cashin that he desired to retract his previous statement about counsel and state now that he had been well represented by Saccoman and he was well satisfied with the manner in which Saccoman had handled the case. Judge Cashin thanked Saccoman for his services to the defendant and the Court. Swinton, with a broad smile, turned to Saccoman and shook hands before being taken back to jail by attendants.

Court recessed until 10 o'clock Monday morning when the jury will return and civil matters will be taken up.

Test Boring for Thruway

These technicians are test boring on the Maggiore farm, Route 28, across the Washington avenue viaduct, during surveys for the New York State Thruway, work on which is progressing in this area.

According to the Associated Press, the New York State Thruway Authority today announced a realignment of the superhighway route through western Rockland county.

The new route, the AP said, will cut through the northern part of the village of Suffern, instead of the southern. The original plan would have required the demolition or relocation of at least 100 dwellings.

The new right-of-way will cause little or no residential damage in the village, an authority source indicated.

The new route will continue to run through the village of Hillburn, west of Suffern. It will dip south of Spring Valley, north of Nanuet and parallel state Route 59 into Nyack.

The route differs from the authority's original line through southern Suffern and from the so-called "Banker" route, which would have carried the Thruway over the Ramapo mountains, north of Hillburn and Suffern. This plan was proposed by Mayor Charles Banker of Hillburn.

Chairman Bertram D. Tallamy of the Thruway Authority said the selected route, while costing an estimated three million dollars more, would be shorter and "will spare more than 65 dwellings along the route, mainly on the south side of Suffern." (Freeman photo)

Morris Has Say

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Newbold Morris told House investigators today he "heard" that many cabinet members were prepared to quit rather than answer his questionnaire on personal incomes. "I think," he said, "this was responsible for changing the President's enthusiasm for my mission." Morris, New York attorney and politician, testified before a House Judiciary Subcommittee which is investigating the Justice Department.

ficial making per capita estimates for future needs.

The projection method was used to arrive at the figures. The Census Bureau, using three different procedures, came up with low, medium and high estimates for the populations of the various states and regions.

Their results, taking the medium figures, were then carried one step further to obtain county populations. This breakdown was made only for counties that have been changing in population at rates similar to those of their states.

Ulster county, it follows, will be 5.1 per cent more populous in 1955 than it was in 1950, going to 97,500. The 1960 population, 100,800, is based on an 8.6 per cent rise over 1950.

These gains are greater than those expected for the Middle Atlantic States as a whole, 4.8 per cents in 1955 and 8.0 per cent in 1960.

The State of New York, estimates the Census Bureau, will have a population of 15,768,000 in 1955 and 16,286,000 five years later.

Looking ahead, a general leveling off in the population is foreseen. The rate of growth, which was phenomenal in the early stages of our national development, has now reached the point where we are increasing less rapidly. This is the fact, despite the decline in infant mortality and the greater longevity achieved through medical science.

Will Repair Broadway At Crossing Monday

Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, said today that work will start Monday on the repair of Broadway near the underpass area.

The men will start on the section extending from in front of the YMCA, to the concrete pavement built by the crossing project contractor Lipsett Inc., and the section north of the crossing near Cedar street will be done next, Steuding said.

Meanwhile, the last pour of concrete in the south abutment of the bridge that will connect Greenkill and Railroad avenues is expected to be made tomorrow and the steel work will start Monday.

Guardsmen Liked Their 'Ringside Seat' for Queen

As the black limousine carrying Queen Juliana rolled to a stop outside the municipal auditorium Saturday a contingent of National Guardsmen snapped to attention.

Capt. John E. Martell, his green helmet glittering in the light rain, opened the door for Her Majesty.

She was a "very, very pleasant woman," Martell said today. "She had a big smile on her face." In reply to a reporter's question, "No, she didn't say anything." Yes, he had noticed that her dress suit was quite wrinkled, but she had just completed a long drive.

Joshed Each Other

A contingent from Battery C, Poughkeepsie, of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, made up the Guard outside the auditorium. Inside the building, where some 2,000 aficionados awaited the Dutch First Lady, was stationed Battery B, also of Poughkeepsie.

"There was a lot of kidding among the two batteries about getting wet," Capt. Martell said. Before the Queen arrived the men, resplended in green helmets, yellow gloves, boots and small arms, passed the time "joshing each other."

He said that the men "were proud to be on guard" and liked their "ringside seats."

Some 300 Guardsmen, wearing the colorful Battalion and Division patches, participated in the ceremonies. B and C Batteries were at the auditorium, Headquarters and A Batteries and staff officers at Academy Green and the Service Battery at the Dutch Reformed Church.

Asked about the smart glitter of the helmets, Martell laughed. "I guess the kids just put on a high polish."

Any hitches, Captain, anything amusing or out of the ordinary happen? Martell thought a moment.

Well, he didn't know whether the reporter would think it was funny but shortly before Juliana left the auditorium he noticed a couple of men loitering near the doors and advised them he had orders that only police authorities, or secret service agents, were permitted in the area and that they would have to move on.

"We are secret service," the men replied, showing their badges.

Dewey Signs Bills To Aid Civil Defense

Albany, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—The way was clear today around some fiscal roadblocks to swift development of local civil defense programs.

Governor Dewey signed bills yesterday:

1—Authorizing financially pressed counties and cities to issue up to $30,000 a year in serial bonds or capital notes to finance required C-D operations.

2—Granting immunity from liability to the public and private owners of property used for bomb shelters if anyone is killed or injured during a raid, test or false warning.

The latter measure was designed, an administration source said, to encourage owners to make desirable property for bomb shelters available for that purpose.

The fiscal bill was drafted to provide means for financing C-D programs by communities already at or near their debt limits.

Such a community, however, may not issue the C-D bonds or notes without approval of the State Civil Defense Commission, which cannot act without first having "obtained the advice of the state comptroller with respect to the financial condition of the county or city."

Police Take Orphant East in Robbery Case

Michael Orphant, 26, of Highland was turned over on Wednesday to Capt. Eugene F. Melvin of the Danbury, Conn., police department, who said the Highland man faces charges in connection with a two-year-old $3,000 payroll robbery in Danbury.

Orphant was apprehended in Highland by state police on Tuesday and was held at the Ulster county jail here at the request of Danbury police. He and three others are charged by Danbury police with inplication in the July 20, 1950, robbery of the payroll from the Danbury Transportation Company.

Also arrested in other counties were James M. Webb, 22, of Plattekill, and Louis LaFountain, 26, of New Haven, Capt. Melvin said. The fourth man allegedly implicated is now in jail at Poughkeepsie on an auto theft charge.

The men will be arraigned in Danbury city court next week.

IKE'S BUSTED—Three years of work went into the creation of this bust of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, according to Swedish sculptor Oscar Antonsson, who has the work on display in Paris. Antonsson says that it may be given to Columbia University by the Columbia University Club in New York.

Steel Industry Gets that called for an injunction at this stage.

Hits WSB Ruing

Steel's Randall declared that the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) was one of the principals in what he called the corrupt political act, with its recommendations for pay increases and other benefits agreeable to the CIO Steelworkers but not the industry.

Truman was pressed today to say whether he would order the wage board recommendations into effect.

He replied he would cross that bridge when he got to it. He added quickly that he wants the negotiations to be successful and he thinks they will.

Truman defended again the recommendations of the wage board. He said the board did not step out of its prerogatives when it made its recommendations, which included one for a union shop, under which all empoyes would have to join the union.

Randall used the term "closed shop." This is an arrangement under which no one but union members may be hired; the union shop permits hiring of non-unionists but they must join up within a stipulated time.

Says He Ducks Principle

Truman was asked for reaction to this statement Randall made about him:

"He was purporting to tell the facts, yet he withheld from the public one significant fact: He made no mention of the closed shop. He dealt with money but omitted principle."

Truman replied he was not a negotiator, that the whole disagreement was a matter for collective bargaining and that he wanted the parties to reach an agreement.

The President was questioned as to whether the big profits he said in his Monday night speech that the steel industry was making were profits before or after taxes. He said the speech speaks for itself.

In that speech Truman said steel was making a profit of $19.50 a ton. Other government officials said at the time the figure was before taxes. Randall said last night the companies had less than one-third of "that $19.50 that the President talked about" once all costs were paid.

Suit Is Filed

In a new legal maneuver today, the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation filed suit in district court here to enjoin the government from operating the industry under seizure.

The Jones and Laughlin suit contends, as three other steel firms did yesterday, that the President was without any constitutional right to order seizure.

Randall, in his spech, said the seizure "discharges a political debt to the CIO and that Murray now "gives Harry S. Truman a receipt marked 'paid in full.'"

If any man now threatens the country's safety for lack of steel, he said, "that man's name is Phil Murray."

Union aides said the attack on Murray was "so extreme and unwarranted as not to deserve a reply."

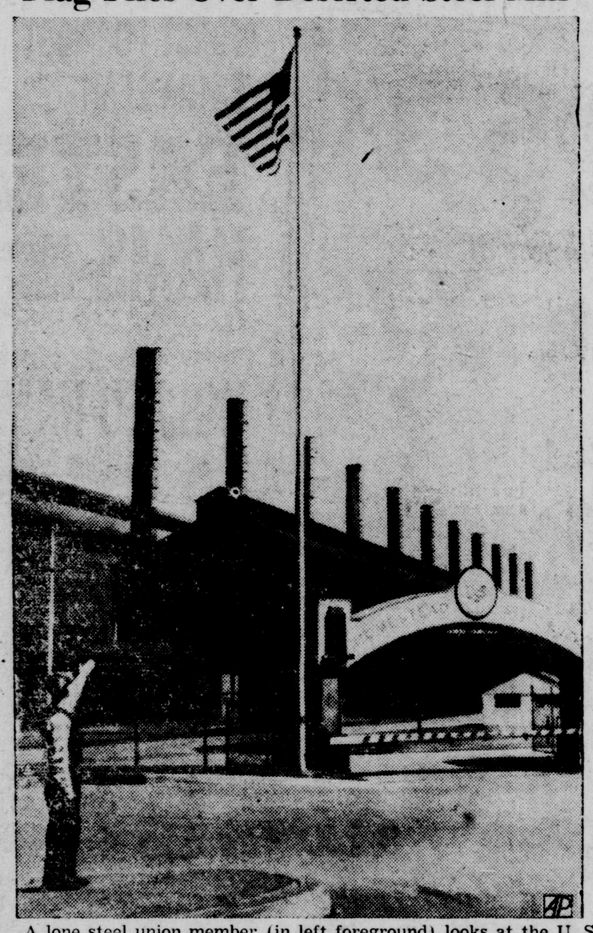
Randall's blast was keyed to the emotional pitch which industry and union officials have reached in the long, tense steel dispute.

But the industry said it was ready to resume full steel production. Both sides were summoned to a meeting with John R. Steelman in another attempt to reach agreement on a new work contract.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, nominal boss of the eight billion dollar industry, was visited last night by presidents of nine big steel companies.

"Without exception I was assured by those present that, except for purely mechanical or temporary impediments, all operations would be resumed immediately," Sawyer said.

Flag Flies Over Deserted Steel Mill



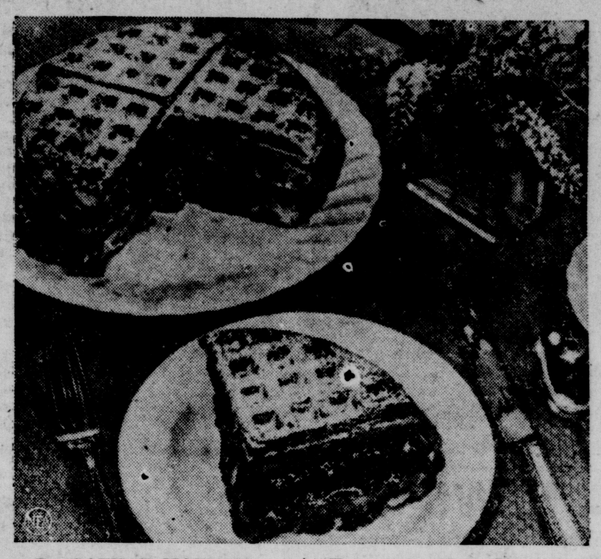
A lone steel union member (in left foreground) looks at the U. S. flag after it was raised over the Homestead Works of the U. S. Steel Company in Pittsburgh, April 9, following governmenal seizure of the steel industry. The Homestead plant, its gates barred, was deserted as operations were not resumed although many workers reported as usual.

Local Captain's Unit Cited for Safety

Captain John Haines, this city, shown left in the back row, is a member of the 4700th Air Base Group, Stewart Field, which was cited recently with a flying safety plaque. Captain Haines, veteran of World War 2, was recalled to service in May, 1951. He is the husband of the former Miss Joan Quick and the son of Mrs. Fred Haines, 582 Abeel street. In the photo, front row, (l. to r.) are Lt. Colonel R. L. Brocklehurst, executive officer; Major Frank Shearin, Jr., operations and training officer; Brigadier General Russell J. Minty, commanding general, who presented the plaque; Col. David B. Lancaster and Major Ernest Murray, aircraft maintenance officer. Back row, Captain Haines, who is base operations officer and Major Curville W. Cox, material officer. (Official USAF photo)

EAT WELL for Less

Golden Waffles Now in Season



By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Now is the time for your golden waffles to bloom with a variety of toppings. Here's a new and zesty trick right off the baby-food shelf. It gives a fruity filling very like the expensive and hard-to-find lingonberry jam. Called plums with tapioca, it comes either strained or junior. It is true fruit, slightly tart, and is inexpensive.

Allow 1 cup for a double-decker layer in the three 9-inch waffles yielded by the average recipe. The junior plums give a thicker filling than the strained, just as they are, or varied with 1 tablespoon each sugar and lemon juice. Top each serving with confectioners' sugar.

Waffles for supper, for lunch for young and old, are a simple choice these days with a handy packaged mix. Add water and beat as though you meant it. Remember to preheat the waffle iron, and no peeking until its stops steaming.

Quick tips: One teaspoon vanilla in the waffle batter for special flavor, or ½ teaspoon grated orange rind.

For quick French pancakes, use the convenient waffle mix by stirring batter only to the consistency of thick cream. Spoon plums with tapioca into each thin hot cake, roll tightly and neatly and dust with sugar. Serve on hot plate.

Basic Waffles
(Makes 6-8 waffles)

For those who prefer to start from scratch, here is a tested waffle recipe:

Two cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 to 2 teaspoons sugar (optional), 3 eggs, separated; 1¼ cups milk, ¼ cup melted shortening.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine well-beaten egg yolks and milk, and add to dry mixture. Beat vigorously until smooth. Stir in shortening and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, poached eggs on toast, coffee, milk.

SPRING LUNCHEON PARTY: Cream of asparagus soup, hot waffles with plums, crisp bacon curls, stewed rhubarb, orange sections, chocolate leaf wafers, milk, tea or coffee.

DINNER: Fresh fruit cup creamed finnan haddie, parsley baked potatoes, minted carrots, spring vegetable salad, whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, baked lemon pudding, coffee, milk.

Billboard Regulation

Albany, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—Governor Dewey today signed a bill to regulate billboards and other advertising along the state Thruway. Dewey made no comment in approving the measure. The new law authorizes the Thruway to license and regulate all billboards or other advertising devices within 500 feet of the $450,000,000 cross-state expressway.

Rush Toops In

La Paz, Bolivia, April 10 (AP)—Bolivia's army-officer government rushed troops from 155 miles away as fighting continued through the night in a revolt trying to overthrow the Junta regime which seized power 11 months ago. The rebels are backers of Victor Paz Estenssoro, exiled leaders of the National Revolutionary Party (MNR) wo won the most votes among six candidates in last year's presidential elections but never gained office.

Silent on Judge

Washington, April 10 (AP)—President Truman declined to discuss today the Senate Judiciary Committee's delay in acting on his nomination of James P. McGranery at attorney general. He said he had no comment and suggested the question be asked of the chairman of the committee, Sen. McCarran, Nevada Democrat.

But the industry said it was ready to resume full steel production. Both sides were summoned to a meeting with John R. Steelman in another attempt to reach agreement on a new work contract.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, nominal boss of the eight billion dollar industry, was visited last night by presidents of nine big steel companies.

"Without exception I was assured by those present that, except for purely mechanical or temporary impediments, all operations would be resumed immediately," Sawyer said.

Golden Waffles Now in Season

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Now is the time for your golden waffles to bloom with a variety of toppings. Here's a new and zesty trick right off the baby-food shelf. It gives a fruity filling very like the expensive and hard-to-find lingonberry jam. Called plums with tapioca, it comes either strained or junior. It is true fruit, slightly tart, and is inexpensive.

Allow 1 cup for a double-decker layer in the three 9-inch waffles yielded by the average recipe. The junior plums give a thicker filling than the strained, just as they are, or varied with 1 tablespoon each sugar and lemon juice. Top each serving with confectioners' sugar.

Waffles for supper, for lunch for young and old, are a simple choice these days with a handy packaged mix. Add water and beat as though you meant it. Remember to preheat the waffle iron, and no peeking until its stops steaming.

Quick tips: One teaspoon vanilla in the waffle batter for special flavor, or ½ teaspoon grated orange rind.

For quick French pancakes, use the convenient waffle mix by stirring batter only to the consistency of thick cream. Spoon plums with tapioca into each thin hot cake, roll tightly and neatly and dust with sugar. Serve on hot plate.

Basic Waffles
(Makes 6-8 waffles)

For those who prefer to start from scratch, here is a tested waffle recipe:

Two cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 to 2 teaspoons sugar (optional), 3 eggs, separated; 1¼ cups milk, ¼ cup melted shortening.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine well-beaten egg yolks and milk, and add to dry mixture. Beat vigorously until smooth. Stir in shortening and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, poached eggs on toast, coffee, milk.

SPRING LUNCHEON PARTY: Cream of asparagus soup, hot waffles with plums, crisp bacon curls, stewed rhubarb, orange sections, chocolate leaf wafers, milk, tea or coffee.

DINNER: Fresh fruit cup creamed finnan haddie, parsley baked potatoes, minted carrots, spring vegetable salad, whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, baked lemon pudding, coffee, milk.

Billboard Regulation

Albany, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—Governor Dewey today signed a bill to regulate billboards and other advertising along the state Thruway. Dewey made no comment in approving the measure. The new law authorizes the Thruway to license and regulate all billboards or other advertising devices within 500 feet of the $450,000,000 cross-state expressway.

Rush Toops In

La Paz, Bolivia, April 10 (AP)—Bolivia's army-officer government rushed troops from 155 miles away as fighting continued through the night in a revolt trying to overthrow the Junta regime which seized power 11 months ago. The rebels are backers of Victor Paz Estenssoro, exiled leaders of the National Revolutionary Party (MNR) wo won the most votes among six candidates in last year's presidential elections but never gained office.

Silent on Judge

Washington, April 10 (AP)—President Truman declined to discuss today the Senate Judiciary Committee's delay in acting on his nomination of James P. McGranery at attorney general. He said he had no comment and suggested the question be asked of the chairman of the committee, Sen. McCarran, Nevada Democrat.

Orders Pork and Eggs

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Secretary Brannan bowed to a congressional recommendation today and ordered government buying of pork and eggs in an effort to bolster their prices. He announced that the Agriculture Department will offer to buy a "substantial" amount of smoked pork and up to 500,000 cases of eggs for use next fall by the government-sponsored non-profit school lunch program. Brannan said the purchases would divert supplies from markets temporarily burdened with surpluses.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, April 10—Mr. and Mrs. John Adsit plan to move into their new house on VanSteenburgh road this weekend. Dorothy did most of the interior decorating while John, who is employed on the Broadway project, helped along in spare time with the excavating and other outside work. The house commands a sweeping view of majectic High Point across the reservoir, and the northside picture windows afford a vista of Tice TenEyck, towering peak in the near distance.

Burr Elmendorf is home following a stay of several weeks at a New York hospital where he underwent a major operation.

Chief damage in these parts from the big rain of Saturday appears to have been done to highway shoulders and private driveways. Older readers can remember when these spring freshets made a mess of things all around town. The Esopus Creek down in the old village was ever an awesome sight when on rampage; folks used to walk down, towards evening when the rain let up, to watch the trees, logs and small buildings come shooting along from Shandaken on the crest of those muddy waters, sometimes swimming the floor timbers of the quarter-mile long bridge which connected the two villages. (Had thrills in those days, too.)

Jay Ennist and the Rev. Stanley Jones, mentioned by The Freeman's Highland reporter as having returned from Florida, were brought up in Shokan and Ashokan, respectively. Jay's younger sister, Mrs. Donald Everett, the former Ella Ennist, now makes her home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

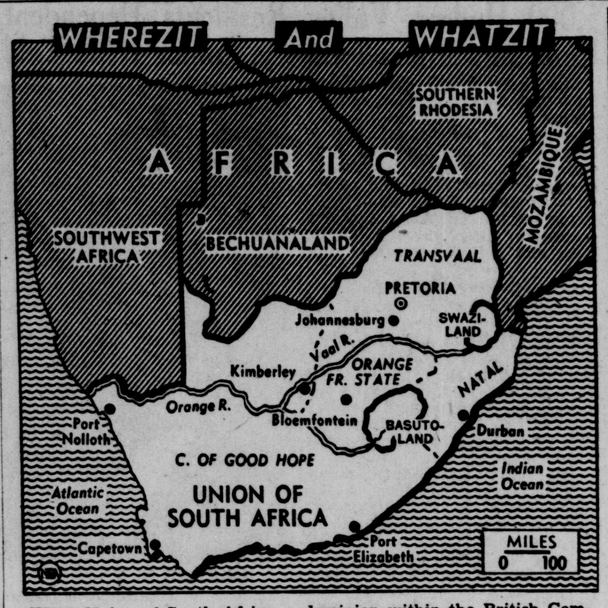
SAT. APRIL 12th

AT 5 P. M.



THE Union of South Africa, a dominion within the British Commonwealth of Nations, is one of the world's richest gold and diamond countries with one of the world's worst social problems. It is comprised of four provinces—Cape of Good Hope, Transvaal, Natal and the Orange Free State, and came into existence in 1910 when the United Kingdom passed the South African Act. The capital is Pretoria, but the legislature still meets in Capetown. Transvaal and Natal are rich in cotton and wool. Copper, tin and coal are abundant throughout the country. South Africa's social problem arises from its three main population groups—European white, native African and native Indian. The two million Europeans control the nine million Negroes and the 250,000 Indians and one faction, currently in power, is determined to maintain the status quo. Prime Minister Daniel Malan, an old Boer Afrikaner and advocate of apartheid (racial segregation) has dedicated his life to maintain white supremacy. In 1950 he introduced a bill removing 50,000 Cape Colored (half-castes) from white voting lists and assigned their votes to four white representatives. The reaction to the law was sharp. Violent race riots occurred. The Supreme Court handed Malan and apartheid its first setback by declaring the law null and void. Resentment by the victims of Malan's discriminatory laws mounted. It took expression in the form of organizations, sponsored by the African National Congress and dedicated to action "for defiance of unjust laws" by a select, trained group, to be followed by mass disobedience, reminiscent of Mahatma Gandhi's strategy in India. Thus is the stage set for what may be a long, bitter and possibly bloody battle against Malan's racial regime.

Lucky Isn't In

Rome, April 10 (AP)—A pal of Charles "Lucky" Luciano — and like him unwanted in the United States—opened a new night spot in Rome last night. The name—The Stork Club. For proprietor Ralph Liguori, The Stork is the sixth such venture since the United States deported him in 1946, two months before it booted out Luciano. Asked about "silent partners," Liguori grinned: "I know what you're driving at, but Lucky ain't got no piece of this club. I got no silent partners. Why, Lucky can't even come to Rome because of the police."

Woman Gets Stay

Quebec, April 10 (AP)—The execution of Mrs. Marguerite Ruest Pitre has been stayed until June 27. Mrs. Pitre was sentenced to be hanged April 18 for her part in the September, 1949, bomb crash of a commercial airliner in which 23 persons were killed. J. Albert Guay, Quebec jeweler who put the bomb in a package destined for the plane, already has been hanged. His wife was among the victims when the bomb exploded, causing the plane to crash at Sault au Cochon, near here.

Sherman Stearns, one of the finest bridge players in the country, is a spice merchant during his working hours and spends his spare time putting spice into the expert game at the Regency Club. Very few players bid as much or as enthusiastically as Stearns—and even fewer share his knack of landing right side up.

In the hand shown today, Stearns bid the South hand quite moderately. Ironically enough, his partner decided to overbid, carrying the hand to a very shaky slam contract.

Only slightly discouraged by the fact that he was apparently doomed to lose two spade tricks, Stearns won the opening lead with the ace of clubs, led a trump to the king and returned a spade to his ace. Then he led another trump to dummy's queen.

It all went so smoothly that West didn't wake up to his danger until it was too late. West still had the queen of spades in his hand, much to his sorrow.

Stearns continued by cashing the ace of hearts and ruffed a heart in his hand. He entered dummy with a club to ruff another heart, and then cashed his third club. Now a spade put West in with his fatal queen.

It didn't matter whether he returned a heart or a club; South could ruff while dummy discarded the last spade.

Of course West should have dropped the queen of spades on declarer's ace. Having failed to do so, he should have discarded the queen when South led a second round of trumps. If West hand managed to get rid of the queen, East would have been in position to win two spade tricks whenever the suit was led.

West would have seen his danger if Stearns had begun by drawing trumps and ruffing hearts in his own hand. But when Stearns astutely cashed the ace of spades at a very early stage, West fell asleep at the switch.

Brewing was practiced mainly as a household task by women until the 12th century, acccording to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

FIRST Motor Oil Developed by Atomic Energy

NEW RPM MOTOR OIL CUTS ENGINE WEAR IN HALF!

First time in history! Using piston rings treated at the Atomic Energy Commission's Oak Ridge Plant, scientists of California Research Corporation measured engine wear as it happened.

Toughest test a motor gets is cold operation, stop-and-go driving—where wear is greatest. This fact plus atomic research led to the development of an entirely new motor oil—NEW RPM.

NEW RPM Motor Oil is years ahead of its time! Compared with conventional oils,* it cuts in half the wear of average automobile engines. Laboratory tests proved it. Road service backed it up.

NEW RPM MOTOR OIL

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, April 10—Mr. and Mrs. John Adsit plan to move into their new house on VanSteenburgh road this weekend. Dorothy did most of the interior decorating while John, who is employed on the Broadway project, helped along in spare time with the excavating and other outside work. The house commands a sweeping view of majectic High Point across the reservoir, and the northside picture windows afford a vista of Tice TenEyck, towering peak in the near distance.

Burr Elmerdorf is home following a stay of several weeks at a New York hospital where he underwent a major operation.

Chief damage in these parts from the big rain of Saturday appears to have been done to highway shoulders and private driveways. Older readers can remember when these spring freshets made a mess of things all around town. The Esopus Creek down in the old village was ever an awesome sight when on rampage; folks used to walk down, towards evening when the rain let up, to watch the trees, logs and small buildings come shooting along from Shandaken on the crest of those muddy waters, sometimes swimming the floor timbers of the quarter-mile long bridge which connected the two villages. (Had thrills in those days, too.)

John Rutherford, ill during much of the winter, at last report was still a patient at an Orange county hospital.

Jay Ennist and the Rev. Stanley Jones, mentioned by The Freeman's Highland reporter as having returned from Florida, were brought up in Shokan and Ashokan, respectively. Jay's younger sister, Mrs. Donald Everett, the former Ella Ennist, now makes her home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Echo of Waterworks Days: April 9, 1910—Alvin Markle, Acorn Hill young man who was employed by the BWS at Brown's, has been transferred to Lackawack...Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Jones have moved from Ashton to Pacama. Spencer and his brother, Harry, now have work at Lackawack...Stephen Krom of Atwood has sold his yoke of oxen ...Charles E. Watson is working at Ned Stevens' Shokan Creamery...Edgar Elliott of Pacama having sold his place to John Polypeon has moved his household stuff to Henry Markle's... Elder Clarke of the O.S. Baptist Church officiated, April 9, at funeral services for Blanche Cudney, talented young school teacher at West Hurley, sister of Basil Cudnel, and niece of Mrs. Leland Boice.

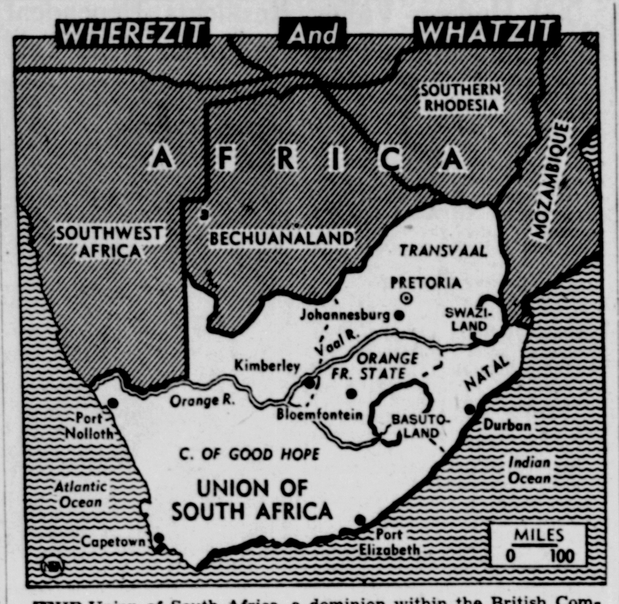
WHEREZIT And WHATZIT



THE Union of South Africa, a dominion within the British Commonwealth of Nations, is one of the world's richest gold and diamond countries with one of the world's worst social problems. It is comprised of four provinces—Cape of Good Hope, Transvaal, Natal and the Orange Free State, and came into existence in 1910 when the United Kingdom passed the South African Act. The capital is Pretoria, but the legislature still meets in Capetown. Transvaal and Natal are rich in cotton and wool. Copper, tin and coal are abundant throughout the country. South Africa's social problem arises from its three main population groups—European white, native African and native Indian. The two million Europeans control the nine million Negroes and the 250,000 Indians and one faction, currently in power, is determined to maintain the status quo. Prime Minister Daniel Malan, an old Boer Afrikaner and advocate of apartheid (racial segregation) has dedicated his life to maintain white supremacy. In 1950 he introduced a bill removing 50,000 Cape Colored (half-castes) from white voting lists and assigned their votes to four white representatives. The reaction to the law was sharp. Violent race riots occurred. The Supreme Court handed Malan and apartheid its first setback by declaring the law null and void. Resentment by the victims of Malan's discriminatory laws mounted. It took expression in the form of organizations, sponsored by the African National Congress and dedicated to action "for defiance of unjust laws" by a select, trained group, to be followed by mass disobedience, reminiscent of Mahatma Gandhi's strategy in India. Thus is the stage set for what may be a long, bitter and possibly bloody battle against Malan's racial regime.

Lucky Isn't In

Rome, April 10 (AP)—A pal of Charles "Lucky" Luciano — and like him unwanted in the United States—opened a new night spot in Rome last night. The name—The Stork Club. For proprietor Ralph Liguori, The Stork is the sixth such venture since the United States deported him in 1946, two months before it booted out Luciano. Asked about "silent partners," Liguori grinned: "I know what you're driving at, but Lucky ain't got no piece of this club. I got no silent partners. Why, Lucky can't even come to Rome because of the police."

Woman Gets Stay

Quebec, April 10 (AP)—The execution of Mrs. Marguerite Ruest Pitre has been stayed until June 27. Mrs. Pitre was sentenced to be hanged April 18 for her part in the September, 1949, bomb crash of a commercial airliner in which 23 persons were killed. J. Albert Guay, Quebec jeweler who put the bomb in a package destined for the plane, already has been hanged. His wife was among the victims when the bomb exploded, causing the plane to crash at Sault au Cochon, near here.

FIRST Motor Oil Developed by Atomic Energy

NEW RPM MOTOR OIL CUTS ENGINE WEAR IN HALF!

First time in history! Using piston rings treated at the Atomic Energy Commission's Oak Ridge Plant, scientists of California Research Corporation measured engine wear as it happened.

Toughest test a motor gets is cold operation, stop-and-go driving—where wear is greatest. This fact plus atomic research led to the development of an entirely new motor oil—NEW RPM.

NEW RPM Motor Oil is years ahead of its time! Compared with conventional oils,* it cuts in half the wear of average automobile engines. Laboratory tests proved it. Road service backed it up.

Money-Back Guarantee of Satisfaction!

No motor oil gives you better protection than NEW RPM Motor Oil. Compared with conventional motor oils,* it cuts in half the wear of critical engine parts. It doubles the life of average auto engines between major overhauls due to lubrication. It gives double protection against gummy carbon, acid, corrosion, rust and varnish . . . maintains the low-oil-consumption life of the average engine twice as long. Sold with money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

Church Women Plan May Fellowship Day

A planning meeting for May Fellowship Day will be held in the First Baptist Church, Albany avenue and Broadway, Monday, April 14 at 8 p. m.

May Fellowship Day will be observed on May 6 and is sponsored by the United Council of Church Women in cooperation with the Ulster County School of Religious Education. The theme will be Spiritual Security for Today's Families.

The ministers, superintendents of Sunday schools, and women of all churches are invited to attend the planning meeting. Each woman's society has been asked to send at least two members to the meeting.

Plans April Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George McArdle of 22 Davis street announce the engagement of their daughter, Dolores McArdle, to Frank Witkowski, son of Mrs. Walter Witkowski, 68 Third avenue. The wedding is scheduled to take place Sunday, April 27.

Married in Cottekill Church

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM HOTALING

Following their marriage Sunday at 1 p. m. in the Cottekill Church, Mr. and Mrs. William Hotaling cut the wedding cake during a reception held at Binnewater Union Chapel. Mrs. Hotaling is the former Miss Janice Maureen Freer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freer of Binnewater. The Rev. Mr. White officiated at the ceremony. (Anner photo)

Stone Ridge Grange

The regular weekly Saturday dance at Stone Ridge Grange hall will not be held this week, due to its being Holy Week. The next dance at the Grange hall will take place Saturday, April 19.

Fur seals can dive more than 200 feet in search of food.

Janice Maureen Freer And William Hotaling Have Church Wedding

Miss Janice Maureen Freer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freer of Binnewater, was married to William Hotaling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hotaling, Elmendorf street, Sunday at 1 p. m. in the Cottekill Church. The Rev. Mr. White officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 100 guests followed at the Binnewater Union Chapel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ice blue color with a matching veil and carried a cascade bouquet of white iris and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Dorothy Parker of Binnewater was the maid of honor. Her gown was beige color and she carried a cascade of deep pink gladioli and sweet peas. Miss Beverly Pine was a junior bridesmaid. She wore an orchid gown and carried a cascade of jonquils and orchid sweet peas.

Richard Hotaling of this city was his brother's best man. The ushers were Roland Drolet, brother-in-law of the bride, and Clifford Pine, Binnewater. Curtis Pine was ringbearer.

Upon their return from a trip to upper New York state, the couple will reside on Elmendorf street in this city. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue ensemble with pale blue accessories.

Mrs. Hotaling graduated from Kingston High School, class of '51 and is employed by the New York Telephone Company.

Mr. Hotaling graduated from Kingston High School, is a member of the National Guard, and is employed by Bryne-Ross Mills, Inc.

Stone Ridge Dealer Exhibits in New York

Mrs. W. S. Quick of Stone Ridge was an exhibitor at the county fair antique show in the 71st Regiment Armory, New York, during the past week.

Many of the lamps exhibited by Mrs. Quick were from homes in the county and caused considerable comment of interest. Her booth was described as one of the most unusual at the fair.

At her shop, the Lamp Post in Stone Ridge, Mrs. Quick has a very rare collection of Victorian lamps. She deals exclusively in old lamps.

Mrs. Quick will be an exhibitor at the antique show in Norwalk, Conn., from April 10 to 19.

5,000 Hudson Valley Residents Dependent Upon Mushroom Industry, Junior DAR Told

Speaking on the development and operation of the mushroom industry at the regular monthly meeting of the Junior Group, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday night, Herman K. Knaust of Saugerties, told an interested audience that about 5,000 people in the Hudson valley are dependent, directly or indirectly, upon that industry for their support.

HERMAN K. KNAUST

Mushroom History

Mr. Knaust, who is associated with Knaust Brothers, Inc., of Catskill, reviewed the history of mushroom growing from its beginning among the Nomads thousands of years ago down to the present day. The highlights of this history included the discovery in 1790 by a French farmer of methods of growing mushrooms as a regular crop; the importation of French mushroom spawn to the United States in 1903 by Quakers who developed the industry in Kent Square, Pa.; the development of the tissue culture method of growth by Dr. Benjamin Duggar, who, 50 years later, was the discoverer of aureomycin, and the discovery of sterilization techniques of the media in which the mushrooms are grown.

Touching on the local development of the industry, Mr. Knaust stated that, beginning operations in 1920 with a capital of $20, Herman and Henry Knaust first used old ice houses along the Hudson river in which to grow the mushrooms. By developing new composting and handling methods and, in 1934, inaugurating a tray system, the Knaust business is today in the forefront of the mushroom industry.

Knaust Brothers, Inc., produces 20 per cent of the total mushroom output in the United States and about 95 per cent of all canned mushrooms.

Price Declines

Pointing out that in 1920, three pounds of mushrooms cost seven dollars, Mr. Knaust observed that the price of mushrooms has steadily declined although other costs of living has risen. "It is the only vegetable that is going in the right direction," he said.

Although only a few varieties of mushrooms are used commercially, the speaker said, there are 10,000 types of mushrooms, many of which are used in scientific research and experimentation because of their great possibilities for metabolic adaptation. Mushrooms are excellent nutritionally and a fine source of all the B complex vitamins, asserted Mr. Knaust, and added that many people do not know how to cook them properly. He listed suggestions for best cooking methods.

Operations Underground

In conclusion, Mr. Knaust said that today 95 per cent of Knaust Brothers' operations are underground, making use of caves principally in the Rosendae area. Nature does the job of growing mushrooms better than it can be done in above-ground plants constructed by men and at practically no cost, said Mr. Knaust.

During the business session preceding Mr. Knaust's address, at which Miss Winifred Kimball, vice-chairman, presided in the absence of Mrs. Stanton A. Warren, chairman, plans were discussed for the group's annual spring dinner, to be held May 5, and a nominating committee was elected. Members of this committee are Mrs. William G. Lawrence, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Joseph L. McCann. Mrs. Robert J. Torrens, Jr., flag chairman, also reported that flags had been placed by her committee on the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the First Dutch Church yard prior to the recent visit of Her Majesty, Queen Juliana of The Netherlands, to the church.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. McCann, Miss Virginia Curtis and Mrs. J. Douglas Rattray.

Community Concert Membership Campaign To Open April 20, City Captains Plan Details

Preliminary plans for the annual Kingston Community Concert Association Drive, April 20 to 27, were discussed at a meeting of city captains Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr, 44 Lounsbery Place. Workers will receive their materials for the drive within the next few days and are urged to immediately begin contacting old and prospective members for the 1952-53 series of three concerts.

A first report on the number of members for next year will be made at the opening of the campaign Sunday, April 20, 4 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel. All workers, captains and directors are urged to attend that meeting. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, telephone 1212, not later than Tuesday, April 15.

To Attend Opening

Mrs. Marion Sistare of the New York office of Community Concerts, will be in Kingston the week of the drive to assist the local workers. She will be accompanied at the opening meeting by Flora Walker who has been associated with Community Concerts work in New York for a number of years.

Two of the three concerts will feature the return engagement of dePaur Infantry Chorus, considered by many to be one of the best programs ever presented by the local association three years ago; and Eleanor Steber distinguished soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company and also a favorite on the Voice of Firestone Hour radio program. The third artist will be announced at the close of the campaign.

Subscriptions

Anyone may join the Kingston Community Concert Association by subscribing for a membership with one of the workers, by calling Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr, 44 Lounsbery place telephone 417; or Mrs. Bernard Forst, 32 Maiden Lane, telephone 3200; co-chairman of the membership drive; or by signing-up at the headquarters desk in the Governor Clinton Hotel the week of the campaign. Admissions to the concerts is by membership card only and no single admissions are sold to concerts. It is this organized audience plan that assures the local people of the presentation of the series with no-profit or loss. All funds are used for the artists and expenses in presenting the concerts.

Captains for the Kingston district include Miss Anne Goldrick, the Mmes. Herbert I. Bloom, Florence Cubberly, W. S. Eltinge, Edward Lefren, Henry Millonig, Harry C. Seitz, also Abram Molyneaux and C. Franklin Pierce.

Officers for the year are Lloyd R. LeFever, president; Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom, vice president; Mrs. Louis Kegler, secretary; and Joseph Craig, treasurer. New members for the board of directors include Mrs. Harold Rakov, Mrs. Edward Lefren, C. Franklin Pierce, Abram Molyneaux and John McCullough.

Silk is formed by many insects, but a single type of moth produces all the commercially produced natural silk.

In California for Garden Club Session

Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, center, of this city, is attending the national annual meeting of the Garden Club of America now in session at the Biltmore Hotel in Santa Barbara, Calif. With her on the terrace at the hotel are Miss Helen Eyre of Colorado Springs, Colo., left, and Mrs. Robert W. Gray of Hartford, Conn. In attendance at the meeting were 300 delegates from garden clubs of 32 states and Hawaii. Mrs. Lewis is president of the Ulster Garden Club. (Boucher photo)

Knaust Brothers, Inc., produces 20 per cent of the total mushroom output in the United States and about 95 per cent of all canned mushrooms.

Price Declines

Pointing out that in 1920, three pounds of mushrooms cost seven dollars, Mr. Knaust observed that the price of mushrooms has steadily declined although other costs of living has risen. "It is the only vegetable that is going in the right direction," he said.

Although only a few varieties of mushrooms are used commercially, the speaker said, there are 10,000 types of mushrooms, many of which are used in scientific research and experimentation because of their great possibilities for metabolic adaptation. Mushrooms are excellent nutritionally and a fine source of all the B complex vitamins, asserted Mr. Knaust, and added that many people do not know how to cook them properly. He listed suggestions for best cooking methods.

Operations Underground

In conclusion, Mr. Knaust said that today 95 per cent of Knaust Brothers' operations are underground, making use of caves principally in the Rosendae area. Nature does the job of growing mushrooms better than it can be done in above-ground plants constructed by men and at practically no cost, said Mr. Knaust.

During the business session preceding Mr. Knaust's address, at which Miss Winifred Kimball, vice-chairman, presided in the absence of Mrs. Stanton A. Warren, chairman, plans were discussed for the group's annual spring dinner, to be held May 5, and a nominating committee was elected. Members of this committee are Mrs. William G. Lawrence, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Joseph L. McCann. Mrs. Robert J. Torrens, Jr., flag chairman, also reported that flags had been placed by her committee on the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the First Dutch Church yard prior to the recent visit of Her Majesty, Queen Juliana of The Netherlands, to the church.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. McCann, Miss Virginia Curtis and Mrs. J. Douglas Rattray.

Janice Maureen Freer And William Hotaling Have Church Wedding

Miss Janice Maureen Freer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freer of Binnewater, was married to William Hotaling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hotaling, Elmendorf street, Sunday at 1 p. m. in the Cottekill Church. The Rev. Mr. White officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 100 guests followed at the Binnewater Union Chapel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ice blue color with a matching veil and carried a cascade bouquet of white iris and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Dorothy Parker of Binnewater was the maid of honor. Her gown was beige color and she carried a cascade of deep pink gladioli and sweet peas. Miss Beverly Pine was a junior bridesmaid. She wore an orchid gown and carried a cascade of jonquils and orchid sweet peas.

Richard Hotaling of this city was his brother's best man. The ushers were Roland Drolet, brother-in-law of the bride, and Clifford Pine, Binnewater. Curtis Pine was ringbearer.

Upon their return from a trip to upper New York state, the couple will reside on Elmendorf street in this city. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue ensemble with pale blue accessories.

Mrs. Hotaling graduated from Kingston High School, class of '51 and is employed by the New York Telephone Company.

Mr. Hotaling graduated from Kingston High School, is a member of the National Guard, and is employed by Bryne-Ross Mills, Inc.

Stone Ridge Dealer Exhibits in New York

Mrs. W. S. Quick of Stone Ridge was an exhibitor at the county fair antique show in the 71st Regiment Armory, New York, during the past week.

Many of the lamps exhibited by Mrs. Quick were from homes in the county and caused considerable comment of interest. Her booth was described as one of the most unusual at the fair.

At her shop, the Lamp Post in Stone Ridge, Mrs. Quick has a very rare collection of Victorian lamps. She deals exclusively in old lamps.

Mrs. Quick will be an exhibitor at the antique show in Norwalk, Conn., from April 10 to 19.

Community Concert Membership Campaign To Open April 20, City Captains Plan Details

Preliminary plans for the annual Kingston Community Concert Association Drive, April 20 to 27, were discussed at a meeting of city captains Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr, 44 Lounsbery Place. Workers will receive their materials for the drive within the next few days and are urged to immediately begin contacting old and prospective members for the 1952-53 series of three concerts.

A first report on the number of members for next year will be made at the opening of the campaign Sunday, April 20, 4 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel. All workers, captains and directors are urged to attend that meeting. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, telephone 1212, not later than Tuesday, April 15.

To Attend Opening

Mrs. Marion Sistare of the New York office of Community Concerts, will be in Kingston the week of the drive to assist the local workers. She will be accompanied at the opening meeting by Flora Walker who has been associated with Community Concerts work in New York for a number of years.

Two of the three concerts will feature the return engagement of dePaur Infantry Chorus, considered by many to be one of the best programs ever presented by the local association three years ago; and Eleanor Steber distinguished soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company and also a favorite on the Voice of Firestone Hour radio program. The third artist will be announced at the close of the campaign.

Subscriptions

Anyone may join the Kingston Community Concert Association by subscribing for a membership with one of the workers, by calling Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr, 44 Lounsbery place telephone 417; or Mrs. Bernard Forst, 32 Maiden Lane, telephone 3200; co-chairman of the membership drive; or by signing-up at the headquarters desk in the Governor Clinton Hotel the week of the campaign. Admissions to the concerts is by membership card only and no single admissions are sold to concerts. It is this organized audience plan that assures the local people of the presentation of the series with no-profit or loss. All funds are used for the artists and expenses in presenting the concerts.

Captains for the Kingston district include Miss Anne Goldrick, the Mmes. Herbert I. Bloom, Florence Cubberly, W. S. Eltinge, Edward Lefren, Henry Millonig, Harry C. Seitz, also Abram Molyneaux and C. Franklin Pierce.

Officers for the year are Lloyd R. LeFever, president; Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom, vice president; Mrs. Louis Kegler, secretary; and Joseph Craig, treasurer. New members for the board of directors include Mrs. Harold Rakov, Mrs. Edward Lefren, C. Franklin Pierce, Abram Molyneaux and John McCullough.

Dr. Shea Addresses University Women

The ever-growing problem of senile psychosis was emphasized by Dr. Edward Shea Tuesday evening in a discussion of mental health, during a meeting of the American Association of University Women, in Bethany Hall.

The problem of the aged increases as the life span increases and concrete plans for the future must be made with which to meet this growing problem said Dr. Shea. For example, he continued, the age of retirement should be a functional not chronological one, as has been demonstrated at the new school in New York where the staff is largely comprised of retired professors, supposedly through in their profession because of automatic retirement, but whose superior ability was more than proved by a rise in enrollment, from 200 to 3,000 in one year.

The positive approach to the mental health is emphasized at all times, with preventive methods applied in the early stages of emotional instability rather than psychosis at the institutional level, added Dr. Shea, president of the Ulster County Mental Health Committee. For this reason, stress is laid on work with children and the young adult, and the ultimate goal of mental health workers is a psychiatric clinic in the public schools, staffed by a team of psychiatrists, psychologists and psychiatric welfare workers. An institute on Mental Health Problems in the public schools is planned in the near future.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Phyllis Craft Smith, president, and Dr. Shea was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Willard Walker. Mrs. Stanley Dempsey and Miss Margaret Mullen were co-chairmen of the hostess committee, assisted by Mrs. John MacKinnon, Mrs. Joseph McNelis, Mrs. Herbert Powell, Mrs. Milton Paige, Miss Ruth Herdman and Miss Isabelle Malone.

A program by the International Relations and Social Studies Committees is planned for the May meeting.

Army Officer's Bride

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Newman, Madison, N. J., Miss Valerie Louis Swanson, 40 Charlotte Place, this city, was married to William Carl Martini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martini, 65 Clinton avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Fair Street Reformed Church. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. (Pennington photo)

Thelma D. Dabney Is Wed in AME Zion to Capt. Edwin Robinson

Miss Thelma Dolores Dabney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorris Dabney, 47 South Pine street, became the bride of Captain Edwin A. Robinson, U. S. Army, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. Harvey Robinson of Rochester, Sunday at 4 p. m. in the Franklin Street AME Zion Church. The Rev. Marshall M. Smith, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. A reception for 150 guests followed at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The altar in the church was decorated with candleabras, vases of mixed spring flowers and palms. White satin bows were used to mark the pews. Decosta Dawson was the organist and accompanied the soloist, Miss Gwendolyn Mayo of New York, in her selections, Through the Years and O Promise Me.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with an illusion yoke line and long tapered sleeves. Her fingertip length illusion veil, trimmed with Chantilly lace, was attached to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and blue carnations.

Miss Arlene Dabney was her sister's maid of honor. Her ballerina length gown was of cornflower blue lace and illusion with which she wore a bolero jacket and matching bonnet. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations and daffodils.

Dr. Samuel Watts of Washington, D. C., was best man to the bridegroom. Serving as ushers were Howard Irvis, cousin of the bride, and William Van Derzee, both of this city.

The couple motored to Fort Knox, Ky., where they reside while Captain Robinson is in the army. They expect to make their permanent home in Rochester. For traveling, the bride chose a beige dressmaker suit and dark brown accessories. She wore a green orchid corsage.

Mrs. Robinson graduated from Kingston High School in 1946, Moran Business School, '47, and Harlem Hospital School of Nursing, New York city, class of '51, where she has been a member of the nursing staff.

Captain Robinson is a graduate of Cornell University and the University of Rochester, School of Medicine. He has served on the medical staffs of Beth Israel, Massachusetts General, and Harlem Hospitals and is now stationed with the U. S. Army Medical Corps in Fort Knox, Ky.

Little Gardens Club Holds First Meeting

The Little Gardens Club met Friday for its first meeting of the season in the home of Mrs. Elvina Wolvin, Hurley. Mrs. Maud Doty was co-hostess.

The officers this year include Mrs. William McNamee, president; Mrs. Ivan Freer, vice-president, Mrs. John D. Groves, recording secretary, and Mrs. S. Maxwell Taylor, treasurer.

Excerpts from The Sea Around Us by Rachel Carson were read by Mrs. Ivan Freer. She described very graphically the author's scientific views of the creation of the earth and its slow growth over millions of years.

The club will make a financial contribution toward a scholarship for a college graduate working for a doctorate in the basic research of radio active material on plants. This course is to be given at the Boyce Thompson Institute in Yonkers.

It was announced also that garden week will again be observed at Lake Mohonk from June 2 to 6 and will include many interesting arrangements and lectures.

A social hour was enjoyed following the meeting. Mrs. E. Wolvin presided at the tea table. Mrs. M. L. Frith of Toronto, Canada, was present as a guest of Miss Ruth Waterbury.

Valerie L. Swanson Becomes Bride of William C. Martini

Miss Valerie Louise Swanson, 40 Charlotte Place, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Newman, 17 Madison avenue, Madison, N. J., was married to William Carl Martini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martini, 65 Clinton avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Fair Street Reformed Church. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. A reception for 75 guests followed at The Alpine.

Mrs. Martini is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Mr. Martini, a graduate of Kingston High School, served for four years, from 1947 to 1951, with the U. S. Army, in Korea and Japan. He is a part-owner of the Empire Diner.

Stuyvesants, D and A Shoot Gross Scores of 3011, 3005 in Tourney

Only Three Keglers Hit 600 Marks In Five-Man Events

Esposito, Cunningham, Bell Post 600 Series

A couple of local squads—Stuyvesant Hotel and Donnaruma & Augustine — highlighted the firing in a the five-man events of the state tournament at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night with gross scores going over the 3000-pin mark.

Donnaruma & Augustine also hit the top 30 scores of the tournament with a gross score of 3005.

Esposito Cracks 627

The club finished with a 2522 five-man net total.

Electrol Night

Electrol Night was featured in the pin-busting at the Bowlodrome last night with the Turrets topping the Electrol representatives with a 2840 gross score.

Other Electrol scores (all gross totals) included Factory Office 2822, Tool Grinding 2864, Electrol Office 2822, Cost Department 2820, Grinding 2800, Inspection 2778, Tool Room 2771, Pro Lathe 2750, Maintenance 2738 and Plating 2663.

Joe Bell, anchor for the A Battery of the 156th Field Artillery of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, clicked for a net series of 291-188 and 211. His gross total was 660.

Bowling Tonight

Local sharpers continue to take the spotlight in tonight's action at both the Bowlodrome for the five-man events and at the Bowlatorium in the singles and doubles.

Hotshot keglers from the metropolitan district are scheduled for both local lanes this weekend.

Cubs Due Home

Chicago, April 10 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, rained out of their final two exhibition games in Kansas, were due home today for the annual spring series with the Chicago White Sox.

YMCA BASKETBALL LEAGUE CHAMPIONS FOR TWO YEARS

The crack Wiltwyck Motors cagers have wrapped up four consecutive YMCA basketball crowns in the past two years—two Autumn and two regular season titles. They survived a triple playoff to cop this year's regular bunting. Team personnel was among the best talent in the area. Standing left to right: Bob "Red" Murray, Bud Scheffel, Big Bill Kleine of Woodstock and Don Haggerty. Kneeling and displaying the beautiful championship trophy are Joe Shattan, left, and Art Carpouzis, right. Absent when photo was taken were Vince Peck and Don Jennings. (Freeman Photo)

No-Hitter Ridzik Is Blasted By Cards; Konstanty Fizzles

LaMotta Scores Unanimous Win

Detroit, April 10 (AP)—Jake LaMotta's comeback express still thunders along today. The 30-year-old former middleweight champion battered his former conqueror, Norman Hayes, in a 10-round slugfest last night to grab a unanimous decision.

"Think I'll be ready for another fight in three weeks," said the Bronx Bull who wants to fight once a month. No opponent has been named.

Jake, fighting in his "lucky city" of Detroit for the 20th time, was the same old shuffler and slugger. The crowd roared as he swapped whirlwind punches with Hayes for the last minute of most every round. Jake weighed 167½ and Hayes 162.

Hayes, 21-year-old Bostonian, grabbed an edge with his face jabs and blasts to the body in the first, second and fourth rounds.

But Jake, looking far sharper than in his loss to Hayes in Boston Jan. 28 and his draw with Eugene Hairston March 5, rocked his foe in the last five rounds.

Two Mound Chores Problems for Sawyer

(By The Associated Press)

Eddie "Austerity Program" Sawyer, the Philadelphia Phillies' scholarly manager, had a brand new problem on his mind today, along with the recurrence of an old one.

Remember Steve Ridzik, the rookie who hurled the no-hitter against the St. Louis Cardinals the last time out? It turned out that he didn't have any Indian sign yesterday on the Red Birds, who knocked him out in the sixth inning and went on to win, 8-6.

Ridzik was somewhat of a surprise to Sawyer, inasmuch as the Rookie compiled only a 5-11 record with Baltimore last year. Sawyer doesn't intend to abandon Steve, however, although he has his fingers crossed that the no-hitter wasn't a fluke.

Then, while he was mulling over the shellacking Ridzik took, Sawyer brought in his one-time relief ace, Jim Konstanty. Two years ago, when Konstantly got in a ball game, he usually was the last pitcher in the Phillies' part of the line score. He was that effective.

Well, the aging Jim managed to fan Del Rice, but was slapped for successive doubles by Gene Mauch and Cloyd Boyer, neither of whom is regarded as exactly a fence buster.

Even with his strong starting hurlers, Sawyer was hoping that Konstanty would come back to his 1950 form when he won 16 games and compiled a 2.66 earned run average. Last year he won just four with an ERA of 4.03.

Westrum Raps Homer

But the Cleveland Indians certainly have a hoodoo on the New York Giants. The Tribe slapped down the New Yorkers for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 2-1, on only three hits. Ironically, the Giants got nine off the combined offerings of Bob Chakales and Lefty Kerrigan. The only one that caused any concern was Wes Westrums' homer in the sixth.

The veteran Ken Raffensberger turned in a smooth performance for the Cincinnati Reds, although he didn't get credit for the Redlegs' 3-2 triumph over the Washington Senators. He went seven innings, but left the game with the count at 2-all. Niles Jordan, who relieved him, received credit for the victory.

All the other major league clubs played minor league teams. The champion New York Yankees pasted their farmhands, the Norfolk Tars of the Piedmont League, 10-1; the Detroit Tigers overpowered the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern Association, 9-3; the Boston Red Sox slugged Springfield of the International League, 6-1, and the Philadelphia A's blasted Danville of the Carolina League, 15-3.

Orioles Trip Brooks

The major leaguers didn't fare so well in night games, though. Memphis of the Southern Association defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-2, and the International League Baltimore Orioles topped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-1. The Chicago White Sox managed to nip Atlanta of the Southern Association, 8-7, with the benefit of five runs in the seventh inning.

HOLDOUT ENDS

Bob Elliott, veteran Boston Braves third baseman who was acquired by the New York Giants, packs his suitcase at San Diego, Cal., home as he gets ready to leave for Tulsa, Okla., to join New York team. Elliott said he was "tickled to death" to be with the New York team. (AP Wirephoto)

Irvin Sees Return In Three Months

New York, April 10 (AP)—Monte Irvin, injured New York Giants' outfielder, expects to be able to play within two or three months.

The 1951 runs batted in leader of the National League, who fractured his ankle in an exhibition in Denver last week, returned here last night on a plane.

He was taken to Harkness Pavilion in Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center where Dr. Anthony Palermo, Giants' physician, planned to X-ray and examine the break today.

Asked if he expected to play again this year, Monte replied:

"Sure, in two or three months."

"Look, I can wiggle my toes now."

Monte said he expects to be in the cast about six or eight weeks but didn't know how soon he could plan on walking.

In commenting on the deal that brought Bob Elliott from the Boston Braves to the Giants as his left field replacement in exchange for pitcher Sheldon Jones and cash, Irvin said:

"The deal helps both clubs very much. But it still remains to be seen which will benefit more. Elliott is an excellent hitter and the short left field (Polo Grounds) should help him a lot. However, Sheldon is a fine pitcher and he should help the Braves very much."

French boxers, before engaging in a bout in their native land, used to kiss instead of shaking hands.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

They said it was a basketball banquet, but it looked more like an Irishman's dream.

There they sat—side by side—Kelly, Murphy, McGuire and McCarthy—at the Church League dinner Tuesday night at Fred Eisler's hotel.

The smooth-talking toastmaster introduced a bevy of sports notables and then called on a Jewish young man who promptly proclaimed the handsome Irishman at the center of the table "the best college basketball coach in the country."

The fact that Bernie Kramer and Coach Frank McGuire earned their sheepskins at the same institution—St. John's University of New York—was merely co-incidental.

Whether Frank McGuire is the best basketball coach in the country might be disputed by the basketball mob that worships the likes of "Phog" Allen, Everett Case, Ed Diddle, Ed Hickey, and even Nat Holman of neighboring CCNY.

But McGuire is certainly a big leaguer in poise, charm and coaching ability, a prize product of New York's lower west side, proud of his city, his school and the record compiled by St. John's Redmen through the years.

He made a beatiful speech reviewing the tremendous accomplishments of St. John's during the past season, when they captured the NIT title and advanced to the NCAA finals, bowling over North Carolina State, Illinois and fabulous Kentucky en route. He is handsome enough to have made the grade in Hollywood and as natural as the morning sun. Five minutes with Frank McGuire and you feel you've known him all your life.

The Redmen's young mentor answered a million questions tossed him by eager youngsters who were stuffed with Fred Eisler's viands. The older folks in the audience asked questions of a more technical nature and when it was all over, everybody agreed it was the most pleasant basketball dinner they had ever attended.

Actually, the man answered enough questions and gave out with enough observations to fill three columns. Because of space commitments, we'd like to pass only a few of the pithy comments.

"Beating the Big 10 teams was my secret ambition," he said. "I was sick and tired of hearing about the superiority of their game and all those stories about the big crowds they draw in high school basketball in Indiana. For my money, the New York city boys have a finesse and alertness not found in players in other sections. In the mid-west they have tremendous size, weight and can shoot like mad with one hand or jump shoot. They are terrific rebounders but they lack the all-round class of eastern basketball. Fast-breaking basketball is the vogue and the referees actually lead the fast break. There a player must hand the ball to the official. He whips it back to a man out of bounds and then starts the mad dash down the floor to lead the fast break."

McGuire's Observations: The spirit of basketball at St. John's is a tradition. It started many years ago with the famous "Wonder Five." They were so good they played college basketball in the afternoon and pro ball at night as the Brooklyn Jewels, right here in Kingston in the days of Carlie Husta and Tiny Hearn. I played with the Visitations. Husta was a terrific performer and I am shocked to hear of his death. He looked like he never could die when I played against him. Three great players were responsible for St. John's success this year—Jack McMahon, Ronnie McGilvary and Bob Zawoluk. Walter Dukes, the Seton Hall center, is the best basketball player in the country today and that Clyde Lovellete of Kansas is a real monster . . . a nice lad in every respect but a George Mikan type on the court. Sherman White of Long Island U. could have named his price with the Harlem Globetrotters or a professional team. He was the greatest basketball player ever produced in New York. Dick Groat of Duke is an All-American all the way. Ray Felix, the former L.I.U. star, is now seven feet tall. He was on his way toward all-time rating in New York."

McGuire recalled that he spent several summers of his youth in the Bloomington-Creek Locks area. He singled out Lou Kantrowitz without an introduction. "I caddied for you at Greenkill Park golf course, remember?" Of course, Lou remembered. He said it was like coming home again.

And, during the course of the banquet, Frank rocked the oldies in the audience with a simple inquiry:

Stuyvesants, D and A Shoot Gross Scores of 3011, 3005 in Tourney

Only Three Keglers Hit 600 Marks In Five-Man Events

Esposito, Cunningham, Bell Post 600 Series

A couple of local squads—Stuyvesant Hotel and Donnaruma & Augustine — highlighted the firing in a the five-man events of the state tournament at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night with gross scores going over the 3000-pin mark.

Paced by Ed Cunningham and Aubrey Berry who fired net scores of 603 and 527, the Stuyvesants cracked a 3011 gross score and 2522 net. Cunningham reeled off scores of 223-211-169 for his 603 net series.

Donnaruma & Augustine also hit the top 30 scores of the tournament with a gross score of 3005.

Esposito Cracks 627

Ed Esposito, No. 4 man in the D & A squad, fired a string of 211-181-235 for 627 net and 723 gross score.

The club finished with a 2522 five-man net total.

Electrol Night

Electrol Night was featured in the pin-busting at the Bowlodrome last night with the Turrets topping the Electrol representatives with a 2840 gross score.

Other Electrol scores (all gross totals) included Factory Office 2822, Tool Grinding 2864, Electrol Office 2822, Cost Department 2820, Grinding 2800, Inspection 2778, Tool Room 2771, Pro Lathe 2750, Maintenance 2738 and Plating 2663.

Joe Bell, anchor for the A Battery of the 156th Field Artillery of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, clicked for a net series of 291-188 and 211. His gross total was 660.

Bowling Tonight

Local sharpers continue to take the spotlight in tonight's action at both the Bowlodrome for the five-man events and at the Bowlatorium in the singles and doubles.

Hotshot keglers from the metropolitan district are scheduled for both local lanes this weekend.

Cubs Due Home

Chicago, April 10 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, rained out of their final two exhibition games in Kansas, were due home today for the annual spring series with the Chicago White Sox.

YMCA BASKETBALL LEAGUE CHAMPIONS FOR TWO YEARS

The crack Wiltwyck Motors cagers have wrapped up four consecutive YMCA basketball crowns in the past two years—two Autumn and two regular season titles. They survived a triple playoff to cop this year's regular bunting. Team personnel was among the best talent in the area. No-Hitter Ridzik Is Blasted By Cards; Konstanty Fizzles

LaMotta Scores Unanimous Win

Detroit, April 10 (AP)—Jake LaMotta's comeback express still thunders along today. The 30-year-old former middleweight champion battered his former conqueror, Norman Hayes, in a 10-round slugfest last night to grab a unanimous decision.

"Think I'll be ready for another fight in three weeks," said the Bronx Bull who wants to fight once a month. No opponent has been named.

Jake, fighting in his "lucky city" of Detroit for the 20th time, was the same old shuffler and slugger. The crowd roared as he swapped whirlwind punches with Hayes for the last minute of most every round. Jake weighed 167½ and Hayes 162.

LaMotta was in trouble only in the early rounds of this battle—his 100th in 12 years as a pro.

Hayes, 21-year-old Bostonian, grabbed an edge with his face jabs and blasts to the body in the first, second and fourth rounds.

But Jake, looking far sharper than in his loss to Hayes in Boston Jan. 28 and his draw with Eugene Hairston March 5, rocked his foe in the last five rounds.

Two Mound Chores Problems for Sawyer

(By The Associated Press)

Eddie "Austerity Program" Sawyer, the Philadelphia Phillies' scholarly manager, had a brand new problem on his mind today, along with the recurrence of an old one.

Remember Steve Ridzik, the rookie who hurled the no-hitter against the St. Louis Cardinals the last time out? It turned out that he didn't have any Indian sign yesterday on the Red Birds, who knocked him out in the sixth inning and went on to win, 8-6.

Ridzik was somewhat of a surprise to Sawyer, inasmuch as the Rookie compiled only a 5-11 record with Baltimore last year. Sawyer doesn't intend to abandon Steve, however, although he has his fingers crossed that the no-hitter wasn't a fluke.

Then, while he was mulling over the shellacking Ridzik took, Sawyer brought in his one-time relief ace, Jim Konstanty. Two years ago, when Konstantly got in a ball game, he usually was the last pitcher in the Phillies' part of the line score. He was that effective.

Well, the aging Jim managed to fan Del Rice, but was slapped for successive doubles by Gene Mauch and Cloyd Boyer, neither of whom is regarded as exactly a fence buster.

Even with his strong starting hurlers, Sawyer was hoping that Konstanty would come back to his 1950 form when he won 16 games and compiled a 2.66 earned run average. Last year he won just four with an ERA of 4.03.

Westrum Raps Homer

The Cards even won the "B" game part of a doubleheader, whipping the Phils, 3-2, in a five-inning affair called by darkness.

But the Cleveland Indians certainly have a hoodoo on the New York Giants. The Tribe slapped down the New Yorkers for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 2-1, on only three hits. Ironically, the Giants got nine off the combined offerings of Bob Chakales and Lefty Kerrigan. The only one that caused any concern was Wes Westrums' homer in the sixth.

The veteran Ken Raffensberger turned in a smooth performance for the Cincinnati Reds, although he didn't get credit for the Redlegs' 3-2 triumph over the Washington Senators. He went seven innings, but left the game with the count at 2-all. Niles Jordan, who relieved him, received credit for the victory.

All the other major league clubs played minor league teams. The champion New York Yankees pasted their farmhands, the Norfolk Tars of the Piedmont League, 10-1; the Detroit Tigers overpowered the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern Association, 9-3; the Boston Red Sox slugged Springfield of the International League, 6-1, and the Philadelphia A's blasted Danville of the Carolina League, 15-3.

Orioles Trip Brooks

The major leaguers didn't fare so well in night games, though. Memphis of the Southern Association defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-2, and the International League Baltimore Ohioles topped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-1. The Chicago White Sox managed to nip Atlanta of the Southern Association, 8-7, with the benefit of five runs in the seventh inning.

HOLDOUT ENDS

Bob Elliott, veteran Boston Braves third baseman who was acquired by the New York Giants, packs his suitcase at San Diego, Cal., home as he gets ready to leave for Tulsa, Okla., to join New York team. Elliott said he was "tickled to death" to be with the New York team. (AP Wirephoto)

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

They said it was a basketball banquet, but it looked more like an Irishman's dream.

There they sat—side by side—Kelly, Murphy, McGuire and McCarthy—at the Church League dinner Tuesday night at Fred Eisler's hotel.

The smooth-talking toastmaster introduced a bevy of sports notables and then called on a Jewish young man who promptly proclaimed the handsome Irishman at the center of the table "the best college basketball coach in the country."

The fact that Bernie Kramer and Coach Frank McGuire earned their sheepskins at the same institution—St. John's University of New York—was merely co-incidental.

Whether Frank McGuire is the best basketball coach in the country might be disputed by the basketball mob that worships the likes of "Phog" Allen, Everett Case, Ed Diddle, Ed Hickey, and even Nat Holman of neighboring CCNY.

But McGuire is certainly a big leaguer in poise, charm and coaching ability, a prize product of New York's lower west side, proud of his city, his school and the record compiled by St. John's Redmen through the years.

He made a beatiful speech reviewing the tremendous accomplishments of St. John's during the past season, when they captured the NIT title and advanced to the NCAA finals, bowling over North Carolina State, Illinois and fabulous Kentucky en route. He is handsome enough to have made the grade in Hollywood and as natural as the morning sun. Five minutes with Frank McGuire and you feel you've known him all your life.

The Redmen's young mentor answered a million questions tossed him by eager youngsters who were stuffed with Fred Eisler's viands. The older folks in the audience asked questions of a more technical nature and when it was all over, everybody agreed it was the most pleasant basketball dinner they had ever attended.

Actually, the man answered enough questions and gave out with enough observations to fill three columns. Because of space commitments, we'd like to pass only a few of the pithy comments.

"Beating the Big 10 teams was my secret ambition," he said. "I was sick and tired of hearing about the superiority of their game and all those stories about the big crowds they draw in high school basketball in Indiana. For my money, the New York city boys have a finesse and alertness not found in players in other sections. In the mid-west they have tremendous size, weight and can shoot like mad with one hand or jump shoot. They are terrific rebounders but they lack the all-round class of eastern basketball. Fast-breaking basketball is the vogue and the referees actually lead the fast break. There a player must hand the ball to the official. He whips it back to a man out of bounds and then starts the mad dash down the floor to lead the fast break."

McGuire's Observations: The spirit of basketball at St. John's is a tradition. It started many years ago with the famous "Wonder Five." They were so good they played college basketball in the afternoon and pro ball at night as the Brooklyn Jewels, right here in Kingston in the days of Carlie Husta and Tiny Hearn. I played with the Visitations. Husta was a terrific performer and I am shocked to hear of his death. He looked like he never could die when I played against him. Three great players were responsible for St. John's success this year—Jack McMahon, Ronnie McGilvary and Bob Zawoluk. Walter Dukes, the Seton Hall center, is the best basketball player in the country today and that Clyde Lovellete of Kansas is a real monster . . . a nice lad in every respect but a George Mikan type on the court. Sherman White of Long Island U. could have named his price with the Harlem Globetrotters or a professional team. He was the greatest basketball player ever produced in New York. Dick Groat of Duke is an All-American all the way. Ray Felix, the former L.I.U. star, is now seven feet tall. He was on his way toward all-time rating in New York."

McGuire recalled that he spent several summers of his youth in the Bloomington-Creek Locks area. He singled out Lou Kantrowitz without an introduction. "I caddied for you at Greenkill Park golf course, remember?" Of course, Lou remembered. He said it was like coming home again.

And, during the course of the banquet, Frank rocked the oldies in the audience with a simple inquiry:

Irvin Sees Return In Three Months

New York, April 10 (AP)—Monte Irvin, injured New York Giants' outfielder, expects to be able to play within two or three months.

The 1951 runs batted in leader of the National League, who fractured his ankle in an exhibition in Denver last week, returned here last night on a plane.

He was taken to Harkness Pavilion in Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center where Dr. Anthony Palermo, Giants' physician, planned to X-ray and examine the break today.

Asked if he expected to play again this year, Monte replied:

"Sure, in two or three months."

Then pointing to his toes and wiggling them under the white sox at the end of his cast, he said:

"Look, I can wiggle my toes now."

Monte said he expects to be in the cast about six or eight weeks but didn't know how soon he could plan on walking.

In commenting on the deal that brought Bob Elliott from the Boston Braves to the Giants as his left field replacement in exchange for pitcher Sheldon Jones and cash, Irvin said:

"The deal helps both clubs very much. But it still remains to be seen which will benefit more. Elliott is an excellent hitter and the short left field (Polo Grounds) should help him a lot. However, Sheldon is a fine pitcher and he should help the Braves very much."

French boxers, before engaging in a bout in their native land, used to kiss instead of shaking hands.

Seeks Cage Funds

Springfield, Mass., April 10 (AP)—John W. Bunn of Springfield College, permanent chairman of the basketball Hall of Fame committee, today announced a fund raising campaign would be conducted during the 1952-53 intercollegiate court season. Bunn, who recently returned from the National Association of Basketball Coaches' convention in Seattle, said its members would sponsor the campaign. The Hall of Fame will be located on the Springfield College campus, birthplace of that sport 60 years ago. Indications are that $400,000 will be needed for the memorial structure.

May Boost Golf Purse to $120,000 In Tam O'Shanter

Chicago, April 10 (AP)—Golf's sugar daddy, George S. May, has boosted the total purse for his Tam O'Shanter tournaments this summer to $120,000.

For the last dozen years, May has held the distinction of staging the world's richest golf meets. So the only records he has to break are his own.

Last year his jamboree had a modest prize list of $77,600 and he did quite well in attracting the games's greatest stars and hordes of spectators to watch them.

The winner of the men's professional "world championship" phase of the Tam extravaganza Aug. 7-10 will pocket $25,000.

This is by far the biggest payoff in golf history and is twice as much as Ben Hogan collected for taking the "world" crown last year.

Second place will be worth $12,500 and the list is scaled down to $200 for 41st position. The total "world" purse is $75,000.

The Women's Pro "world championship" will carry a $12,500 melon with the winner slicing off $5,000.

The Tam O'Shanter All-American tournaments, preceding the "world" meets on Junly 31-Aug. 3, will have a $25,000 purse for pro men. First prize in this meet is $3,400. Cary Middlecoff is defending All-American champion.

Floyd Patterson Is Voted Top Competitor

Boston, April 10 (AP) — New York's delegation gained both team and top individual honors while providing two 1952 champions during the three nights of national AAU boxing competition at the Boston Garden.

After a total of 128 bouts, in which 138 boxers from 20 sectional associations battled, Floyd Patterson, an 18-year-old New York schoolboy, was voted the tourney's outstanding competitor while winning the 165-pounds title. The New York team drew the high total of 19 points.

Patterson, who has all the poise of a seasoned professional, despite his youth, registered three knockouts in his four tournament starts. He gained his title by blasting out Joseph Rowan of Philadelphia, in 1:38 of the first round of their finale.

Ernest Anthony became the other New York titlist when he out-pointed Fleming Butler of Washington, for the 156-pounds crown.

The Washington, D. C., and Californian teams also provided two winners each. Washington's Billy Hill won the 112-pounds honor with a split decision over Jack Spurgeon of New York.

The Californian winners were heavyweight Jack Scherberies of Oakland, who decisioned Alex Brown of Philadelphia, in their final engagement, and Mac Martinez of San Jose, who out-slugged Edson Brown of New York for the 125-pounds diadem.

Van Deusen Leads Keglers With 623 In Central Major

Also in the 600 bracket were Elwood Robinson with 243-619; Ed Murphy 222-224-619 and Cliff Quick 228-604.

Other top efforts included Fred Ferraro with 208—594; George Robinson 225—594; George "Curly" Flemings 211—591; "Boots" Leskie 215-202—582; Joe Ruzzo 234—580; Mitzie Arlensky 209—579; Lew Hymes 203—579, and Phil Masters 224-206—576.

Helen Sutton's string of 174-199-189 for 562 topped this week's session of the Chalet Pioneer Women's League. It established a new league record.

L. Tenedini fired 477; C. Camino 430; E. Pratt 426; Effie Blakely 423; D. Gillen 422; D. Joyce 422; Liz Schoonmaker 416 and D. Freese 415.

Won't List Lineup

Tulso, Okla., April 10 (AP)—Because of "keen competition" in the outfield, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez still won't list his opening day lineup.

"To tell the truth, I haven't made up my mind," said Al. "I think it's only fair to the guys to wait until the very end of the exhibition tour at Indianapolis, Sunday."

Odds Favor Wings In Hockey Finals

Montreal, April 10 (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, the powerful hockey machine that wrapped up the National Hockey League title without extraordinary excitement, ruled heavy favorites over the Montreal Canadiens in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup finals opening here tonight.

The Wings ran out the NHL schedule with 100 points, a margin of 22 over the second-place Canadiens. In the 14 meetings between the clubs, the Wings took the decision nine times and lost only twice. Three games were tied.

The Wings capped this display of strength by unceremoniously mopping up the Toronto Maple Leafs, 1951 Stanley Cup champions, in four straight games of their cup semi-final.

In the other half of the semi-final, the Canadiens needed the full seven games to overcome the Boston Bruins.

Few New Faces

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 10 (AP)—Only a couple of new faces will appear in the Detroit Tigers opening day lineup.

New Payoff Mark

Arcadia, Calif., April 10 (AP)—There's a new winning payoff mark on the books of the Western Harness Racing Association today. Schwartz Axworthy, a nine-year-old trotter, who hadn't won a race in two years, came in first yesterday for a $120.90 payoff for a $2 win ticket.

Seeks Cage Funds

Springfield, Mass., April 10 (AP)—John W. Bunn of Springfield College, permanent chairman of the basketball Hall of Fame committee, today announced a fund raising campaign would be conducted during the 1952-53 intercollegiate court season. Bunn, who recently returned from the National Association of Basketball Coaches' convention in Seattle, said its members would sponsor the campaign. The Hall of Fame will be located on the Springfield College campus, birthplace of that sport 60 years ago. Indications are that $400,000 will be needed for the memorial structure.

May Boost Golf Purse to $120,000 In Tam O'Shanter

Chicago, April 10 (AP)—Golf's sugar daddy, George S. May, has boosted the total purse for his Tam O'Shanter tournaments this summer to $120,000.

For the last dozen years, May has held the distinction of staging the world's richest golf meets. So the only records he has to break are his own.

Last year his jamboree had a modest prize list of $77,600 and he did quite well in attracting the games's greatest stars and hordes of spectators to watch them.

The winner of the men's professional "world championship" phase of the Tam extravaganza Aug. 7-10 will pocket $25,000.

This is by far the biggest payoff in golf history and is twice as much as Ben Hogan collected for taking the "world" crown last year.

Second place will be worth $12,500 and the list is scaled down to $200 for 41st position. The total "world" purse is $75,000.

The Women's Pro "world championship" will carry a $12,500 melon with the winner slicing off $5,000.

The Tam O'Shanter All-American tournaments, preceding the "world" meets on Junly 31-Aug. 3, will have a $25,000 purse for pro men. First prize in this meet is $3,400. Cary Middlecoff is defending All-American champion.

Floyd Patterson Is Voted Top Competitor

Boston, April 10 (AP) — New York's delegation gained both team and top individual honors while providing two 1952 champions during the three nights of national AAU boxing competition at the Boston Garden.

After a total of 128 bouts, in which 138 boxers from 20 sectional associations battled, Floyd Patterson, an 18-year-old New York schoolboy, was voted the tourney's outstanding competitor while winning the 165-pounds title. The New York team drew the high total of 19 points.

Patterson, who has all the poise of a seasoned professional, despite his youth, registered three knockouts in his four tournament starts. He gained his title by blasting out Joseph Rowan of Philadelphia, in 1:38 of the first round of their finale.

Ernest Anthony became the other New York titlist when he out-pointed Fleming Butler of Washington, for the 156-pounds crown.

The Washington, D. C., and Californian teams also provided two winners each. Washington's Billy Hill won the 112-pounds honor with a split decision over Jack Spurgeon of New York.

The Californian winners were heavyweight Jack Scherberies of Oakland, who decisioned Alex Brown of Philadelphia, in their final engagement, and Mac Martinez of San Jose, who out-slugged Edson Brown of New York for the 125-pounds diadem.

Van Deusen Leads Keglers With 623 In Central Major

Herb Van Deusen streaked through with a one-pin margin to pace the final night of the Central Rec Major League Wednesday night at the Railroad avenue drives with a 623 triple.

Van achieved the hat trick with scores of 203-209-211 to nose out Harold Brockie's 622. Brosk fired games of 200 and 224.

Also in the 600 bracket were Elwood Robinson with 243-619; Ed Murphy 222-224-619 and Cliff Quick 228-604.

Robinson's 243 solo gained him the alley trophy awarded by John Sangi, proprietor.

The high single winner in the loop was Larry Weishaupt who previously had rocked the maples for a 290 game.

Other top efforts included Fred Ferraro with 208—594; George Robinson 225—594; George "Curly" Flemings 211—591; "Boots" Leskie 215-202—582; Joe Ruzzo 234—580; Mitzie Arlensky 209—579; Lew Hymes 203—579, and Phil Masters 224-206—576.

Helen Sutton's string of 174-199-189 for 562 topped this week's session of the Chalet Pioneer Women's League. It established a new league record.

L. Tenedini fired 477; C. Camino 430; E. Pratt 426; Effie Blakely 423; D. Gillen 422; D. Joyce 422; Liz Schoonmaker 416 and D. Freese 415.

Won't List Lineup

Tulso, Okla., April 10 (AP)—Because of "keen competition" in the outfield, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez still won't list his opening day lineup.

"To tell the truth, I haven't made up my mind," said Al. "I think it's only fair to the guys to wait until the very end of the exhibition tour at Indianapolis, Sunday."

Odds Favor Wings In Hockey Finals

Montreal, April 10 (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, the powerful hockey machine that wrapped up the National Hockey League title without extraordinary excitement, ruled heavy favorites over the Montreal Canadiens in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup finals opening here tonight.

The Wings ran out the NHL schedule with 100 points, a margin of 22 over the second-place Canadiens. In the 14 meetings between the clubs, the Wings took the decision nine times and lost only twice. Three games were tied.

The Wings capped this display of strength by unceremoniously mopping up the Toronto Maple Leafs, 1951 Stanley Cup champions, in four straight games of their cup semi-final.

In the other half of the semi-final, the Canadiens needed the full seven games to overcome the Boston Bruins.

Few New Faces

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 10 (AP)—Only a couple of new faces will appear in the Detroit Tigers opening day lineup.

New Payoff Mark

Arcadia, Calif., April 10 (AP)—There's a new winning payoff mark on the books of the Western Harness Racing Association today. Schwartz Axworthy, a nine-year-old trotter, who hadn't won a race in two years, came in first yesterday for a $120.90 payoff for a $2 win ticket.

Training Camp News in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, April 10 (AP)—The Washington Senators make their home town debut tonight against the Brooklyn Dodgers in Griffith Stadium.

The Nats ended their nine-game tour with the Cincinnati Reds with a 3-2 loss yesterday that put them on the short end of a 6-3 game record.

Wakefield in Camp

Shreveport, La., April 10 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants laid the law down to Dick Wakefield today.

"Right now I'm not interested so much in what you do at the bat or in the field," the skipper told his outfielder. "I know you haven't played for a month, so we'll allow for that. I'm more interested in your attitude. If you want to become a Giant, you must come out here to play."

"That's fair enough," responded Wakefield. "If I can't make it here I'd better hang them up."

Baltimore, April 10 (AP) — Preacher Roe, who has the starting assignment on opening day for the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been excused for the remainder of the exhibition season by Manager Chuck Dressen.

Preacher was sent back to Brooklyn yesterday to have an infected wisdom tooth removed. Roe said he must have his gums cut for the extraction.

"But it only takes me a couple of days to get over it," he said, "so I guess I'll be ready for the opener."

Richmond, Va., April 10 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals continued their northward exhibition tour with the Philadelphia Phils here today after boosting their Grapefruit League standing to .500 on two straight wins.

The Cards defeated the Phillies, 8-6, yesterday in a pitcher's nightmare at Lynchburg, Va. Seven home runs and seven pitchers featured the game. The Redbirds contributed three homers and used three hurlers.

Braves Seek Third

Boston, April 10 (AP)—Boston Braves Manager Tommy Holmes hopes to make it three wins in a row over the Boston Red Sox today as the two clubs make their 1952 Boston debut.

Holmes will start his ace lefty, Warren Spahn, while Sox Manager Lou Boudreau will start southpaw Bill Wight and follow up with Randy Gumpert.

The Red Sox must win today as well as on Saturday and Sunday to take the city series from the Braves.

The teams met twice in Florida this spring and the Braves won both, 12-2 and 2-1.

Port Ewen Group Has Annual Fashion Show

The third annual fashion show to be sponsored by the Altar Guild of the Port Ewen Methodist Church was presented Monday evening in the Town of Esopus auditorium in Port Ewen to a large and appreciative audience.

J. Wilson Tinney as master of ceremonies, extended a welcome to those in attendance. Miss Arline Harris opened the program with a piano solo, Night and Day. Miss Harris was the accompanist throughout the evening's presentation. Matthew Doyle sang a solo, April in Paris. Mrs. Helen Davenport was the commentator.

Mrs. Davenport, owner of a local dress shop, wore a strapless gown of natural lace with matching lace stole. First presented were styles from Leon's Young Togs, modeled by Henriette and Dorothy Ann Darling, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Darling; Jack Schussler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schussler, and Eugene Nilan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nilan, all of Port Ewen.

Adult Models

The adult models presented various types of sportswear, suits, coats and afternoon ensembles, through the courtesy of the Al Heisman Shop, The Bride's Shoppe, Flemings Dress Shop, Helen Davenport Dress Shop, Junior Deb Shoppe, Leon's Young Togs, Schneider's, Sterly's, Teresa Rose Hat Shop, and The Wonderly Co., Inc.

The stage setting featured pastel colored background and screens trimmed with spring flowers and pussy willows. The flowers were used through the courtesy of the Chas. E. Brown & Son, Valentin Burgevin, Inc., Dauner's, Drews and Krom and Rosendale Florists.

During the intermission, an acrobatic dance was presented by Lorraine Gromoll and a tap dancing specialty by Dianne Maurer. Jean Benton and Matthew Doyle sang a duet, Wanting You.

Cocktail gowns were shown during the second part of the program and the fashion show concluded with a parade of all models participating during the evening, while Matthew Doyle sang The Easter Parade.

Mrs. Davenport was presented with a bouquet of spring flowers by Jack Schussler in appreciation for her assistance.

A wedding scene was presented by The Bride's Shoppe. Catherine Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Atkins of Port Ewen, was the flower girl. Jean Benton sang Because and to conclude the evening's entertainment, Through the Years.

BPOE Auxiliary Holds Installation Of New Officers

Installed were Mrs. Frank Brooks, president; Mrs. Edward McSpirit and Mrs. Florence Nicols, vice-presidents; Mrs. Dewey Logan, secretary; Mrs. Louis Sapp, treasurer; Mrs. William Powers, financial secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Mullen, chaplain; and Mrs. Augustus Lovy, inner guard.

Committees were appointed by the president. They include Mrs. Robert Ennis, membership; Mrs. Henry DeWitt, flowers; Mrs. Sam Feldman, representative to the TB hospital; Mrs. Alexander Lovy, refreshments; and Mrs. William H. Lieske, publicity.

Annual Banquet

It was announced that the annual banquet sponsored by the auxiliary will take place at The Barn, Monday, April 28, at 6:30 p. m. All members are requested to make reservations no later than Wednesday, April 23.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by the members.

Old Dutch Church Has Special Music for Good Friday Service

A special musical service of two works, written and directed by Donald R. Romme, minister of music, will be presented at the Old Dutch Church, corner of Main and Wall streets, by the senior choir of the church at 8 p. m. Good Friday.

The service will include the Credo, a setting of the Apostle's Creed, and the cantata "The Cross of Christ" for full chorus, six soloists, and organ and piano accompaniment. The first of these works was written in the summer of 1948, while Mr. Romme was studying for his master's degree at Columbia University with Otto Luening. In the spring of the following year it was published by G. Schirmer's in New York. It has been performed by numerous groups in New York City, Chicago and Los Angeles. It is a work which places considerable demands on the chorus, requiring a full eight-part division of voices.

The second work, the cantata, was performed for the first time by this same group at the Good Friday service last year. Since then, the senior choir has also given a performance of it in Ellenville on March 30 of this year. At Friday's performance, the soloists will be Elizabeth I. Larsen, Donna Hyatt, Chase Page, John Hill, Arnold Adams, and William Murray. The work narrates the events preceding and culminating in the death of Christ on the cross of Calvary, with a scriptural text, and interpolated meditative passages.

The accompanists for Friday's service will be Ann Rylance, organ, and Howard Houghtaling, piano. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Club Notices

Rifton Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rifton Fire Company will hold its regular meeting Monday, April 14. It will be followed by a social hour and each member is asked to bring a gift. Refreshments will be served.

Hudson Valley Hobby Show will Open in Auditorium, May 20

The third annual Hudson Valley Hobby Show will open in the municipal auditorium on Tuesday, May 20, and continue through Thursday, May 22. Mrs. Vincent R. Guido has been named general chairman.

The show which stemmed from a small idea has become one of the outstanding educational events of the year and promises to be as spectacular and interesting as in the past.

Plans are in progress to invite as many hobbyists as possible and because of the wide range of hobbies locally, those in charge have requested that exhibitors sign up early to avoid disappointment by lack of space.

At a recent meeting, Mrs. Guido appointed several committees. Chairman of these committees include, Mrs. Clarence S. Rowland, Jr., hobbies; Mrs. George C. Rifenbary, publicity; Mrs. Francis X. Tucker, tickets; Major Helena Clearwater, properties; Mrs. Fred R. Port, flyers, and Mrs. Francis X. Tucker as recording secretary.

The Women's Club of the YWCA will handle the snack bar and the Fortnightly Club will be in charge of the home food booth. Others appointed are Mrs. Morton Englander who will take charge of commercials; Mrs. John H. Ford, decorations, and Miss Esther Deyo will represent the Young Business Girls Club.

Inquiries regarding the show will be answered by Mrs. Clarence S. Rowland, Jr., Mrs. Albert G. Gruner, and Mrs. William Reardon. Information will also be given at the YWCA, telephone 1911.

Miss Joan Massa Weds Cpl. Anthony Colao

Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Massa of 59 West Chester street wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Joan, to Corporal Anthony Colao, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Colao of 157 Tammany street, Wednesday, April 2, in Chapel 3 at the Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill., where the bridegroom is stationed. The Rev. Father Cain performed the ceremony.

Cpl. and Mrs. Colao will reside at 133½ Garrand avenue, Rantoul, Ill.

Wakefield in Camp

Shreveport, La., April 10 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants laid the law down to Dick Wakefield today.

"Right now I'm not interested so much in what you do at the bat or in the field," the skipper told his outfielder. "I know you haven't played for a month, so we'll allow for that. I'm more interested in your attitude. If you want to become a Giant, you must come out here to play."

"That's fair enough," responded Wakefield. "If I can't make it here I'd better hang them up."

Baltimore, April 10 (AP)—Preacher Roe, who has the starting assignment on opening day for the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been excused for the remainder of the exhibition season by Manager Chuck Dressen.

Preacher was sent back to Brooklyn yesterday to have an infected wisdom tooth removed. Roe said he must have his gums cut for the extraction.

"But it only takes me a couple of days to get over it," he said, "so I guess I'll be ready for the opener."

Richmond, Va., April 10 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals continued their northward exhibition tour with the Philadelphia Phils here today after boosting their Grapefruit League standing to .500 on two straight wins.

The Cards defeated the Phillies, 8-6, yesterday in a pitcher's nightmare at Lynchburg, Va. Seven home runs and seven pitchers featured the game. The Redbirds contributed three homers and used three hurlers.

Braves Seek Third

Boston, April 10 (AP)—Boston Braves Manager Tommy Holmes hopes to make it three wins in a row over the Boston Red Sox today as the two clubs make their 1952 Boston debut.

Holmes will start his ace lefty, Warren Spahn, while Sox Manager Lou Boudreau will start southpaw Bill Wight and follow up with Randy Gumpert.

The Red Sox must win today as well as on Saturday and Sunday to take the city series from the Braves.

The teams met twice in Florida this spring and the Braves won both, 12-2 and 2-1.

For a long time, each 10 years has seen about two million more dairy cattle in the United States.

If white sauce is to be kept hot cover it so as to discourage a film from forming over the top.

MERCY HOLSTER — "Carry your weapons at all times," is the order to soldiers in Korean battle areas, and Lt. Robert Schiels, of New York, attached to the medical service corps of the 45th Infantry's "Thunderbird" division obeys. He has fashioned a holster for his hypodermic syringe, and carries extra "needle" ammunition.

ARIA ARTIST—Charlie the Chimpanzee gives out with a long, high note, (or maybe he's yawning), at the zoo in Silver Springs, Fla. Whether singing or sighing, Charlie certainly is protesting at the number of funny-looking humans he must view from his cage each day.

Port Ewen Group Has Annual Fashion Show

The third annual fashion show to be sponsored by the Altar Guild of the Port Ewen Methodist Church was presented Monday evening in the Town of Esopus auditorium in Port Ewen to a large and appreciative audience.

J. Wilson Tinney as master of ceremonies, extended a welcome to those in attendance. Miss Arline Harris opened the program with a piano solo, Night and Day. Miss Harris was the accompanist throughout the evening's presentation. Matthew Doyle sang a solo, April in Paris. Mrs. Helen Davenport was the commentator.

Mrs. Davenport, owner of a local dress shop, wore a strapless gown of natural lace with matching lace stole. First presented were styles from Leon's Young Togs, modeled by Henriette and Dorothy Ann Darling, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Darling; Jack Schussler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schussler, and Eugene Nilan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nilan, all of Port Ewen.

Adult Models

The adult models presented various types of sportswear, suits, coats and afternoon ensembles, through the courtesy of the Al Heisman Shop, The Bride's Shoppe, Flemings Dress Shop, Helen Davenport Dress Shop, Junior Deb Shoppe, Leon's Young Togs, Schneider's, Sterly's, Teresa Rose Hat Shop, and The Wonderly Co., Inc.

The stage setting featured pastel colored background and screens trimmed with spring flowers and pussy willows. The flowers were used through the courtesy of the Chas. E. Brown & Son, Valentin Burgevin, Inc., Dauner's, Drews and Krom and Rosendale Florists.

During the intermission, an acrobatic dance was presented by Lorraine Gromoll and a tap dancing specialty by Dianne Maurer. Jean Benton and Matthew Doyle sang a duet, Wanting You.

Cocktail gowns were shown during the second part of the program and the fashion show concluded with a parade of all models participating during the evening, while Matthew Doyle sang The Easter Parade.

Mrs. Davenport was presented with a bouquet of spring flowers by Jack Schussler in appreciation for her assistance.

A wedding scene was presented by The Bride's Shoppe. Catherine Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Atkins of Port Ewen, was the flower girl. Jean Benton sang Because and to conclude the evening's entertainment, Through the Years.

BPOE Auxiliary Holds Installation Of New Officers

Installed were Mrs. Frank Brooks, president; Mrs. Edward McSpirit and Mrs. Florence Nicols, vice-presidents; Mrs. Dewey Logan, secretary; Mrs. Louis Sapp, treasurer; Mrs. William Powers, financial secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Mullen, chaplain; and Mrs. Augustus Lovy, inner guard.

Committees were appointed by the president. They include Mrs. Robert Ennis, membership; Mrs. Henry DeWitt, flowers; Mrs. Sam Feldman, representative to the TB hospital; Mrs. Alexander Lovy, refreshments; and Mrs. William H. Lieske, publicity.

Annual Banquet

It was announced that the annual banquet sponsored by the auxiliary will take place at The Barn, Monday, April 28, at 6:30 p. m. All members are requested to make reservations no later than Wednesday, April 23.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by the members.

Old Dutch Church Has Special Music for Good Friday Service

A special musical service of two works, written and directed by Donald R. Romme, minister of music, will be presented at the Old Dutch Church, corner of Main and Wall streets, by the senior choir of the church at 8 p. m. Good Friday.

The service will include the Credo, a setting of the Apostle's Creed, and the cantata, The Cross of Christ" for full chorus, six soloists, and organ and piano accompaniment. The first of these works was written in the summer of 1948, while Mr. Romme was studying for his master's degree at Columbia University with Otto Luening. In the spring of the following year it was published by G. Schirmer's in New York. It has been performed by numerous groups in New York City, Chicago and Los Angeles. It is a work which places considerable demands on the chorus, requiring a full eight-part division of voices.

The second work, the cantata, was performed for the first time by this same group at the Good Friday service last year. Since then, the senior choir has also given a performance of it in Ellenville on March 30 of this year. At Friday's performance, the soloists will be Elizabeth I. Larsen, Donna Hyatt, Chase Page, John Hill, Arnold Adams, and William Murray. The work narrates the events preceding and culminating in the death of Christ on the cross of Calvary, with a scriptural text, and interpolated meditative passages.

The accompanists for Friday's service will be Ann Rylance, organ, and Howard Houghtaling, piano. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Hudson Valley Hobby Show will Open in Auditorium, May 20

The third annual Hudson Valley Hobby Show will open in the municipal auditorium on Tuesday, May 20, and continue through Thursday, May 22. Mrs. Vincent R. Guido has been named general chairman.

The show which stemmed from a small idea has become one of the outstanding educational events of the year and promises to be as spectacular and interesting as in the past.

Plans are in progress to invite as many hobbyists as possible and because of the wide range of hobbies locally, those in charge have requested that exhibitors sign up early to avoid disappointment by lack of space.

At a recent meeting, Mrs. Guido appointed several committees. Chairman of these committees include, Mrs. Clarence S. Rowland, Jr., hobbies; Mrs. George C. Rifenbary, publicity; Mrs. Francis X. Tucker, tickets; Major Helena Clearwater, properties; Mrs. Fred R. Port, flyers, and Mrs. Francis X. Tucker as recording secretary.

The Women's Club of the YWCA will handle the snack bar and the Fortnightly Club will be in charge of the home food booth. Others appointed are Mrs. Morton Englander who will take charge of commercials; Mrs. John H. Ford, decorations, and Miss Esther Deyo will represent the Young Business Girls Club.

Inquiries regarding the show will be answered by Mrs. Clarence S. Rowland, Jr., Mrs. Albert G. Gruner, and Mrs. William Reardon. Information will also be given at the YWCA, telephone 1911.

Miss Joan Massa Weds Cpl. Anthony Colao

Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Massa of 59 West Chester street wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Joan, to Corporal Anthony Colao, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Colao of 157 Tammany street, Wednesday, April 2, in Chapel 3 at the Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill., where the bridegroom is stationed. The Rev. Father Cain performed the ceremony.

Cpl. and Mrs. Colao will reside at 133½ Garrand avenue, Rantoul, Ill.

Enduring

Through the ages there has stood in the desert this Sphinx. Empire after empire has flooded around it — it has withstood the ravages of time.

Whether or not you are acquainted with this fact, Smith Parish can install for you on your home a brand of SIDING that will be almost as enduring as the Sphinx!

It may be the solution to the ravages of time on your home. It may be the answer to loss of heat which sends your heating bill sky-high. It could be the addition of new beauty to your house.

We suggest a phone call to 5656 — possibly we can then explain our SIDING offer to your advantage. As always, you are definitely not obligated to us to chat about the matter.

Officers Are Installed by VFW

Morgan D. Ryan, center, the only veteran able to claim credit for heading two organizations for ex-servicemen, has been installed as commander of Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is a past commander of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion. The panel of officers serving with him for the ensuing year are (standing l. to r.) Ralph G. Scism, adjutant; Leslie Munson, quartermaster; Attorney Hubert A. Richter, senior vice commander; Albert Roosa, junior vice commander; the Rev. James A. Dunnigan, pastor of St. Ann's Church, Sawkill, chaplain and Raymond K. Myers, past commander. (Lane photo)

the river, also was water-borne.

Power Is Cut

Kerosene lamps burned in the town last night, because sandbags around the power plant gave way and the generators were knocked out.

Pierre officials sent out a call for more volunteers to help in sandbagging Pierre's municipal power plant. Crews labored throughout the night to protect it.

Drinking water was another problem. Three of the four Pierre pumping stations already were out. City engineers said the fourth pump would have to be turned off if the 25-foot mark is reached by the flood water. It was hoped that the reservoir supply of 1,300,000 gallons would hold until the flood subsides and pumps can start operating again.

Would Check Britain

Washington, April 10 (AP)—A House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee today called for a review of British influence on American foreign policy to determine if it "has caused the loss of valuable allies in Europe and the Far East." Members of the group told newsmen they knew of no specific cases but mentioned the Iran crisis in the Middle East and "anti-Americanism" in Malaya.

Pastor Describes Juliana as 'Very Disarming' Person

Queen Juliana was "very lovely, very informal—really quite disarming," the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the Old Dutch Church, said today.

"We usually think of greatness as overawing, but she was humble, very sensible to the reverent attitude."

He said that as they walked down the main aisle the queen asked him about the history and salient points of the church and "remarked on its beauty." He said that she was curious about its architectural style, and asked about its age.

"She wanted to know the difference between the age of the present structure, which is the fifth building, and that of the original church."

He said he noticed during his remarks that Juliana looked around during his welcoming remarks, at the walls and ceiling, and seemed to be deeply interested in the architecture and furnishings. After his remarks she stepped down, turned slightly toward the 12 members of the Church Consistory, standing at one side, nodded and spoke a word to them. He said that what the Queen said was "not too distinct."

Asked for any special highlights of the Queen's visit to the church, Oudemool mentioned the fact that Juliana had stopped before entering the church to shake hands with Jan Oudemool, 9, and Penelope Johnson, 9, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson.

He paused a moment, and added, "Oh, and the pen wouldn't write. The Queen had to scratch to get it to write." He referred to the pen with which Juliana signed the Book of Remembrance. Both the pen and the book are now in a special glass case for preservation.

Enduring

Through the ages there has stood in the desert this Sphinx. Empire after empire has flooded around it — it has withstood the ravages of time.

Whether or not you are acquainted with this fact, Smith Parish can install for you on your home a brand of SIDING that will be almost as enduring as the Sphinx!

It may be the solution to the ravages of time on your home. It may be the answer to loss of heat which sends your heating bill sky-high. It could be the addition of new beauty to your house.

We suggest a phone call to 5656 — possibly we can then explain our SIDING offer to your advantage. As always, you are definitely not obligated to us to chat about the matter.

Officers Are Installed by VFW

Morgan D. Ryan, center, the only veteran able to claim credit for heading two organizations for ex-servicemen, has been installed as commander of Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is a past commander of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion. The panel of officers serving with him for the ensuing year are (standing l. to r.) Ralph G. Scism, adjutant; Leslie Munson, quartermaster; Attorney Hubert A. Richter, senior vice commander; Albert Roosa, junior vice commander; the Rev. James A. Dunnigan, pastor of St. Ann's Church, Sawkill, chaplain and Raymond K. Myers, past commander. (Lane photo)

the river, also was water-borne.

Those townspeople who hadn't fled to higher ground came in hip boots or rowboats to pick up their mail.

Power Is Cut

Kerosene lamps burned in the town last night, because sandbags around the power plant gave way and the generators were knocked out.

Pierre officials sent out a call for more volunteers to help in sandbagging Pierre's municipal power plant. Crews labored throughout the night to protect it.

Drinking water was another problem. Three of the four Pierre pumping stations already were out. City engineers said the fourth pump would have to be turned off if the 25-foot mark is reached by the flood water. It was hoped that the reservoir supply of 1,300,000 gallons would hold until the flood subsides and pumps can start operating again.

Would Check Britain

Washington, April 10 (AP)—A House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee today called for a review of British influence on American foreign policy to determine if it "has caused the loss of valuable allies in Europe and the Far East." Members of the group told newsmen they knew of no specific cases but mentioned the Iran crisis in the Middle East and "anti-Americanism" in Malaya.

Pastor Describes Juliana as 'Very Disarming' Person

Queen Juliana was "very lovely, very informal—really quite disarming," the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the Old Dutch Church, said today.

"We usually think of greatness as overawing, but she was humble, very sensible to the reverent attitude."

He said that as they walked down the main aisle the queen asked him about the history and salient points of the church and "remarked on its beauty." He said that she was curious about its architectural style, and asked about its age.

"She wanted to know the difference between the age of the present structure, which is the fifth building, and that of the original church."

He said he noticed during his remarks that Juliana looked around during his welcoming remarks, at the walls and ceiling, and seemed to be deeply interested in the architecture and furnishings. After his remarks she stepped down, turned slightly toward the 12 members of the Church Consistory, standing at one side, nodded and spoke a word to them. He said that what the Queen said was "not too distinct."

Asked for any special highlights of the Queen's visit to the church, Oudemool mentioned the fact that Juliana had stopped before entering the church to shake hands with Jan Oudemool, 9, and Penelope Johnson, 9, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson.

He paused a moment, and added, "Oh, and the pen wouldn't write. The Queen had to scratch to get it to write." He referred to the pen with which Juliana signed the Book of Remembrance. Both the pen and the book are now in a special glass case for preservation.

Fill 'Er Up

Art Krutina has the jump on the flooding Minnesota river near Minneapolis so far. He hoists his gasoline pump, normally on dry ground, into a tree and extended the pipe from the underground tank. Krutina, who operates a marine service, is ready for customers but none are in sight—too much water, even for boats. (AP Wirephoto).
